WASHINGTON, July 13.—(U.P.)—James Roosevelt, the president's secretary and eldest son, denied emphatically before the congressional tax inquiry committee today that he ever had utilized foreign personal holding companies for tax reduction purposes.

The committee promptly voted to side-track a republican demand that young Roosevelt's income tax returns be investigated.

The president's son appeared without advance notice before the committee to refute charges made last week by Rep. Hamilton Fish, R., N. Y., that he had been interested in foreign personal holding companies for the purpose of reducing his income tax payments.

"I want to state that neither now nor at any time have I had any connection with foreign personal holding companies," Roosevelt told the committee.

Plane Is Forced Down at Florence; Lands in Siuslaw

FLORENCE, July 13.—(Special)—Airplanes are getting to be quite a common sight in Florence these days. When the air show was in Marshfield, several of the planes flew this far north, circled, and went back. However, Monday brought a plane closer when Sovia Marchetti was forced down in his seaplane on the Siuslaw river one mile up the river from the coast guard station. The coast guard cutter steered it up the river on the tide, and it is now anchored behind the new Legion hall, just below the bridge. The seaplane No2OK, belongs to the Alaskan Airways, and Mr. Marchetti was flying from San Francisco to Seattle when he was forced down here because of two strong head winds. He plans to take off as soon as the wind goes down.

Boy Scout Force To Police Pageant

The Eugene police department will be augmented during the Oregon Trail Pageant week-end by a force of Boy Scouts, it was announced Tuesday by Carl Bergman, chief of police.

"There is no reason why these boys cannot function splendidly in helping the regular police force," Mr. Bergman declared. "All who are in town for those three days should co-operate in maintaining law and order."

He called attention of alleged incidents in which citizens were said to have defied the youthful officers. "As far as the police department is concerned, the boys are to be obeyed, strictly," Mr. Bergman said.
