

COUNTY ALARMED OVER THREAT OF RELIEF SHUTOFF

relief administrator, spoke in connection with this topic, pointing out the budget law by which the county courts are abiding. There was some expectation of some kind of participation in new government set-ups. However, no one knew exactly what they would be. Therefore, in most cases it would be necessary for an election to get money to secure materials, it was pointed out.

The two visiting WPA officials explained the three types of projects: Those $25,000 or less to go under WPA; those above $25,000 to the PWA; and those on drainage and flood control programs to the U. S. engineers.

Deep Concern Is Felt

The reports from Washington that federal direct relief would be cut off within a short time brought concern among local relief directors. Friday, Unemployables are bound to be increased under the new works set-up, thus meaning a greatly increased load on the county and state to care for. Many of those certified from the SERA to the WPA as employables will be weeded out and put back on the county for care, it is said. Under SERA special effort has been made to give all some kind of work, if not the regular jobs, some other type of work that would not be too much for their health and ability.

There is an apparent injustice under the new WPA set-up, too, and that is that the single man and the married man get exactly the same wages, although the married man may have a large family. As soon as any obtain a job, they are off relief immediately. Common labor runs from $40 to $48 under the new set-up; skilled around $70; professional $75. It is going to be a question how married men with families can live on the scale allotted for common labor, local relief officials said. Under WPA there can be no supplementary labor as has been allowed under SERA. Under WPA the men work steadily six hours a day, five days a week. Under SERA the budget was slightly higher and the men had a chance to do supplementary work for the days of the month they were not on a job.

Any increase on the county's relief load will mean a call on the state emergency relief fund even earlier than anticipated.

In Lane county as elsewhere in Oregon, relief officials are pretty well agreed unemployables are going to outnumber the employables.

TIMBER STRIKERS TO MEET AT GROVE

Important developments in Cottage Grove's timber and lumber mill strike are expected Friday night when members of the striking Mill and Timber Workers' union hold their regular meeting at Saunders hall. Fred Hotis, chairman of the trustees of the union local who Thursday issued a lengthy statement explaining the stand of the union regarding the terms of the "walk-out," said that Friday night's meeting might have important results toward a settlement of the labor dispute.

J. H. Chambers, owner of the Chambers and Sons Lumber Co., and William Garoutte, manager of the Bohemia Lumber Co., met Friday morning and decided to ignore Hotis' statement, which declared that the union's demands were "30 per cent under the Portland and Pacific Coast schedules." The two operators had met to determine the advisability of making a reply to the labor union's prepared statement. The owner of the third mill affected by the strike, W. A. Woodward, was in Michigan. Chambers declared that Hotis' statement was "ridiculous."

Planners in both the Chambers and Bohemia plants are operating, although all saw mill activity was halted because of the lack of logs. The Woodward mill is closed down.

Federal Mediator Marsh, who was expected to arrive from Portland at any time, had not made his appearance at 1:30 p. m. Friday. Principals in the labor dispute intimated that neither side would take any definite action until the arrival of the labor mediator.

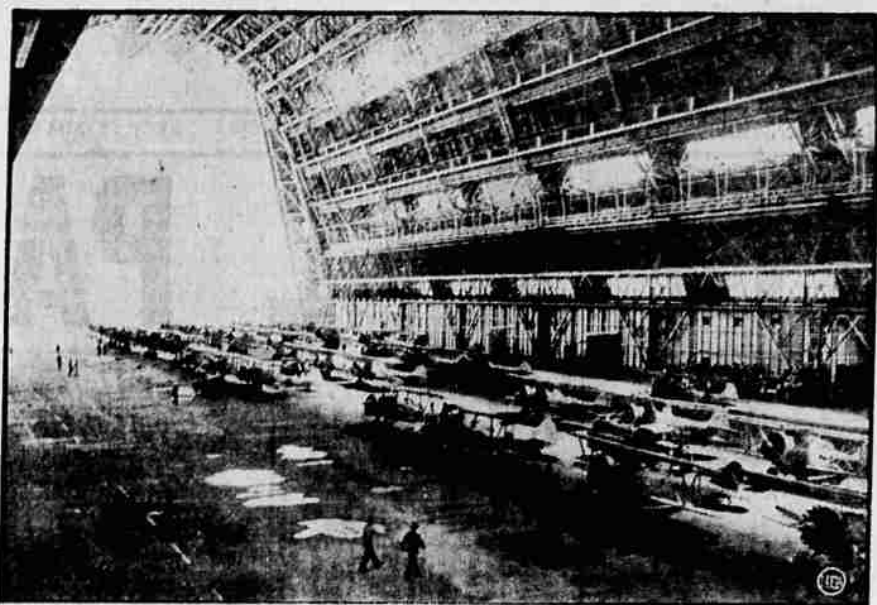

Flax Fibre Pullers Work Near Cheshire

Harvesters were busy Friday pulling flax on the Johnson plot near Cheshire, anticipating the first steps in the creation of a flax industry in Lane county. The flax, when pulled, will be sent to Vancouver for marketing.

E. W. Martin, organizer of the Fibre Flax Growers' association, was at the Johnson farm Friday inspecting the yield, which is part of 100 acres of Lane county flax which will be marketed this year.

Frank Chambers, member of the recently appointed state flax production committee, said that federal funds for the promotion of the industry in this district would be requested. He stressed, however, that growers must co-operate if they hoped to obtain retting and scutching plants in Lane county. Government officials who recently investigated the proposal of creating an Oregon flax industry recommended that but three plants be established. Those, they suggested, should be at Canby, Stayton and Mt. Angel. The local flax organization is the only one in the state which is sufficiently organized to apply for federal aid, according to Chambers. This, it was intimated, might make some difference in the allocation of the federal money which has been appropriated to subsidize the new industry.

SUNNYVALE USED FOR U. S. AIR SQUADRON!

Desolate and silent since the wreck of the Macon last February, Moffett Field hangar, at Sunnyvale, Calif., awakened with the visit of four squadrons of the San Diego Fleet Air Detachment. Seventy-two fighting ships—bombers, scouts, combat ships and torpedo craft—cover not more than a quarter of the floor space recently occupied by the huge Macon.

SCOUT JAMBOREE OFF; "I. P." CAUSE of the first patrol of the Jamboree troop said that the president's decree was a "big disappointment."

"Many of us were all set for the trip which was such a fine one, that anything less would be a big let-down. It would seem best to take the trip as planned, or do nothing at all," Myers explained.

The Jamboree tour had been planned as an extensive one. The boys were scheduled to leave Eugene, Aug. 16, traveling to Washington via California, and the mid-west. The trip also would include stopovers at Sacramento, Salt Lake, Denver, Kansas City and Chicago. On the return, the southern route would be followed, passing through Atlanta, New Orleans, Houston, San Antonio, Los Angeles and San Diego. A short visit at the Pacific International Exposition was planned for the last named city.

The Jamboree scouts had already expended funds amounting to approximately $50 each, Jones explained. The Jamboree registration fee was $25, a portion of which may be returned, but the greater part of which has already been spent in preparation for the approaching event. Other money went for equipment needed for the trip and Jamboree events. Much of this material is useless for any other activities.

Jamboree troops in other towns and scout councils were undecided as to plans. The Portland delegation of 93 scouts and leaders planned to leave for the east as scheduled, having as its destination, New York City, where the scouts planned to spend a week seeing the sights of the metropolis.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Acute disappointment changed to wild shouts of joy here today as 93 Boy Scouts from Oregon and Southwestern Washington were told their plans for a long vacation in the East were not to be abandoned.

Scout leaders agreed today the boys were not to be disappointed. Announcement was made that the youths will leave tonight for Seattle to join another group with which they will travel east. A stop will be made at Lake Louise; two days will be spent in Chicago; one day at Niagara Falls, and about a week will be enjoyed in New York.

child, presumably that of a six-year-old girl, resulted in action by the sheriff's office to determine the circumstances of the death. The body was found by reclamation workers. It had been buried in a shallow pit under a pile of rocks. Remnants of a charred burlap bag, of burned rope, and of dress material were found.

SALEM, Aug. 9.—(AP)—More than 1200 votes have been received at the supreme court offices in the election of nine governors of the Oregon state bar, it was announced today. Three governors will be selected from each of the three congressional districts. Balloting will close August 15.

SALEM, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The Marion county planning board voted 4 to 2 against recommending remodeling of the old county court house here.

SALEM, Aug. 9.—(AP)—A $27,500 monthly payroll will be restored to Salem within the next few weeks, if plans to reopen the Charles K. Spaulding lumber mill go through as expected. The main mill here which employs 225 men and the camp at Black Rock, which employs 160 have been closed entirely since 1933.

ASTORIA, Ore., Aug. 9.—(AP)—A breakdown in negotiations for settlement of the Columbia river fishermen's strike was apparent today.

Fishermen originally demanded 8 cents a pound from Aug. 1 to Aug. 17, and 6 cents from Aug. 17 until the season closes on Aug. 25. Later they said they would accept 6 cents straight through to Aug. 25. Packers offered 6 cents to Aug. 17, and 3 1/2 cents thereafter.

PORTLAND, Aug. 9.—(AP)—City Commissioner Bennett's proposal that the council file a formal protest with the federal government against sale of Bonneville power to "large corporations" was defeated by the council.

PORTLAND, Aug. 9.—(AP)—A man who said he was Ambrose Revira Hafana, Filipino of Ambrose, was treated at a hospital here today for five knife wounds to his head, arms and chest, result of a street battle.

PORTLAND, Aug. 9.—(AP)—John Takie, employee of Kelly's restaurant here, told police today he found two sticks of dynamite, equipped with cap and fuse, at the door of the place early this morning.

SALEM, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Varner Kuhn, Salem's regular mayor, is a public official with a conscience. The city council recently voted the mayor $700 for expenses incurred during negotiations to acquire the municipal water plant. Yesterday Kuhn handed his personal check for a like amount to the city treasurer, explaining he was "afraid I might be violating some provisions of the city charter by accepting the money."

THE DALLES, Ore., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Voters in city schools here defeated a proposed $5,000 bond issue for a new building to house a Smith-Hughes course of agriculture, a vote count showed today. The vote was 151 against the issue to 70 for it.

BEND, Ore., Aug. 9.—(AP)—Mrs. T. E. Louder of Chemault was killed last night when an automobile in which she was riding overturned after a rear tire had burst. The car was driven by her sister, Mrs. George Simonson of Chemault. Mrs. Simonson was not seriously injured.

GENERAL

PARIS, Aug. 9.—(AP)—With troops ready, but out of sight, the French government today ordered police forces to clean up agitation centers. A somewhat easier attitude prevailed among the laborers in the government arsenals at Toulon and Brest went back to work and the French line employees at Le Havre voted to end their strike.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Cook county (Chicago) Republicans today displayed 108,244 cards, signed by voters who pledged themselves to "work and vote" to oust President Roosevelt and Governor Horner of Illinois from office next year.

JUNEAU, Alaska, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Wiley Post and Will Rogers took off from Juneau for Skagway, 95 miles away, at 12:20 p. m. today. Juneau time, in Post's sleek, new Lockheed monoplane. Weather conditions were unfavorable, with atmosphere cloudy. They expected to reach Skagway in about an hour.

TROOPS LINE UP

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE
(Copyright, 1935, by United Press)
ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Italy, it was estimated today, already has concentrated 100,000 troops in Eritrea and 50,000 in Somaliland. The Ethiopian army, however, is far from being mobilized. Troops are collected in considerable numbers, according to reliable sources, at only four points.

It was stated that at present only skeleton forces are being maintained within 100 miles of the border because of Ethiopia's determination to avoid guilt in frontier incidents.

Ras Kassa of Gondar was reported to have collected 80,000 troops in the important Gondar region around Lake Tana in the north. In event of war, they would be aimed at guarding the easiest approach to the Ethiopian plateau along the gradient leading to Lake Tana.

Another concentration was in the Tigre region, eastward of Gondar. It is controlled by Ras Siyoum, reputed to be the most warlike of all the Rases (native chieftains). Tigre would be the base for defense of the Adowa plateau in the north.

Finally it was reported smaller numbers of troops are concentrated at Harar, due east of the capital and gateway to the important Ogaden district bordering Somaliland—where heavy fighting may be expected—and at Ball, guarding the Webbi Shiheli district south of the capital.

J. H. Perkins Dies In Arizona; Is Son Of Oregon Pioneer

News of the death of John H. Perkins, who was born in Lane county and spent his life here until a few years ago, has been received from Phoenix, Arizona, where he passed away July 27.

Mr. Perkins suffered a sun stroke Monday, July 22 and it was followed by pneumonia which caused his death. He is the son of Eli Perkins, one of the oldest pioneers in Lane county and was born here 54 years ago. He attended school here and engaged in ranching and the lumber business in this county. He was vice-president of the Arizona Sand and Rock company in Phoenix.

Surviving are a son, Otis E. Perkins of Portland, and his wife, Mrs. Perkins and a daughter, Mary Elizabeth, who is two years old and John Jr., who is one year old. Interment was in a Phoenix cemetery.

Fine Cocker Spaniel Killed By Poisoning

A valuable cocker spaniel dog owned by J. J. Godlove, 1678 Orchard street, died Thursday night of poisoning and Mr. Godlove said Friday that he believes that the poison was maliciously placed so the animal could get it. He said that someone had complained to the police about the dog barking at night.

In the United States, there are now in service at least 169 civilian airplanes, which were built in 1926 or previously.

BETTER BUSINESS IS ATTRIBUTED TO FARM INCOME RISE

By WALTER WARREN
(Associated Press Business Writer)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Reports of increased business activity in trade centers serving western agricultural areas appeared to be the first result of greater farm incomes.

An indication of the rise in these incomes came today from the University of California, where Dr. H. J. Storer computed the recent level of principal California farm products averaged higher than at any time in five years for this season.

Dr. Storer's average of 24 principal products was about 87 per cent of the pre-war level. This compared with 83 a year ago and 70 two years ago. The July figures of these years were compared with the 1910-1914 average, which was taken as 100.

Prices were still far short of the level attained approximately a decade ago. The data showed the average was 64 per cent of the July level for the 5 years, 1924-1928.

Many of the commodities varied little when prices of July, 1934, and 1935, were compared. Hogs doubled in market price, and cattle and several livestock and livestock products lines made appreciable advances.

Carnegie Medal Is Sought For Heroine

Efforts to secure a Carnegie Life-saving medal for Miss Helene Eyring, Eugene girl who heroically rescued 13-year-old Roger Stone from the millrace two weeks ago, were advanced Friday when information was secured by Gilbert Sprague, Eugene playground director, regarding the pre-conditions necessary to obtain the medal.

Sprague stated that it would be necessary to send a resume of the incident to the Carnegie Hill Fund commission, Oliver building, Pittsburgh. After the "dope" has been sent in, Sprague believes an application blank for the medal will be mailed, and further steps needed explained.

will be replaced and will be dropped from the federal relief rolls.

From Harry L. Hopkins, national head of the WPA came the warning. But George Meany, president of the state federation of labor, and other strike leaders were equally adamant. The local security wage of $93.50 a month for skilled labor—top figure in the national WPA scale—imperils the prevailing hourly wage, they insisted.

"Nonsense," Johnson retorted. A similar though smaller strike was called on a WPA project at the Philadelphia navy yard. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, predicted at Atlantic City, N. J., that the walk-out would spread to Boston, Chicago, Kansas City, Cleveland, San Francisco and Seattle.

Johnson told the union delegates that skilled workers were "never better off" than with the assurance of six months work at $93.50 a month. He said they were being duped by communists and selfish contractors. He called it a "ghastly abuse."

Horseshow Judges Announced Friday
