

ROOSEVELT ADDRESS SAID CONTRIBUTION TO PEACE OF WORLD

By The Associated Press
President Roosevelt's address in Chicago indicating aggressive nations was hailed in foreign countries Tuesday night as an important contribution to world peace.

British officials termed it "very significant" and in London it was regarded as certain that cabinet ministers in an important session would discuss it at length.

Sources close to the British government said the American executive's speech tended to reinforce the British and French demand, at present in the hands of Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy, for removal of foreign volunteers from Spain's civil war.

Comment in foreign capitals was restricted largely to general terms pending receipt by officials of the text of the address.

ington cabled copies of the speech to United States representatives abroad, to be made available to any foreign power desiring to study it.)

In Geneva, League of Nations' statesmen regarded the League's condemnation of Japan for the Sino-Japanese conflict as made especially forceful by President Roosevelt's declaration.

In Paris, a foreign office spokesman characterized it as marking the "real entry of the great moral force of the United States" into the world's troubled affairs.

Strengthens Peace
"The speech will have tremendous repercussions," he said. "The full backing of the United States for nations who are working to preserve peace means that they will be greatly strengthened."

Officials in Berlin were loath to comment pending receipt of the full text but there was a tendency to assume the president referred principally to the far eastern situation.

In Rome, the peace motif in the president's address was emphasized. Italian officials called attention to Premier Mussolini's recent speech in Berlin in which he expressed belief peace would result from his meeting with Chancellor Adolf Hitler.
