Obituaries

Mrs. Elizabeth Hillman HALSEY, Oct. 1.—(Special)—Mrs. Elizabeth Hillman died this week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Irvy McCord, two and one-half miles north of Halsey. She had been a resident of this section for many years.

Funeral services are to be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. in the Brownsville-Starr funeral chapel, Rev. Mr. Geil of Portland officiating. Burial will be at Seaside.

Mrs. Hillman was born in England. Her husband, Samuel Hillman, died several years ago. Mrs. Hillman is survived by three sons, Henry Hillman of Shelton, Wash., Daniel Hillman of Silverton, and Theodore Hillman of Brownsville; two daughters, Mrs. Cecil Burke of Miles City, Montana, and Mrs. Irvy McCord of Halsey; 21 grandchildren; eight great grandchildren.

Charles Johnston
Charles Johnston, injured last Sunday when a tractor tipped over on him, died Thursday evening at the Sacred Heart hospital, age 19 years. He was born February 22, 1918, in Iowa, and had lived in South Dakota before coming to Lane county in June, this year.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnston, also four sisters and a brother in South Dakota, and another brother, Virgil Johnston of Dayton, Ore. Funeral arrangements will be in charge of the Veatch chapel.

Experiments now under way ultimately will result in elimination of much of the glare from automobile headlights and thereby reduce substantially the present high hazards of night driving.

NEW CONSTABLE
TAKES UP WORK

Mark Hathaway, newly appointed constable, took up his duties Friday and about the first case he had anything to do with was the trial of a civil case in the justice court. The constable's duties in such a case are to empanel a jury and subpoena witnesses.

The constable will have his office in the county court room, where the late John L. Marsh had his office for a number of years, and his telephone number will be 58, the same as that of the county court.

With the appointment of Hathaway, who was chief deputy in the sheriff's office, Bert H. Hulegaard is advanced to that position and Neil Gillons, license deputy, takes his place. Lloyd Mattison, one of the tax deputies, takes Gillons' place and C. L. (Jack) Curtis, who has been special deputy for some time, goes into the tax department in Mattison's place.

More than 500 men owe their lives to an overgrown silken umbrella known as the parachute. All these men who are living are members of the Caterpillar club. Every member must have saved his life with a parachute.

In the nine years after 1928, domestic air lines of this country carried four and one-half million passengers 362,000,000 miles and cracked up 55 times. Passenger death total was 181, or one passenger death for every two million miles traveled.

Some 20 per cent of the fuel energy of an automobile is lost through incompletely burned fuel.
