SUMMER CONCERTS TO START MONDAY
 Many local music lovers are looking forward to making weekly trips to Portland during this month and next, to attend the stadium philharmonic concerts scheduled for Monday evenings during July and August in the Multnomah civic stadium. These six concerts are among the outstanding musical events scheduled for the entire country this summer, as each concert will be conducted by a world-famous conductor and will feature distinguished guest artists as soloists, among whom will be John Charles Thomas, America's favorite baritone; also one performance of the brilliant William F. Christensen ballet.

Obituary
Lewis M. Haney
 COTTAGE GROVE, July 4.—(Special).—Lewis M. Haney died Monday evening at his home, 710 Monroe street in Cottage Grove. He was born January 19, 1855 at Saline, Ohio. He was married to Mary S. Lundy at Sidney, Neb., September 13, 1883. Mr. Haney had resided here 17 years, coming to Cottage Grove in 1920 from Julesburg, Colo. He was a retired carpenter. Mr. Haney had been a member of the Presbyterian church. He is survived by his wife, Mary Haney, and two of their seven children, Mrs. F. S. Gordon of Seibert, Colo., and Glen H. Haney of Eugene.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Mills chapel, with Rev. James A. Smith officiating. Interment will be in the Masonic-Odd Fellows cemetery.

Mrs. Clarinda Easton
 Mrs. Clarinda Elizabeth Easton died Monday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Esther Luehring, Springfield.

Miss Clarinda Keys was born in Chicago, Ill., July 28, 1888, where she lived until 11 years ago when she came to Springfield. In 1904 Mrs. Clarinda Martin married Robert Hunter Easton in Chicago.

She is survived by one son, Foster P. Martin, Chicago; three daughters, Mrs. Ruth Thompson, Chicago; Mrs. Grace Leathers, Springfield; and Mrs. Esther Luehring, Springfield; two brothers, William Keys, Rockford, Ill., and Roland Keys, Olney, Kan.; also, four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements will be made later by the Phil Bartholomew chapel in Springfield.

Funerals
 Kathryn J. Gillespie
 Funeral services for Kathryn J. Gillespie will be held Wednesday afternoon at the Poole chapel in Springfield, with Mrs. Walter Robertson in charge of the Christian Science service. Interment will be in the Greenwood cemetery.

Pomona Grange Cans Fruit For Corvallis Children Farm Home
 A project of canning fruit for the children's farm home at Corvallis is being sponsored by the home economics committee of the Lane county Pomona grange. Already more than 1000 quarts of fruit have been pledged and it is expected that many hundred quarts in addition will be canned before the season is over.

The home is furnishing the jars and after they are filled by the farmers' wives will collect them. Mrs. Effie Wheeler is chairman of the Pomona grange home economics committee and is directing the project.

The Corvallis home is conducted by the W. C. T. U. and depends largely upon such donations for support.

The per capita income of $3.9 per cent of all Indians in the United States is less than $200 a year.
