Robert Taylor Is Starred In Mac Main Feature

Replete with action, laughs and fine characterizations, "A Yank at Oxford," now screening at the McDonald theatre, offers Robert Taylor his most convincing role to date.

In presenting Taylor in the title role as the cocky all-star athlete who comes to Oxford to "teach the natives" and himself learns plenty in return, "A Yank at Oxford" affords the star his greatest opportunity, his flair for comedy and his ability to handle genuinely dramatic scenes.

Lionel Barrymore, as Taylor's father, and Maureen O'Sullivan, as the English undergraduate whom the hero meets at Oxford, lend their accustomed polished performances, while in the British players who also have leading roles audiences may note at least two potential stellar "finds" of tomorrow. Vivien Leigh, as the "other girl," reveals a flashing, yet, subtle personality which may well set a new style in "vamp-comediennes." Griffith Jones, as the Britisher whose enmity for Taylor motivates much of the plot, looms as a most personable leading-man discovery, stalwart in appearance and sensitive in his performance.

Going beyond the headlines for its thrilling theme, and behind the barricades of China's amazing city within a city for its teeming thrills, "International Settlement" timely story of today's danger zone, is also on the McDonald program. Dolores Del Rio, George Sanders, June Lang and Dick Baldwin are featured in the 20th Century-Fox picture.

Powell And Rainer Starred In Hit Now At Mayflower

William Powell and Luise Rainer are co-starred in another dramatic adventure story of international intrigue, in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's adaptation of Baroness Orczy's novel, "The Emperor's Candlesticks," which comes to the Mayflower theatre for the next three days. George Fitzmaurice directed. John Considine, Jr., produced.

This romantic novel starts in Vienna after the kidnapping by socialists of Nicholas, last of the Czars, when he was a mere twenty. Powell, as socialist who hates Russia, is commissioned to carry a message offering release of the Czarvitch in exchange for the release of socialist prisoners.

He hides his papers in one of a pair of candlesticks once used for this purpose by Marie Antoinette. Miss Rainer as a secret agent for the Russian police conceals papers in the other candlestick. The story then revolves into an exciting race between these two for the candlesticks which are stolen by thieves who do not know of the papers within them.

JOE E. BROWN'S latest comedy success, "Wide Open Faces," is now playing at the Heilig theatre. Joe is seen above in a scene from the film, which casts him as a rube detective.

ENDING a long and successful showing in Eugene is "Radio City Revels," which leaves the Mayflower theatre after Sunday's showings. Bob Burns and Helen Broderick, seen above, are starred.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS

"Wide Open Faces," New Joe Brown Film, At Heilig

There is much gaiety on the screen at the Heilig theatre these days, for Joe E. Brown is back, and he has brought with him a rib-tickling story and a cast that does no end of good. Joe has dish-ed out heaps of fun in his career, but rarely has he been as generous with his helpings as he is in Columbia's "Wide Open Faces," which takes its first local bow Sunday.

As an amateur rube detective, Joe can get in plenty of trouble, and his current story finds him in just such a role. He gets mixed up with a wholesale shipment of metropolitan gangsters quite by accident, and in no time at all the situation is well out of hand.

Such able and attractive performers as Lyda Roberti, Alison Skipworth, Jane Wyman, Alan Baxter, Lucien Littlefield, Berton Churchill, Barbara Pepper and Sidney Toler do much to enhance the general merriment. It is a well stocked cast.

Walterville Mothers To Give Carnival, And Program

WALTERVILLE, March 12—(Special)—The mothers of the Walterville grade school children are sponsoring a carnival and free program March 25 for the purpose of sending club children to Corvallis to the 4-H summer school. Four half scholarships is the goal for the carnival. The carnival is to be a penny affair and in the evening a checker tournament will be held. All checker players, champions and otherwise, are invited to enter the tournament.

Mrs. Milton Ashley is chairman for the food and refreshments. Mrs. E. M. Neer for ways and means, and Mrs. A. E. Peters for the fancywork.

The date for this evening's entertainment was set for April 1st but because of other activities in neighboring vicinities, the date was changed to March 25.

THE last picture made by the late Jean Harlow will be shown at the State theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. It is "Saratoga," and Clark Gable is co-starred with the glamorous blonde.

"True Confession" Playing At Rex

A husband who'd rather be poor for the rest of his life than ever tell a lie, plus a wife whose chief delight in life is thinking up new whoppers, get themselves into the year's most hilarious collection of laughs and mixups in Paramount's gay new comedy-romance, "True Confession," which opens Sunday at the Rex theatre. The wife is Carole Lombard, the husband Fred MacMurray, and John Barrymore, co-starred with the romantic team, plays an eccentric detective who threatens to blackmail Miss Lombard. "True Confession" was directed by Wesley Ruggles.

The excellent work which John Boles did in "Craig's Wife" is now reaping rich rewards for him. For it was because of this that he was signed by Samuel Goldwyn for the leading male role in "Stella Dallas," which is the current attraction at the Rex theatre.

Barbara Stanwyck is in the title role and featured in the cast are Anne Shirley, Al Shean, Alan Hale and Barbara O'Neil. It was directed by King Vidor.

The role of Stephen Dallas which Boles plays is the one that first brought Ronald Colman to screen fame in 1925 when Goldwyn produced the silent version of "Stella Dallas."

Big Double Feature Program Playing Now At State

Laughs and tears, thrills and romance, mingle in "Saratoga," co-starring Clark Gable and Jean Harlow at the State theatre. A vivid story of the racetrack, with paddock intrigue, a great race, unusual characters, in which a delicate romance is woven, the play is an ideal one for these particular stars. They hate, fight, and love through an action-packed drama in which much whimsical comedy leaves the heavier moments.

Dick Powell, Warner Bros.' handsome singing star, who was last seen here in the gorgeous "Gold Diggers of 1937" a few months ago, will appear again today on the screen at the State theatre in another immense musical comedy, "The Singing Marine."
