

STANFIELD SLAPS AT MARTIN MOVES

PORTLAND, Aug. 12.—(Special)—Former Senator Robert N. Stanfield charged in an interview here that "like other amiable and complacent governors," Governor Charles Martin was playing politics with eastern Oregon grazing lands at the expense of the irredeemable school fund.

He referred to a current controversy over the method of consolidation of 700,000 acres of state-owned lands through exchange with the federal government.

Stanfield opposed the recommendation of a committee of nine that the land be sold on the basis of availability for grazing purposes, contending that fewer large sections would result in more revenue from rentals.

KEITH'S SHOE REPAIR

In the City of TOMORROW

you'll swing into "Main Street" at 50—

predicts NORMAN BEL GEDDES, Authority on Future Trends

"Main Street won't be a 'stop street' in 1960," says Mr. Geddes.

"Conveniently located ramps will feed traffic from Local Streets into Express Streets at speeds up to 50 miles an hour.

"Local Streets will be made wider by the elevation of sidewalks and the elimination of curb parking. You'll walk, shop and cross streets on the second-story level.

"Cars will park... trucks will load in open areas beneath buildings."

.but TODAY, 4 miles in 5 are Stop and Go

DID YOU KNOW that one stop can waste enough gasoline to drive your car 5 city blocks? And 30 stops a day is the nation-wide average!

Mile for mile, stop and go is the most expensive kind of driving you do!

While traffic authorities plan "the City of Tomorrow," Shell engineers have developed a fuel, Super-Shell, to meet today's driving problem today!

They have found a way to rearrange the chemical structure of gasoline... actually to balance it.

Automotive engineers use the term "motor-digestible" to describe Super-Shell, because at all motor speeds it is converted so quickly, so completely into power.

You'll cut the cost of your stop and go by the regular use of Super-Shell. There's a Shell dealer near you.
