"PIN AND BALL" CONTROL SOUGHT

sation before coming out definitely with a plan.

State Senator R. C. Wheeler, of Pleasant Hill, was not at home.

According to Representative Hill the taxation angle as well as the moral questions involved will require study from the legislators. Only part of Oregon's municipalities license the games at all; their fees vary. In most cases they represent only a small percentage of the revenue, whereas other industries with comparable revenues are taxed very severely.

While legislators were pondering the question, and the best avenues for regulation, further local airing of the problem of ball-and-pin machines appeared forthcoming with the promise of John Durr, secretary of the chamber of commerce, to put the question on the weekly noon forum luncheon as soon as possible. Although the schedule for the forums is filled for the next two weeks, he hopes to place the topic on a forum the last of this month. "It is a vital issue, beyond question, and I think that a forum on the subject would be most pertinent and interesting," said Mr. Durr Monday.

Any further action by the city council at its meeting Monday evening was termed improbable by Mayor Elisha Large, who said, "As far as the city is concerned, there is nothing further to be said. It was only two weeks ago that the license fees were raised from $2 to $5, and at that time several objections were heard from councilmen on the raising of the rates."

and seizure of a munitions factory in Oviedo province.

March From South Starts

The Guadarrama mountain chain to the north of Madrid, a protecting semi-circle of rocks and mad-made fortifications, was quiet. But in the south, where insurgent forces were reinforced by Moroccan troops in spite of the shell fire which loyal vessels rained on the transports of the rebel leader, Gen. Francisco Franco, the march on Madrid was reported in full swing.

(Rebel headquarters at Burgos announced Franco's troops had taken positions in the hills surrounding Badajoz for an assault on the community in mopping up operations during the march northward.)

In the far north loyal garrisons at San Sebastian, Bilboa, Irun and other seaboard cities fought desperately to prevent rebel access to the sea which would permit the importation of additional arms and ammunition.

The town and province of Santander, on the Bay of Biscay, have fallen before rebel attacks, the insurgent radio station at Tetuan, Spanish Morocco, announced.

Fascists claimed a victory at Heusca in northeastern Spain incident to the efforts of Barcelona loyalists to wipe out rebel opposition in that area and eventually to capture Zaragoza, the rebel stronghold.

A final exodus of all Americans whose business did not require their presence in Madrid was scheduled for tonight. Between 30 and 40 Americans, mostly women and children, plan to leave for Valencia to board the United States cruiser Quincy. Only about 100 Americans will remain in the capital.

BARRYMORE NAMED IN ASTOR SCANDAL

Broadway dramatist, who has been subpoenaed by Dr. Thorpe's lawyers.

Much of the morning session was devoted to questioning Miss Astor concerning her relations with Kaufman — a relationship that she has testified was "condoned" by Dr. Thorpe.

Hollywood buzzed with rumors over the week-end that a settlement might be reached in the case in an effort to keep from public scrutiny the actress' diary, which Anderson has said contains the names of a number of prominent theatrical people.

Irving Thalberg, the producer declared "I know less about this case than anyone in Hollywood," when asked concerning reports he and his actress-wife, Norma Shearer, were intervening to effect a truce.

Kaufman was on Thaberg's yacht off Santa Catalina island when he was served the subpoena in the case.

Anderson was permitted to question Miss Astor at length:

Q—At the time you had this conversation with Dr. Thorpe, when you said he had condoned your action with George Kaufman, was anything said as to what conduct you had had with George Kaufman.

A—No, inasmuch as it had no bearing on the issue. He possibly mentioned it—that he could use it against me.

Q—Was there nothing said about your conduct with George Kaufman.

A—I am not sure.

Q—Don't you recall Dr. Thorpe telling you that you had been living with George Kaufman in various places in the United States?

A—No, because that is not true.

Q—Didn't he tell you that you had been living with George Kaufman at Palm Springs?

A—No he didn't, and that is untrue.

Q—Well didn't he tell you that you had been seeing George Kaufman at the Beverly Wilshire hotel?

A—Yes, because I told him so.

Q—When did you have the second conversation with Dr. Thorpe about George Kaufman.

A—I don't know. There was a constant discussion about it. I constantly said it had nothing to do with the divorce.

Q—What did he say.

A—He said he intended to use it to get what he wanted.

Q—Did you ask him not to bring the name of George Kaufman into the divorce?

A—I said it was an unreasonable, ridicuous move on his part to drag in somebody who had nothing to do with it.

Questioning Miss Astor about her home life in Hollywood, Anderson asked:

Q—While you were living at the Tower Road address, did you ever drink liquor in the presence of your child?

A—I might have had a dinner highball while she was around.

Q—Did any of your guests ever drink liquor in the presence of your child?

A—I suppose so, but nobody was ever drunken.

Q—Is it not a fact that John Barrymore visited you these while the baby was present?

A—Yes, it's quite true.

Q—What was the first time?

A—I don't recall the date but it was the day he arrived back from his famous transcontinental trip.

Q—How many times did he visit you?

A—It seems as though it were twice. He was talking over his troubles.

Q—Could you say if he were drunk?

A—He was not drunk.

Q—Was Marilyn there while he was present?

A—Marilyn was in the patio.

"Is this the time Mr. Barrymore fell over Marilyn?' Anderson asked.

"I don't know, because it didn't happen." Miss Astor replied.

Q—How long did Mr. Barrymore stay the first time?"

A—Oh, about an hour.

Q—How long did he stay the second time?

A—I don't know. Not very long.

2 Dogs Poisoned, Children in Danger

Two dogs, one a valuable Irish setter and the other a mongrel, belonging to A. Other dogs and a number of cats in that neighborhood have also been poisoned, Mrs. Tanner told the officers.

Mrs. Tanner said she reported the circumstance for the reason that the lives of her two children, one five years old and the other 17 months old, are endangered if persons are putting out poisoned meat or bread or other foodstuffs for the dogs.

PORTLAND, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The navy cast off lines and a score of greyhounds of the sea slipped down the Columbia river today, bringing to an end a week in the harbor here. It was estimated that more than 100,000 visitors went aboard the ships to see how Uncle Sam runs his destroyers and cruisers. "The fleet should come to Portland for a visit at least once a year because the city as a liberty port is unbeatable," was the farewell remark of Lt. F. J. Nelson. "The attitude of the city shows the inhabitants know our men are an earnest group engaged in serious work and not a bunch of hell-raisers."

A step towards clearing up many muddles of duplication of clubs in the same community was made when the convention voted to authorize the state area manager not to grant a new club a charter until he investigates it. In the future no club will be given a charter if it solicits members from other authorized Townsend clubs.

When Maytag introduced the new aluminum tub washer, with Gyratator washing action, new speed and gentleness were brought to home washing. But there is another reason why a Maytag makes the clothes so clean and white. It is the sediment trap underneath the Gyratator in the bottom of the tub. The grit and grime collect in this trap, instead of being washed back into the clothes. This is just one of many advantages which won world leadership for the Maytag. Each week a Maytag creates savings to help provide the easy payments. Any Maytag available with gasoline Multi-Motor.
