AIN'T NO SUCH ANIMAL, EH?

The okapi seems to be the answer to the old refrain, "What is so rare as a day in June?" This is the first one to be shown in the London zoo, a gift from the Prince of Wales, to whom it had been sent by King Leopold of Belgium; and only two others are in captivity. Practically a one-animal zoo, the okapi combines features of the giraffe, zebra and deer, and is a native of Belgian Congo.

Heilig offers "Women Must Dress" for Thursday only. Minna Gombell is starred in a film replete with comedy, drama, and fashion. The picture is particularly recommended to ladies, for, while it contains plot interest sufficient to entertain men, it's greatest feature is the melange of new styles offered.

McDonald and Rex have the same program today, with "The Farmer Takes a Wife," starring Janet Gaynor and Henry Fonda, topping the slate. It is a story of days on the Erie canal, and is said to be an unusually beautiful love story, filmed against an authentic historical background. "Orchids to You," same bill, is an out-of-the-ordinary story of a florist and her insight into the private lives of her customers. Jean Muir starred.
