

Heilig Has "And So They Were Married," Starring Astor and Douglas

WORLD OF FUTURE SEEN IN FEATURE ON MAC PROGRAM

H. G. Wells has been given credit by journalists as being the most accurate and thoughtful observer of trends and scientific progress in the world today. His forecast as to the state of future civilization, taken from his novel, "Things to Come," has been pictured by Alexander Korda of London Films, and is running at the McDonald theatre now.

Opening in the year 1940, "Things to Come" describes the breakdown of civilization through the next war, and a return to primitive living. Out of this hopeless state grows a marvelous new subterranean world—a sane, practical, and very liveable Utopia.

According to Wells, the life of the 21st Century will be lived underground almost entirely. The cities will be built in the sides of mountains, lighted by artificial sunlight and ventilated by conditioned air. The houses will be glass, but windowless, furnishes and clothing will reach a high point of beauty and simplicity. The 24-hour day will be a fact and humans will be propelled to the moon from a giant space gun.

Raymond Massey, Ralph Hardwicke, Pearl Argyle, Margarette Scott, and Patricia Hilliard head a cast of 20,000 in this production, directed by William Cameron Menzies. A companion picture, "Bullets or Ballots," with Edward G. Robinson, is on the same program.

Opening in the year 1940, "Things to Come" describes the breakdown of civilization through the next war, and a return to primitive living. Out of this hopeless state grows a marvelous new subterranean world—a sane, practical, and very liveable Utopia.

According to Wells, the life of the 21st Century will be lived underground almost entirely. The cities will be built in the sides of mountains, lighted by artificial sunlight and ventilated by conditioned air. The houses will be glass, but windowless, furnishes and clothing will reach a high point of beauty and simplicity. The 24-hour day will be a fact and humans will be propelled to the moon from a giant space gun.

Raymond Massey, Ralph Hardwicke, Pearl Argyle, Margarette Scott, and Patricia Hilliard head a cast of 20,000 in this production, directed by William Cameron Menzies. A companion picture, "Bullets or Ballots," with Edward G. Robinson, is on the same program.

Mob Violence Theme Of Tracy Production

Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday will see "Fury" and "Palm Springs" at the McDonald. Powerfully portrayed by Spencer Tracy and Sylvia Sydney, "Fury" is a moving study in mob violence. The concentrated passion of crowds bent on lynching Tracy, who is mistakenly taken for an escaped kidnaper, afford a smash dramatic climax for the show.

Frances Langford, Sir Guy Standing, and Smith Ballew live in luxury in "Palm Springs," super-resort picture. Five new songs are dexterously handled by Miss Langford in the Walter Wanger production.

Gangster Melodrama On Screen Thursday

The G-Men are at it again in "Show Them No Mercy," thriller coming to the Mayflower Thursday. Rochelle Hudson, Cesar Romero, and Bruce Cabot share honors in Darryl Zanuck's tense production of the war between criminals and law enforcement officers. A new high in suspense is reached in one scene in the film where Rochelle Hudson and Edward Norris are trapped in a lonely cabin by a group of gangsters and are forced to live under their suspicious eyes until they are rescued by the police.

Parole Reform Asked In Grim Prison Drama

In "Parole," scheduled Friday and Saturday for the Mayflower, a grim drama of prison life is presented and a plea is made for reform in parole methods. The action is dramatic and fast-moving. Prominent in it is Alan Baxter, who is being haled as a coming star in underworld roles. Bracketed with "Parole" is the Bill Boyd western, "Call of the Prairie."

Oil-Field Epic to Show In Mid-week Program

An oil field epic, "Black Gold" will show at the State Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. A pitched battle between racketeering thugs and oil men, half-breath rescues, and a thrilling fire and explosion are seen on the screen. A western production, "Lucky Terror," completes the bill.

TWO ARE HOSTESSES

COBURG, June 20.—(Special)—Mrs. John Hurd and Mrs. Harold Hurd entertained jointly Friday afternoon at the home of the latter, honoring the birthday anniversary of their mother-in-law, Mrs. Clinton Hurd. Refreshments were served to the honored guest, Mrs. Clinton Hurd, Mrs. Verna Tyler, Mrs. Homer Payne, Mrs. Loron Longcor, Mrs. Charles Harrison, Mrs. John Hurd and two children, Mary Jean and Dorell, and Mrs. Harold Hurd and son, Donald.

HORTON MUDDLES THROUGH!

Edward Everett Horton graces the screen at the Mayflower in its current feature, "Nobody's Fool," aided and abetted by saucy Glenda Farrell.

HELL HATH NO "FURY," MAC HAS!

Spencer Tracy ponders on mob violence in a scene from "Fury," McDonald feature for Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, as Sylvia Sydney reassures him.

SUMMER SCHEDULE TO START FOR REX

A new starring team, Rosalind Russell and George Raft, appear together for the first time in "It Had to Happen," to be shown next weekend at the Rex. There will be no bills during the week, since the Rex is going on its summer schedule. Raft plays the role of a poor immigrant lad in the romance and Russell has the part of a beautiful heiress. Alan Dinehart, secondarily husband of Miss Russell in the early reels of the film, is a convincing villain.

Raft rises to power three years after he gets off the boat and becomes political overlord of a large city. There is plenty of suspense in the picture and a generous portion of romance. It was directed by Roy Del Ruth. Supporting players are Leo Carillo, Arline Judge, Andrew Tombes, and Arthur Hohl. "The Prisoner of Shark Island" will complete the program.

Shirley Temple Film To Be "Littlest Rebel"

Shirley Temple, smallest star, with the highest box-office drawing power, will appear Tuesday and Wednesday at the Mayflower theatre. Vying with her for comedy honors is dusky Bill Robinson, outstanding colored tap dancer. The vehicle is "The Littlest Rebel," a period reproduction of Civil War days. Shirley is her bubbling best in this gay and frothy picture, and has a world of quaint and attractive costumes to wear. Other players are Jack Holt and John Boles. Karen Morley is the feminine lead.

At Bellfountain

BELLFOUNTAIN, June 20.—(Special)—Tuesday has been selected for the day to finish park clean-up, to have everything in readiness for the annual old timers reunion which is scheduled for Sunday, June 28. The Four-H clubs will be in charge of the stands and Mr. Winkley has promised his new refrigeration car for the use of the club.

Mrs. Evadna Stahl and sons Clair and Arden returned to their home Tuesday evening from a 30-day motor trip to Oakland, Cal. On the way down they visited the Oregon Caves, Crater Lake, Klamath Falls, Yosemite Park, Santa Cruz, Santa Rosa and other points of interest. They visited at the home of Mrs. Stahl's sister, Mrs. LaVerne Hard. They returned home via the Roosevelt highway.

Mrs. Frank Deiter and daughter and son of Lakeview visited Friday afternoon and Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Scott. Mrs. Deiter was formerly Miss Ethel Ross and attended Bellfountain high school a number of years ago when the Ross family resided on the place now known as the Ratliff place.

The famous cross of snow, in the Holy Cross National forest of Colorado, is formed by two snow-filled crevasses on the side of the mountain. The cross is visible for miles.

As a general rule, a bear will not harm a motionless person.

"THIRTEEN HOURS BY AIR" FEATURES FRED MACMURRAY

No male lead in Hollywood can handle sophisticated dialogue more ably than Fred MacMurray. Teamed with Joan Bennett in "Thirteen Hours by Air," he is given full opportunity to display his clever technique in bringing out the full humor value in every comedy situation. There is action galore in this story of a wise-cracking air-pilot who wrecks his plane in an isolated mountain valley with a mess of trouble aboard. Alan Baxter provides a very menacing menace, and Zasu Pitts does nobody any good in her inimitable ineffective way. Ruth Donnelly preserves her usual dry detachment as the plot thickens in the close confines of the cabin plane.

For the other half of the program there is an expose of a new "skake-down" ring in "Human Cargo." The Rex is presenting both features this Sunday.

GUNS GO BANG FOR EDWARD ROBINSON

Edward G. Robinson returns to the screen in "Bullets or Ballots," sharing the bill now on at the McDonald with H. G. Wells' "Things to Come." The story of the Robinson film is by Martin Mooney, the New York newspaperman who was sent to jail for 30 days for contempt of court because he refused to divulge the names of gangsters who gave him information confidentially.

Robinson's new role affords him all the opportunities for characterization that "Little Caesar," the picture that made him famous, gave him, but in this picture he is on the side of the law, as a hard-boiled detective determined to put the boldest and best organized gang of criminals known to history out of business. Barton MacLane is the chief of the gangsters, Humphrey Bogart, killer in "The Petrified Forest" is the toughest of all the tough men, Frank McHugh furnishes comedy, and Joan Blondell plays the role of female gangster.

On the same bill is the new team of Clark Gable and Jeanette MacDonald, plus Spencer Tracy, in a romance of early days in the Barbary Coast. The picture, "San Francisco," will show Gable as a debonair gambler.

Gable and MacDonald New Starring Team

Homely and homey Irvin S. Cobb, promoted as the successor to Will Rogers, will appear at the McDonald in "Everybody's Old Man" Saturday. Rochelle Hudson is featured with him.

On the same bill is the new team of Clark Gable and Jeanette MacDonald, plus Spencer Tracy, in a romance of early days in the Barbary Coast. The picture, "San Francisco," will show Gable as a debonair gambler.

DANCE at Swimmers Delight
Sunday, June 21st
Bob Keeffe's Orchestra with Pat Carlon & Dinky Bowman

MAYFLOWER ELEVENTH AT ALDER.

TODAY IS NATIONAL LAUGH DAY!

SUNDAY & MONDAY ONLY!!

For everyone who enjoys Eddie Horton's latest collection of assorted giggles, guffaws, howls and roars!

- Also
- Barney Google in "Patch My Britches"
- Musicomedy... "Clubhouse Party"
- Latest News of Today

EDWARD EVERETT HORTON
IN A UNIVERSAL PICTURE

Nobody's Fool

with GLENDIA FARRELL
CESAR ROMERO
WARREN HYMER • DIANA GIBSON
CONTINUOUS SHOWS SUNDAY
DOORS OPEN 12:45 O'CLOCK

Lorre Smooth Threat In Thrilling Picture

The Graumont-British film, "The Man Who Knew Too Much" will show at the State Wednesday. Peter Lorre has the leading role, and characterizes an arch-criminal with deft understatement. The British child star, Nova Pilbeam, appears in the feature with him.

The story is a thriller of the "shilling shooks" type and, oddly enough, was once presented as a command performance for the King and Queen of England.

CHILD PAIR SPLIT ROMANTIC LEADS IN SMART COMEDY

Fire and water mix in a judicious concoction of gay sophistication and uproarious romance in "And So They Were Married," the new attraction at the Heilig. The water in the case is Mary Astor and Edith Fellows, a mother-and-daughter combination surpassed only by each other in their aversion to men. The "fire-eaters" are Melvyn Douglas and his woman-hating 11-year-old son, Jackie Moran. Against their will Astor and Douglas discover themselves, falling in love. Although they can't help themselves, their children determine to end the romance. Amusing situations continue to develop as the children do everything in their power to achieve this end. From there on "And So They Were Married" swirls in a series of hilarious episodes to the climax.

The entire picture was filmed in the high Sierra Nevada mountains, and there is a continuous succession of majestic mountain views throughout the production. Elliott Nugent directed. The script was taken from the magazine story, "Bless Their Hearts," by Sarah Addington.

According to an English expert, married life is very trying on the nerves until children arrive.

BARBARA STANWYCK IN STATE COMEDY

One hundred and fifty wild and chimes were used to raise an artificial dust storm in "Red Sails" State Sunday. The story involves the constantly interrupted romance between Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Young, traveling in an automobile driven by Cliff "Ukelele" Lee.

Trouble with foreign agitators and a strong theme of patriotism runs through the picture, which also features Harlie Allright, Ruth Donnelly, Gordon Jones, and Paul Stanton.

THE NEXT WAR!

Lieut. Bert Hall
"General Chan of China"

The Most Interesting Man You've Ever Met!

Bert Hall is the sole remaining survivor of the famous Lafayette Escadrille Flying Corps.

In twenty-five years of fighting, Hall has fought under the flags of eleven different armies.

Is personally acquainted with Mussolini, Hitler and others of the world leaders and rulers.

Was the first man ever to use the airplane in combat warfare.

In 1917 Hall bombed the palace at Sefta while it was occupied by Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany.

Was a close friend of Mata Hari, the famous spy, who was executed by the French in 1917.

Is the only known man who has been sentenced to death as a spy and lived to escape his execution.

Has the longest actual war record of any living man, and is the world's oldest active flyer today.

Here is an opportunity to meet in person one of the most picturesque personalities in the world today... Bert Hall, soldier of fortune, world adventurer, High Mandarin of China!

Hall's restless urge for daring air adventure has carried him into every corner of the globe. He has flown fighting planes for 11 governments, fought in every major conflict of the past twenty-five years!

A writer and lecturer of note, that part of Hall's talk pertaining to his past is filled with thrills, excitement and adventure. But the real issue is the NEXT WAR, now slowly but surely brewing among the nations of the world!

It is more than interesting, more than just a little profitable to hear his views as to the cause, and effect of the coming catastrophe, and the horrid result to those who must face it. For there is no one today better qualified to speak than this American flying ace who has made war his profession, revolution and death his business!

Read of Hall's Experiences in Today's Oregonian Magazine

In Person EUGENE ARMORY

Wednesday Night June 24