KNITTED BEDSPREAD Pattern No. 224

A KNITTED bedspread is unusual in itself, but for the woman who prefers to knit, this checkerboard design offers a simple and pleasing idea. One of the nice things about this is that you can take your time with it. Carry one square with you and you need finish only one small stint at a time. Pretty soon you have enough squares, and then you put them together. A knitted spread can give a very solid effect without having the weight that a similar design in crochet would entail. Should you prefer to alternate blocks of color with those of ecru or white you will find that you can create an idea in keeping with the old-fashioned and now revived mode of patchwork quilt making.

Because of laundering, some persons prefer to omit the fringes, and in this case, the bedspread is equally attractive and quite modern in design when so done.

Complete illustrated instructions come in the pattern envelope.

Summer Months Demand Everything In Harmony

EVERY clod feels a stir of E night! Rare June days, inweld, when my garden calls and the very feel of the good earth sends a tingle down my back. Newspapers lure me with pictures of blue-bonnets, iris, and tulips, and having succumbed to the annual temptation of the seed stores, with their bright packages of incredible pellets, you'll find me with rake and hoe, spade and sprinkling can, digging with a crusader's zeal, oblivious to all other charms. Nothing, absolutely nothing else matters — except, of course, (eternal female!) the envy of my neighbor's honeysuckle and the adjacency of my garden at tire.

What! Clothes again? No, clothes still! For the music of summer demands that everything be in harmony. I refuse to welcome the lovely little guests in my garden, their bright faces turning to me in a riot of color, dressed in a discourteous and off-feeding gag.

No wonder millions of us sew at home, and no wonder the reputation of even the least among us, with the most modest of means, for cleverness and charm in smart toggery. Fashion is no longer the exclusive prerequisite of the smart set.

I suppose this can be called the theme song of these weekly fashion "broadcasts," and I hope it's music to your clothes-wearer's soul.

But back to my garden and the group of garden frocks I've gathered for you to see. Topping the list, of course, is a culotte, smartest and most popular of the season's innovations. Everybody's wearing them, and why not. Strong with the younger set for bicycling and active sports, and modest enough for grandma, the culotte is the frock of endless utility, and no where does it serve to better advantage than in the garden. Made of rough linen crash toweling or candlewick muslin or upholstery cotton or plain white linen, a well designed culotte will give you the freedom so essential in garden apparel and at the same time give you that feeling of sufficiency when an unexpected visitor stops by to admire your gentian. It isn't always easy to get excited about new trends in fashion, some trick frocks "miss" me completely, but the culotte is a bonafide winner. I recommend it without reservation, especially in the type of styling here employed.

Summer Clothes You Want For Outdoor Garden Wear

1812-B — Particular practical and novel is the design of this little frock for tots from two to five. The simple pattern is made for quick sewing mothers who like pretty clothes but can spend only a limited amount of time on them.

A dress of this sort with a matching sun-suit will be most wearable for playtime or parties. It has a soft becoming Peter Pan collar, pleats in front and back, cute puff sleeves and no yoke to fuss and fret over, a finished picture that is truly delightful. It's adorable in dotted swiss, voile, crepe, or lawn for parties and practical in linen, gingham or percale for garden or street wear. Five Star pattern No. 1812-B is available in sizes, 2, 3, 4 and 5. Size 3 requires 2 5/8 yards of 39 inch material plus 3/8 yards for contrast.

1875-B — There's no excuse for not being ready to cope with the demands of active sports when a model such as illustrated is so easy and inexpensive to make. The divided skirt is suitable for garden, bicycling, tennis, and hiking. It assures ample room and comfort, buttons on the side and supports the most youthful blouse. Four buttons mount up to the throat where a dainty round collar is trimmed with a bow. The drop shoulder and patch pocket are "simple notes" for speedy sewing. If you prefer, you may have shorts for the pattern is perforated at just the proper length. A three-in-one economy plan provided by a paper pattern. Just send for Five Star Pattern No. 1875-B. It's available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Corresponding bust measurements 30, 32, 34, 36 and 38. Size 16 (34) requires 4 1/4 yards of 35 inch material. Shorts alone require 3 1/2 yards.

1891-B — The smartness of a coat smock made on slim tailored lines has proven to the modern homemaker that she can look as charming digging in the garden as when she is out in the social whirl.

Slender built women know they can wear smart princess lines as sketched, but the larger woman has only to try this pattern to discover that she too can look slim and chic. The soft turn-back collar and sleeve bands are so becoming in their snowy whiteness and the large patch pockets are indispensable, both for use and decoration. Use a gingham, percale, print or calico for pleasing results. However other fabrics fit into the picture equally well. Five Star Pattern No. 1891-B is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 16 (34) requires 4 3/8 yards of 39 inch material plus 3/4 contrast.

No. 1860-B — Trimly tailored one piece dress. Your summer wardrobe should include many dresses such as this one. It's the sort of thing you can put on and forget about, knowing and feeling that you are well-dressed and comfortable.

Linen, unshrinkable and uncrushable, holds the center of the stage for dresses of this type. Piques, in the new waffle weaves, as well as the traditional gingham and percale, is much used, for it tailors well and keeps its shape after many trips to the tub. The frock has an inverted pleat in the skirt front to insure perfect freedom while three lovely buttons form the blouse closing. Bias binding is the only feature required to dress up this simple housefrock. Send for this model today, and enjoy wearing it while shopping, gardening, cleaning or even for active sports.

Five Star Pattern No. 1860-B is available in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 3 5/8 yards of 39 inch material plus 3 3/4 yards for bias binding.

Every Pattern includes an illustrated instruction guide which is easy to understand.

1700-B — Whenever comfort is essential, and utility is required, the cont dresssteps forward to make its bow. It's a frock that meets the demands of a busy life, with smartness and dispatch. The dress departs a little from the usual conception of the bygone down the front frock, and is belted with a strap proceeding through a small slit at the side, making it adjustable to fit any size from 12 to 42. You'll want this dress in a wash material, which can be laid out flat for ironing. Chambray, gingham, seersucker, and poplin all meet the requirements of this simple and practical garment. Send for this Five Star Pattern No. 1700-B designed in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 (34) requires 3 3/4 yards of 36 inch material.

Five Star Fashions

Daytime frock featuring modified surplice closing.

Pattern No. H-3155
THIS lovely daytime frock, worn by the stunning dark-eyed Priscilla Lawson of Universal, has the ability to stress good points in an unusually effective way. The modified surplice closing is much favored, especially for adult sizes, and three attractive bone white buttons are used to add novelty.

Geometric bits of contrast on the waist and skirt pockets are well used. The frock is slenderizing throughout. It reduces shoulder breadth, minimizes the hips, and presents an artistic silhouette so important to all. Sleeve length is optional — long or short, and so is the belt. You may wear either a purchased one for contrast or a self fabric one for harmony. Youthful action pleats lend gracefulness to the skirt, and the whole effect is one of charming self possession.

Make it yourself easily and quickly, with Pictorial Pattern No. H-3155 designed for sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 36 with short sleeves requires 4 3/8 yards of 39 inch fabric.

Pattern No. H-3155 can be purchased for TWENTY-FIVE cents. Please remit in coins or stamps (coins preferred), giving your name, address, pattern number and size.
