

COUNCIL TAKES UP CITY JAIL ISSUE; BUILDING WANTED

agement, he explained, would make it possible to provide suitable jail accommodations and at the same time make for adequate police supervision of the jail. He estimated that the total cost of such exchange would not exceed $4500, 45 per cent of which might be obtained from the federal government.

The report of the fire investigator was scathing in its criticism of the local jail. He wrote:

"It is my understanding that it is common practice to place prisoners in the jail but not necessarily lock them in the cells. This makes it possible for them to keep their own fire and have full privileges and conveniences of the jail.

"A short time ago a prisoner so detained set a fire against the wall in an attempt to burn his way out. The fire got out of his control and extended up over the ceiling, communicating to the attic and through a small place in the roof. No doubt a prompt rescue by the fire department, having been summoned from the hospital, saved his life.

"It is very possible that fire may gain such headway that extreme difficulty would be experienced in attempting to release prisoners from the cells and result in a possible loss of life."

The present jail is of frame construction, and but one door is used for communication from the jail proper and the police office, located on the floor above. The jail and the police are connected by a flight of stairs.

this year should be in excess of $3,500,000. The fall and winter months, he said, bring a larger volume of sales.

SALEM, July 17.—(AP)—Opposition to the proposed milk inspection ordinance for the city of Portland, in which costs for the work would be assessed against the dairyman, was voiced today by Solon T. White, director of agriculture. The ordinance proposes the state department of agriculture make the inspections for which fees would range from $5 to $100 a year for Grade B milk producers, depending upon the distance from Portland the milk is brought.

SALEM, July 17.—(AP)—Departmentalization of the work of the members of the state board of control in order to better study certain state activities, and the immediate survey of institutional farms in and near Salem as a group, will be resolutions proposed to the board at its next session by Rufus C. Holman, state treasurer, he announced today.

GENERAL

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(AP)—Assurance that the AAA would continue to function at least until a final ruling by the supreme court on the validity of processing taxes was given today by President Roosevelt. That was his comment on the decision of the circuit court of appeals at Boston yesterday holding the taxes unconstitutional.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 17.—(AP)—The question is: Are Abe Platt, senior and junior, receivers of stolen goods. Father and son operate a junk yard. Every day they bought considerable junk from two men. The two men are in jail accused of stealing the junk. The junk was stolen nightly from the junk yard of Abe Platt, senior and junior.

DENVER, Colo., July 17.—(AP)—The highest price for hogs on the Denver livestock market in the past five years was paid today when eager bidders offered $10.25 a hundredweight. The price was 25 cents above the market's top Tuesday.

CHANGES NAME

The Oregon Pharmacy, located at Thirteenth and Kincaid in the Taylor building, has had the name changed to Clayton & Van Atta, Drugs, by the owners, S. W. Clayton and Walter O. Van Atta. This store was started five years ago and both owners were employed here before forming their present partnership.

Local Lumber Firm Recalls 1934 Fire

The Walters-Bushong Lumber company Wednesday observed the first anniversary of the burning of its old plant at 4th and Pearl streets with the announcement that, after four months of operation in the new plant, constructed on the same site, production was approaching capacity figures.

The company, engaged in the re-manufacture of numerous lumber products, employs approximately 35 men in its operations. Finished articles are shipped to all parts of the country, and a large local wholesale business is carried on.

The equipment, including finishing machines, sizers and other implements for re-manufacture, is of the newest type, and was replaced, following the loss of the old machinery, at the cost of $35,000.

Chesterfield... the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

Chesterfields.. that's about all we smoke down in this neck of the woods

Chesterfields are mild—mild but not flat. That's one reason why. And they have plenty of taste—without being harsh. That's another reason why. Everybody knows They Satisfy — just about all any cigarette can do.
