BONNEVILLE BILL NEARS APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Congressional legislation to authorize completion and operation of Bonneville dam reached the final stage of approval today when house and senate conferees agreed upon the terms of the bill.

Senator McNary (R-Ore.), who handled the legislation in the senate, said the house conferees had accepted the senate bill "in toto."

He said he would call up the conference report for senate approval immediately. This would send the measure to the house for final action.

The bill, as finally agreed upon, authorized the appointment of a $10,000-a-year power administrator; places the army engineers in charge of the giant Columbia river dam, its power house, shiplocks and fishways; provides for establishment of uniform rates, or rates uniform over prescribed transmission areas; reserves until 1941 fifty per cent of the power to co-operatives and other public bodies; and sets aside $500,000 as a continuing fund with which to finance initial operation of the project.

The power administrator, to be appointed by the interior secretary, would have authority to designate which generating units should be operated by the army engineers. He also would have authority to order the army engineers to make additional generating installation provided congress supplies the necessary funds. Rates will be determined on the basis of cost and subject to the approval of the power commission.

The first successful parachute drop from a balloon was made on Oct. 22, 1797, by Jacques Charles. When released from his weight, the balloon burst and the parachute descended at a great rate of speed, but he made a safe landing.

NEWS ODDITIES

POLICE GEOGRAPHY

(By the Associated Press) RICHMOND, Va.—Frank Moran, secretary to State Police Superintendent H. B. Nicholas, told this one today: A rookie state patrolman, feeling the influence of his badge and gun, stopped a tourist car which was several inches out of the right highway lane.

"Where are you from?" he demanded. "Cincinnati," replied the tourist.

The new officer smiles triumphantly. "Well, buddy, suppose you explain why you've got Ohio tags on your car."

CALLING ALL CARS—MISTAKE CHICAGO—When radio sets in several hundred police squad cars blurted out "One, two, three, four, 80 down, stand up," officers perked up their ears.

But there was really excitement when the voice from the loud speaker said: "I should like to cut myself a piece of throat. If I ever get you by the neck something serious is going to happen."

Calls to the central police station elicited the information that policeman Harry Gleason, radio technician, had been testing the equipment. He had forgotten to pull the disconnecting switch.

NEXT BEST THING SALT LAKE CITY.—William Gulbskov's white leghorn hen didn't cry when her eggs failed to hatch. She adopted three kittens.

CRAB DISH COLUMBIA, S. C.—Former Governor John G. Richards said he saw a tobacco-chewing crab at the beach. Richards said someone threw the crab, a pet, a burning cigar stub. The crab beat out the fire, ate part of the cigar and dragged the remainder to its hole.

PINCH-WHISTLERS BERKELEY, Cal.—Oh, gomme a truck, a big red truck, "And gimme a five-ax, too—" "And I'll go wahoo, wahoo—" "W-a-ahoo!" That's just what Berkeley firemen did. Their siren quit.

HIS FOR KEEPS SALEM, Ore.—When a man complaining his horse had been stolen four years before, Van Winkle held the Oregon statute of limitations rendered the thief inamut from prosecution.

SHOCKING! PHILADELPHIA.—The zoo here has put five electric eels to work. Two electrodes, a bit of wire and a bulb have been rigged up. The eels, touching one electrode, light the bulb. Each generates up to 500 volts of electricity, attendants in the reptile house estimate.

HEARTY EATER FALES CITY, Neb.—Three youths were hauled before County Judge E. E. Durfee for the theft of six chickens. "What did you do with them?" the judge asked one of the boys. "We sold them to a sideshow performer who eats live birds," came the reply. The judge ordered the oldest of the youths to stand trial.

FARMED OUT BLAIRSBURG, Pa.—Gerald Brown of Des Moines worked one day on the C. L. McLaughlin farm and returned home thoroughly convinced he is no farmer. Warned not to drive his team too closely to the threshing machine, Brown made that mistake and one of the horses lost its tail. Warned next not to get too close to a colt in the barn, he paid no attention. The colt kicked him out of the stall, Brown left for the city by nightfall.

LEAVE ON TRIP SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 13.—(Special)—Mrs. Charles Cornell, Mrs. W. A. Taylor and Mrs. Marion
