The state highway commission can do nothing in the way of assisting to finance the overhead crossing project at Oakridge, members of the Lane county court were informed Thursday.

Henry F. Cabell, chairman of the highway commission, Carl G. Washburne, member of the commission, and I. H. Baldoek, chief engineer of the highway department, accompanied members of the county court and County Engineer Morse to Oakridge Thursday forenoon.

The members of the state commission and Engineer Baldoek, accompanied by Hollis W. Libby, assistant construction engineer for the commission and formerly of Eugene, went on over the Willamette pass from Oakridge and planned to go to Bend to spend the night there.

QUEEN ASTRID IS KILLED IN WRECK

Leopold three children—Princess Josephine Charlotte, who is 7; Prince Baudouin, duke of Brabant and heir to the throne, who will be five Sept. 7; and Prince Albert, prince of Liege, born June 6, 1934. Albert is second heir.

Besides the fractured skull she received deep cuts in the chest and other wounds sufficient to cut arteries and cause death.

"The car was going about 50 kilometers (31 miles an hour), I should judge," said a witness. "It was near the first chalet (villa) on the way from Lucerne to Küssnacht, in the neighborhood of Mt. Regis."

"It skidded apparently without reason. It hit a small embankment about a foot high. It was thrown against a tree."

"The queen and the chauffeur were catapulted clear of the car. The queen was thrown into a tree trunk."

"The king seemed ill to be holding on to the steering wheel when the car recoiled into a small meadow, hit another tree, and tumbled off into a cluster of reeds on the lake shore."

"The king staggered over to his wife. The chauffeur, injured only in the knee, ran haltingly and painfully for help."

KUSSNACHT, Switzerland, Aug. 29.—(AP)—King Leopold told members of his entourage after the accident which claimed the life of Queen Astrid today.

"I leaned over to look at the man (which the queen was holding). It lasted only a second, and when I looked back she was dead."

LET KIDNEYS FLUSH OUT 3 LBS. A DAY

Clear Out 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Nature put over 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters in your kidneys to strain the waste matter out of the blood. Kidneys should pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

When the passing of water is scanty, with smarting and burning, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your body may take up some of these poisons causing serious trouble. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and help the kidneys to flush out 3 pounds a day. Insist on Doan's Pills.

ed again at the road, the car was almost on top of a tree." The full extent of the king's injuries were not immediately determined. A physician said he feared Leopold's jaw might be fractured. The doctor stated that, in any case, a fracture or a shock to the jaw would doubtless account for the king's inability to explain the cause of the accident himself.

The 33-year-old king's grief over the death of his wife was such that no one presumed to question him further.

ridge Wednesday afternoon, but were soon brought under control. The small blazes, whipped by a slight breeze, caught near Bristow Prairie and Steeple Rock.

A CCC boy from the Walker camp was injured during the storm in the Bohemia district south of Cottage Grove. King Elgan, ranger at Elk Meadows, secured the services of Dr. B. F. Devore of Oakland and the two men rode horseback over the 22-mile trail until dark. The injured boy was taken to a Roseburg hospital, where it was said his elbow had received a severe wrench.

FIRE SPOTTED THE DALLES, Ore., Aug. 29.—(AP)—A United Air Lines pilot spied a forest fire 15 miles southeast of Mosier in the Mount Hood national forest late yesterday and radioed the information to the North Dalles airport which informed Wasco county authorities.

Forest lookouts also spotted the fire and forest service officials quickly dispatched men who controlled the "two alarm" blaze.

Light rain over this section mitigated the serious fire hazard which has prevailed the past few days.

M'KENZIE VALLEY RESIDENTS VOTE FOR POWER PLAN

Organization of a power district for the upper McKenzie river section was effected at a meeting at Blue River Wednesday night and application for PWA funds to assist in financing the construction of a power line will be made at once.

Smith L. Taylor was elected chairman and Harvey Cooley secretary. The citizens of the upper river voted to go ahead with the plans to petition for PWA funds an d to buy power from the Eugene water board.

The estimated cost of constructing a hydro-electric commission at Salem for permission to form the district and the election will be held within 60 days.

The district would cover all of the McKenzie valley from a point half a mile west of Vida to two miles above McKenzie Bridge. It would follow the McKenzie river 17 miles and would be two miles wide so as to include settlers on the creeks and side roads adjacent to the river.

The estimated cost of constructing the power line has been figured at $47,000, and the estimated valuation of the property in the district is $425,000. The plan is to bond the district to raise funds to pay its share of the cost of construction. This would be 65 per cent of the total cost.

BAD STORMS HIT SOUTHERN OREGON

of the Rogue River valley was sustained in the violent wind and rain storm that swept over the orchard district late Wednesday afternoon.

County Horticulturist C. B. Cordy estimated the loss ran "from nothing to ten per cent." The damage was scattered and chiefly felt among the D'Anjou varieties now ready to pick. The largest losses from wind were in Griffin creek-Jacksonville area, and in the Gold Hill district.

County Agent Robert G. Fowler reported that the damage to grain, tomatoes, and other crops was slight. The full fury of the storm was felt in the Applegate section where the wind reached tornadoic proportions, accompanied by deluges of rain.

In this area scores of forest fires, all small, were started by lightning. Trees Blown Down Trees were blown across the power lines of the California-Oregon Power company, deranging service. A number of trees in farm house yards were levelled.

In the Rich district, a near cloud-burst swept down the side of a bare hill, dumping water and debris on the highway, imperiling traffic for a time. Rain fell in torrents for an hour in the pioneer town of Jacksonville. The wind also caused slight damage at Ashland which was also visited by a heavy downpour.

The storm came as a climax to four days of high humidity, and brought relief from heat.

All traffic of the Southern Pacific was being routed through Ashland today, owing to a washout near Weed, California.

K. F. ISOLATED KIAMATH FALLS, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Bright sun prevailed here this morning after a night of disastrous rainstorms which left Klamath Falls isolated from railroad traffic.

With 1500 feet of Southern Pacific tracks washed out in northern California at the foot of Mount Shasta, railroad officials said this morning it

North and south bound trains are being routed off the main line through Ashland and Reno.

The railroad has sent all available men from this vicinity to restore the line.

It was expected scores of visitors to the national convention of the association of Twenty-Three clubs opening here today would be indefinitely delayed.

POWER CUT OFF GRANTS PASS, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Heavy rainfall accompanied a thunderstorm here last night, flooding gutters and cutting off power for short intervals.

The Courier correspondent from the Applegate district in Jackson county reported by telephone this morning that a "regular twister" blew down a barn and tore the tops from trees there. The "little tornado," she said, was accompanied by a heavy downpour.

The sky was still overcast today.

LINE WASHED OUT REDDING, Cal., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Scores of men worked feverishly today repairing about 1,000 feet of Southern Pacific railway tracks and a portion of the Weed-Klamath Falls highway which was washed out by a cloudburst on the west slope of Mount Shasta.

Thousands of tons of boulders, trees, dirt and water were brought down from Whitney glacier by the storm, which temporarily halted rail and highway traffic over the affected area.

The washout is about 10 miles north of Black Butte. Trains were being routed north via Reno, Nev., and Ashland, Ore. No damage was reported in nearby towns from the cloudburst.

Every available railroad man from Gerber, Cal., to Klamath Falls, Ore., was summoned to aid in repairing damage to tracks.

THREE KILLED DRAGON, Ariz., Aug. 29.—(AP)—An eight-foot wall of water, caused by a cloudburst, took the lives of three persons and was believed to have swept two others to their deaths when it struck a Golden Eagle bus waiting for water to recede in a railroad underpass near here late last night.

The bodies of the victims, a woman about 25 years old, a nine-year-old girl and an elderly man, the latter believed to be N. Sevin of Chicago, were brought here.

R. M. Rottman, a mortician, said there was nothing to identify the woman and girl.

Rottman said the bus had stopped on comparatively high ground to wait for the swelling waters of the underpass to lower sufficiently to allow it to proceed.

Suddenly, the occupants of the bus saw the flood, 1 1/2 miles in width, surging down upon them. Terror-stricken they began to rush to safety. The bus was turned over twice and half buried in the water and debris.

SALEM DARKENED SALEM, Aug. 29.—(AP)—A three-day heat wave here was apparently broken today following a thunder shower last night. The maximum temperature yesterday was 95.

Lightning last night struck a power feeder line and plunged a section of South Salem in darkness for a short time.

Jones Gets 20 Days On Drunk Charge Frank L. Jones was sentenced by Justice of the Peace Dan Johnston Thursday to serve 20 days in the county jail on a charge of being drunk in a public place. He was arrested Wednesday night by a state trooper on the highway near a road house adjoining the north city limits.

GROVE STRIKE MAY BE SETTLED SOON

for the afternoon session of the employers. Late Thursday morning, the government conciliators met again with union representatives. It is thought that operators and strikers will be brought together soon.

Settlement Uncertain In an interview Wednesday night, Marsh said that it would be impossible to estimate the time which might be required for the conciliation of the strike. Some agreements have been reached in 24 hours, he said; others have taken as long as three weeks.

He asserted that he could not "afford" to spend more than a week or ten days in the Cottage Grove negotiations, as he was now far behind schedule and had other important visits to make.

The number of men involved has nothing to do with the difficulty of the conciliation, Marsh declared. He said that many times disputes involving only a handful of men have taken much more time to settle than those in which thousands had left their work.

Compromise Expected When asked what concessions employers might be expected to give, he opined: "It is safe to say that the men will not be granted all of their requests, and the final agreement will probably be reached at some half-way point. I find the union men very anxious to conciliate and am pleased that there are no agitators in their midst. There seems to be no reason why some agreement cannot be reached. There has been a very small labor turnover, most of the men having worked in the Cottage Grove district for the greater part of their lives. The situation does not offer the difficulties bred by a strike of transient labor."

Marsh explained that he had not entered the Cottage Grove situation until Wednesday afternoon, when he arrived here from Portland, and therefore knew nothing of the background. His conversations with employers and strikers Wednesday and Thursday were in the nature of "feelers" to become more familiar with the particular circumstances lying behind the Grove walkout.

May Reach Agreement "The three operators involved may come to separate understandings with the men," he said, "unless they have made some agreement among themselves to act as one. It may be that one or more of the mill owners might reach some agreement and resume operations, while others remain inactive."

He said that it was probable that all owners would work on a common basis in the negotiations, as soon as it were feasible to bring the employers and strikers together.

Marsh would not state how long he would be in Eugene, but intimated that he might have to leave at any time. He will not remain after Labor Day, as he must leave for San Francisco on that date. It is probable that Labor Commissioner Gram will remain here to continue negotiations, if no settlement has been reached by that time.

He is one of three federal commissioners of conciliation working on the west coast, and reported that he has been "on the go" for some time. He and his two colleagues, who have offices in San Francisco and Los Angeles, respectively, must cover the entire Pacific coast district, from Mexico to Canada. Marsh's headquarters are in Portland, and he has just finished a long conference with mill owners and strikers in northern Washington.

MORE BOND BIDS BEFORE COUNCIL

Bids for $118,000 worth of city refunding bonds will be opened at Thursday night's city council meeting. Consideration of the bids on the bonds, which will replace a similar sum now bearing 5 1/2 per cent interest, tops a busy schedule which includes ordinance amendments, appropriation proposals and other important municipal legislation.

A group of local barbers, allegedly representing 75 per cent of their industry in Eugene, will present for the consideration of the council an ordinance which would regulate their working hours. The proposed ordinance would set a working day of hours, from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m., three additional hours on Saturday and one on Sunday.

Councilman Sam Bond said Thursday afternoon that he did not yet have a report on the proposed city alarm system.

Local dairymen plan to submit a proposal to change the ordinance relating the butterfat content of sold in the city. The milk men will have the present level of 4 per cent butterfat lowered to 3.2 per cent.

Councilman E. W. Zammwala Thursday said he would again vote for the purchase of the oak lot on Franklin boulevard for the city park.

Other business to come before council will include the acceptance of bids on 500 feet of fire hose, a frame, and the Oregon Electric Railway franchise, and the electric beer license application.
