Hob-Nobbing With Cannibals, Telling Reptiles From Logs Daily Trials For Ex-Eugenean

By SID KING Two thousand miles up the Amazon river, trekking along a vague jungle trail enroute to the head-hunter country at the headwaters of this mighty stream, a party of missionaries halted for a brief rest before continuing the difficult trip. One member of the party, a native boy, perhaps more fatigued than his elders, rested his foot on a log in an attempt to ease the load he was carrying.

Suddenly, says Richard Hayden, former Eugene man and now a member of the Seventh Day Adventist missionary party in the headwaters of the Amazon, the "log" the boy had placed his foot on began to move. Looking down one way, the lad discovered a huge tall moving restlessly, glancing the other direction he saw the huge head of the giant snake he had mistaken for a log, slowly rising and looking about.

Speed Saved Boy "Fast moving on the part of the boy saved him from being crushed to a jelly in the coils of that 30-foot python, a giant snake often mistaken for a log in the jungle," said Dick, describing this incident of one of his trips into the land of the head-hunting cannibals. "These reptiles range from 15 to 20 inches in diameter, and crush their prey in the coils of their body just as the pythons do.

"This particular snake had just enjoyed a meal and was sleeping along the edge of the trail, part of his body in the jungle, when the boy mistook it for a log. The fact that the reptile was asleep saved the boy's life for they are very quick when awake. There have been instances in which a horse, stepping over the body of a python, has been caught in its coils and crushed to a jelly."

Mr. Hayden, who is in Eugene visiting his parents before going back to South America in December, attended the Eugene high school where he was a star football player at the time F. L. Grannis, now principal at Cottage Grove, was coach here. As head of the educational activities of the Seventh Day Adventist missionary in the head-hunter country on the upper Amazon, Hayden was one of the few white men ever to live on friendly terms with the cannibalistic tribes of this section.

Only One Man "Only one man Dr. F. A. Stahl, a pioneer Seventh Day Adventist missionary, has been able to penetrate this savage country," says the Eugene man who acted as Dr. Stahl's assistant. "He was only able to reach them due to the fact that he was able to cure a sick chief."

Cool Blasts Fan Southwest Region KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 21.—(AP)—The searing heat slid away before a swift, cool wind and rains in the southwest today. As relief from the heat came, steadily mounting damage was counted in sections where the wind reached gale proportions.

The wind that rose in the north end out a path across the middle of the nation struck the Texas Centennial exposition at Dallas last night, causing damage officially estimated at $1,000,000. Thirty persons were injured, none seriously. Rain followed the wind.

The blast fanned Texas and Oklahoma, moving in after it had caused a plunging mercury in Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois. Weather authorities promised two days of cooler weather in most sections. They were still cautious, but believed the long heat wave that resulted in 4500 deaths was ended.

Farmers were jubilant. The wind blew away the glass-suckers. The rains that fell over Missouri, Oklahoma, Illinois, Nebraska and parts of Kansas were not heavy except in scattered spots, but gave the heat-besieged country a chance.

Meanwhile the far west sweltered. In Los Angeles, the thermometer climbed above 90 for the sixth consecutive day. El Centro, Cal., reported 114 degrees, and the ninth heat death this year. San Diego fanned by a Pacific wind, experienced its hottest day in 50 years.

DR. TOWNSEND WALKS OUT; IS BROUGHT BACK

OARP Founder Leaves Court At Hearing to Throw Him Out of Power

POLICE TAKE UP TRAIL Leader Returned After Race Through Cleveland's Downtown Streets

CLEVELAND, July 21.—(AP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, co-founder and owner of Old Age Revolving Pensions, Ltd., was "detained" today by deputy sheriffs two hours after he walked out of a deposition hearing on a suit to remove him as head of the organization and throw OARP into receivership.

The grey-haired leader of the $200-a-month pension planners was taken into custody as he left for Erie, Pa., by officers armed with a subpoena ordering him to appear before Judge Samuel E. Kramer.

Stalks From Room Dr. Townsend and his attorneys stalked from the hearing when the doctor was asked questions they considered "unfair."

Deputy Sheriff Joseph Posedley served the subpoena on Dr. Townsend after pursuing him through five miles of heavy traffic on Euclid avenue, Cleveland's main thoroughfare. Dr. Townsend was enroute to Erie where he will speak tonight.

Ben F. Sacharow, attorney who was questioning Dr. Townsend when he walked out, obtained the "body attachment," and accompanied the deputy to serve it.

Back in Court After Dr. Townsend was detained, the party returned to Judge Kramer's court room, where the suit in which the deposition was being taken is pending before Judge Kramer.

"I want to know whether you have conducted this organization in good faith," Sacharow demanded, "and how long you are going to continue to fool the public."

Dr. Townsend calmly folded his notes, arose from his seat and walked from the room. Sheridan Downey, OARP general counsel, Gilmore Young, national secretary, and other members of Dr. Townsend's entourage left with him.

POLITICAL FORUM BEING ARRANGED The first of what may be a series of open forum sessions on politics of the day will be held in Shinner park next Monday evening at 8 under the direction of the city recreation commission, with George G. Bertson, county superintendent of adult education as the chairman and wielder of the gavel to shut off orators who get too strong.

All parties have promised to send speakers. County Chairman C. A. Huntington is to make the choice for the republicans, Fred Ludford for the New Dealers democrats, Charles Paine for the Townsend-Unionists, Mrs. Mary Hilburn Jackson for the socialists. Each speaker will be limited to 12 minutes for his statement and the party cause and he will be required to stand by for the question period at the end.

"Anybody in the audience may ask any question of any speaker," said Mr. Berreman, "but with these stipulations. Each question must be a question and not another speech. No personalities of any kind will be tolerated. Anybody who questions or main orator who violates the rules will be 'bonded down' on the big bell we shall have for the occasion."

SPONSORS OUTLINE RULES FOR RACERS Soap box derby entrants who hope to enter the Eugene semi-finals to compete for the chance to go east to the national trials will have to follow a very definite line of procedure, sponsors announced today. For the convenience of prospective racers the requirements of the national committee and the local derby officials are listed below:

All entrants must bring a parent or guardian to the Silva Chevrolet company before July 25 and sign with them an application for membership in the All-American Soap Box Derby. No boy will be allowed to compete without fulfilling this requirement.

All soap box racing cars must be built to comply with the specifications laid down in the official rule book, which is given to every applicant at the time he signs his membership card. No car may cost over $10 to construct, weigh over 175 pounds, or include handwork of an older person. Wheels and axles may be purchased, but other than these items the work must be done entirely by the entrant.

All racing drivers and cars must be present on the Charnelton street course Saturday morning, July 25, to be given driving tests, checked for measurements and licensed. This is the only day that cars can be qualified. The hours for qualifying trials are from 8 o'clock in the morning to 11 o'clock.

Cars must have a strong braking system, accurate steering mechanism SEE SPONSORS STORY PAGE 2

State Clubbers See E. F. G.'s Big Plant; Parker's Farm Next Seventy-five or more members of Four-H livestock judging clubs from over the state, on their state tour now in progress, inspected the plant of the Eugene Fruit Growers' association Tuesday afternoon. While the plant and its products are out of their line, an inspection tour of the various departments and buildings was considered by the leaders as an education in the line of farmers' co-operatives.

The club members and their leaders spent Tuesday forenoon on the farm of Walter Hubbard near Junction City and the Thistle-down farm near Eugene. They had lunch at the county fairgrounds and after the visit to the fruitgrowers' plant planned a trip to the Meadow Bloom farm near Eugene, camping at Greenleaf, near Triangle lake, for the night.

Wednesday's itinerary includes a visit to Virgil Parker's farm near the camp and a meeting at Triangle lake for lunch and afternoon discussion.

Triggerman Says Black Legion Shot Negro For "Thrill" DETROIT, July 21.—(AP)—The Black Legion was credited with a second murder today, when Dayton Dean, triggerman and star witness, confessed that a negro World War veteran was taken out and shot to death six legions members.

The murdered man was Silas Coleman, 42, who was shot on the night of May 25, 1935, according to Dean. Dean told police Coleman was shot because "Colonel" Harvey Davis, now held on a murder charge in connection with the cult slaying of Charles Pooler, 32, WPA worker, wanted "to see how it felt to shoot a negro."

LEFTISTS WEAKENING General Franco Threatens; Death Toll May Run Close to 25,000

U. S. SENDS WARSHIPS WASHINGTON, July 21.—(AP)—Two American warships have been ordered to Mediterranean waters to evacuate Americans in Spain should it become necessary.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Thousands of Spanish insurgents, striking in the wake of a machine gun attack by low-flying airplanes, surged over the Basque provinces of Navarre and Guipuzcoa Tuesday night (Spanish time) to wrest northern control from loyal leftist forces.

Casualties in the two provinces, including the city of San Sebastian, where defenders were raked with aerial fire, were reported at 50 or more.

The United States summer embassy is at San Sebastian and Ambassador Claude G. Hovens was reported in residence there as recently as Sunday.

Militia Withdraws The popular front militia withdrew to a mountain apparently intending to shell San Sebastian, as the rebels poured in.

Civil governors of the two provinces fled into France and the insurgents, declaring martial law, assumed complete power.

Meanwhile, French correspondents reaching Bordeaux from Apsin said the northern rebel army had reached a point only 35 miles from Madrid.

Peasants and workers, heavily armed, marched under the banner of the rising popular front against entrenched rebels in several cities while civilian militiamen threw a protective circle around Madrid.

Many Die in Clash In a sharp clash between Pamona rebels and government forces near the French frontier, 24 Spanish carabinieri and an undetermined number of rightists were reported slain.

At least 300 dead were reported from fighting in Barcelona, bombed by government planes.

Throughout the country, the leftist government declared, peasants and workers were flocking to aid federal fighters.

EUROPEAN POWERS AGREE ON PARLEY LONDON, July 21.—(AP)—Formal agreement on a three-power Locarno parity here, beginning Thursday, was reached today at a conference between Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and the French and Belgian ambassadors.

The consultations were followed by a cabinet meeting.

Authoritative observers expected the talks would be confined to arrangements for a later fire-power conference.

A British foreign office communique stated the object of the meeting was "to consider how best to further the desire of the three powers to consolidate the peace of Europe by means of a general settlement."

WEATHER NEWS

'We Couldn't Pay Rent, Eat,' Says Mother; Officials Puzzled

By MARGARET REID While relief workers checked every possible way to help them, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Casteel and their six children, ranging in ages from 2 to 11 years, squatted on a parking strip three feet wide, in front of the home at 1492 Twenty-third avenue east, from which they were evicted Monday.

Mr. Casteel was out Tuesday morning checking on houses which would fit into the $44 a month budget which he earns as a workman on a WPA project.

Eugene's dearth of housing facilities presented an especially acute problem. Those few landlords who had properties could easily figure that the 18c a day the family has to exist on per person, might or might not pay rent.

Eviction Came Monday Eviction from the house at 1492 23rd avenue east came Monday as the result of the Casteel family being 16 months in arrears with their rent. John Chapman of Doreau owns the property.

"We just couldn't pay rent and eat on, on the wages Mr. Casteel gets," said Mrs. Casteel, Tuesday morning. "You can figure for yourself just how far $44 will go on a family of eight, when you have to pay for groceries, lights and water, rent, and try to keep your children in school. There's not much money left for clothes on that."

With their bedstead set up, the family camped Monday night in the open, with the four boys, Muriel, 11, Floyd B. Eliza, 8, and Evelyn, 3, and two girls, Alvina, 5, and Evelyn, 2, sleeping on available extra bedding. The family was given breakfast by neighbors. Several offers of help have come by Eugene people, Mrs. Casteel said, to take the children until a house could be found, but it was refused, Mrs. Casteel said, because the family couldn't leave their stuff on the parking.

Job Was Shifted Conditions came to a head for the Casteel family recently when Mr. Casteel, as a result of being shifted in the WPA work, got in late on a job and only received $2.20 so far this month, but is to receive the remainder July 28.

Miss Bernice Bainard of the WPA social service division is to be in Eugene Tuesday afternoon and will meet with the Casteels at 3 o'clock to consider their case.

AL SMITH CONFERS WITH GOP'S LEADER CHICAGO, July 21.—(AP)—Republican Chairman John D. M. Hamilton upon his return from a conference in the east with former Governor Alfred E. Smith today said that this was one of the subjects discussed when the two met yesterday in New York.

The former New York governor and democratic candidate for Al presidency in 1928 announced prior to the democratic national convention that he might "take a walk" if President Roosevelt's present policies were continued.

Hamilton said he "did not care to go into detail" about how former Governor Smith will participate, although he explained that this was one of the subjects discussed when the two met yesterday in New York.

A tour of the west, by air, was planned starting Aug. 3, he said, to "cover every state west of the river, with the possible exception of Arkansas."

His itinerary starts with Minnesota, then through North Dakota, Montana, Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Nevada, California, heading back to Arizona, then New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Missouri.

Rangers Recover Body of Youth Who Slipped Into Crater KIAMATH FALLS, Ore., July 21.—(AP)—Park rangers today had recovered the body of Warren Bowden, 10, tourist from Portsmouth, Va., who yesterday plunged nearly 1000 feet from the rim of Crater lake.

The rangers labored nearly six hours to bring the body up from the deep pit that is Oregon's principal natural wonder.

With two companions, Bowden had sought to climb down the crater wall in order to go swimming. About half way down, he missed his grip and plunged downward. Had the incident, they might have taken a broad safe trail nearby.

City, County Crews To Cut Rank Grass High, rank grass on vacant lots and parking strips will be cut by city and county crews, it was announced Tuesday by W. C. Chubb, Jr., city engineer.

The grass is considered a menace, as it constitutes a fire hazard and in some instances obstructs vision at street corners.
