

PARTIAL SCHEDULE OF VISITS OF 4-H TOUR IS ANNOUNCED

A partial schedule of visits for the annual state-wide 4-H club livestock judging tour, to be held in Lane and Linn counties this year, was announced Thursday by R. C. Kuehner, county club agent. The tour will start Monday, July 20, running for three days.

On Monday morning, members of the Lane county contingent will meet at Junction City at 8 o'clock. They will go to Albany where they will meet other members of the tour at the courthouse and from there the tour will visit the Homer Shelby place.

They will then visit the Dickson Jersey herd and the Keiser Oxford flocks of sheep.

In Lane county, the tour will judge Angus beef cattle and inspect the irrigation system on the Thistle Down farm and will then inspect the Lane county fairgrounds. From the fairgrounds they will go to the Meadow-bloom farm to judge the Guernsey herd there and will then go to Blachly to see the Shropshire sheep and Jersey cattle on the Virgil Parker Greenleaf farms.

Each livestock club will make arrangements for its transportation and food and members must be prepared to camp out for two nights, Mr. Kuehner said.

LEWIS, F. D. TALK AS GREEN WAITS

A. F. of L. president and spokesman for the craft union faction that is considering ousting the United Mine Workers and their allies from the federation.

Green Makes Announcement
Shortly after Lewis left the White House, Green announced the United Mine Workers had failed to appear before the federation's executive council to discuss differences over unionization of the steel workers.

Green said the mine workers representatives were the first on the list of members of the committee for industrial organization invited to meet with the council. He said they and the United Textile Workers, asked to appear this afternoon, had flatly refused to do so.

After a two-hour session of the council, during which other routine business was conducted, Green said daily sessions would be continued until all the C. I. O. unions had opportunity to present their case. In the meantime, he added, the council would give no indication as to what its future action would be.

CURTAIN!

Death closed in on Thomas Meighan, film star of the silent days, after a year's illness.

THOMAS MEIGHAN, SILENT STAR, DIES

GREAT NECK, N. Y., July 9.—(AP)—Thomas Meighan, 57, star of the silent films who was fighting for a comeback in the talkies, died at his home here last night.

He had been in critical condition for three weeks of an illness which he had suffered for two years.

At his side were his wife, Mrs. Frances Ring Meighan, his brother, James, his sister, Miss May Meighan, and Mrs. Leon Errol, wife of the actor.

His illness interrupted a fight to reclaim his former place in the theatre bright lights. He retired from pictures in 1927, after 11 years as a star, to enter business in the Florida real estate boom. He returned to make a few more pictures between 1927 and 1929, then retired again. He made more pictures in 1931 and waited until last year to produce his last one, "Peck's Bad Boy," which reestablished him as a box office attraction.

For the program, Thursday, Miss Mozelle Hair, a past state president, talked on hobbies; and Mrs. Roberta Bennett Humphreys sang, accompanied by Miss Mary Bennett.

Visitors at the luncheon included: Helga Hulbert of Fargo, North Dakota; Mattie Bogue of Okmulgee, Oklahoma; and Mary Swethness of Gooding, Idaho. All are members of the club in their home cities.

were Monday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. McKinney.

Mrs. Willis Hines was called to Washington Sunday by the illness of her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Farran returned from Seattle to their cabin on Blue river.

HEAT WAVE GRIPS ATLANTIC STATES; LIGHT RAINS FALL

the rainfall. Corn fell more than three cents a bushel at the opening in Chicago, while wheat dropped fractionally.

New England, enveloped by the spreading heat, saw a 65-year record heat broken by electrical storms which caused an estimated $100,000 damages from fires started by lightning.

Some cooler relief in a few states was seen by J. R. Lloyd, forecaster at the Chicago weather station, but he warned that tomorrow will find all the affected area back in the near record column.

Reports from New York state indicated new heat records would be set, while Connecticut, New Jersey and Michigan expected continued high marks.

Small Benefits Seen

No appreciable beneficial effect was seen for the drought belt. South Dakota's only rain was a trace at Rapid City. Light sprinkles at North Platte and David City constituted Nebraska's rainfall, and it had no effect on drought conditions.

Chicago had only light showers with less than a tenth of an inch of rain, but they promised a day's respite from yesterday's high temperatures.

Misery and despair grew in the fertile Middle West over the mounting crop destruction and the lack of respite from broiling heat as the torrid wave spread east. New York City had a temperature of 101 degrees, a new record for the date, and Washington had 97, both hottest days of the year.

In the New York metropolitan area officials expressed fear of a scarcity of milk and other foodstuffs and State Agriculture Commissioner Peter Ten Eyck called a meeting at Albany, Saturday, to discuss the situation.

Millions Hurt by Drought
J. B. Hutson, acting AAA administrator, estimated 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 persons were directly affected by the drought.

The havoc already wrought in the nation's agricultural sections had been estimated at $500,000,000. But this was regarded by observers as an underestimate when C. A. Russell, secretary of agriculture for South Dakota, reckoned crop losses in his state alone at $140,000,000. The damage to Wyoming dry land crops was placed at $35,000,000. No new authoritative approximations were forthcoming from other states visited by greater or lesser devastation.

But reports of ruined pastures, barren fields, insect infestations, forest fires and prospects of half a normal harvest or none at all came from the drought districts.

"Every day from now on with temperatures of 100 means irreparable injury for Iowa's great corn crop," said Meteorologist C. D. Reed.

Norton, this morning after brief argument.

Dill Granted Divorce From General Jones

SPOKANE, Wash., July 9.—(AP)—Superior Judge W. E. Humeke awarded today a divorce to former Senator Clarence C. Dill of Washington and decided he need not repay the $40,000 his wife, the former "General" Rosalie Gardner Jones of New York, gave him during their nine years of married life.
