Reserve Officers Report Progress

Substantial progress has been made by the Oregon department of the Reserve Officers Association in the re-organization of the officers of the United States Army Reserve, according to Colonel McLaughlin, chief of the department, at a convention meeting here Saturday and Sunday.

A total membership of approximately 30 per cent of eligible officers was reported by the department. Reserve officers, both active and retired, have taken an active interest in training during the past year, Colonel McLaughlin said.

A report on the national meeting of the association held in Washington last February was presented by Lt. Col. Kenneth Hauser, who declared that the organization has won a high reputation in the national organization.

The committee chairman for the Oregon department, Lt. Col. Spencer, included the following: Legislation, Captain H. R. Galt, Corvallis; resolutions, Lt. Col. Phillips, Marion-Folk; committee and by-laws, Lt. John Norman, Portland; finance, Captain Raymond, Marion; trophies, place and medals, Lt. Fred Greene, Rogue; trophies, Captain R. D. Galt, Portland.

During the afternoon the session of the convention reports, a section of officers and sections of the next convention were scheduled. The annual dinner and ball will be held at the Eugene Hotel Saturday night. The air-ground maneuvers, which 15 planes will take part in, will be held at the Eugene airfield from 9:30 to 12 Sunday.

I'll Tell One

By BOB BURNS
A preacher friend of mine tells that the people today have so many things on their minds that they can't make their sermons. "I'll tell you one thing, if you want to bring it down home who couldn't understand it, it's the church. One day he ran into a man on the street who had been to church and when he asked him 'why?' he said, 'I can't get no sense out of it.' He gave the man a pair of pants and the man said, 'I didn't come any more.' He asked him why he hadn't come and the old man said, 'Well, listen, Rev., let's have a little understanding. How many times will I have to listen to your sermon before you figure them out?'

Washington Solon Pleased With Hess

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(AP)—Senator Schwellenbach (D-Wash.) asserted today that Henry L. Hess was making an "amazing showing" in the Oregon primary for the democratic gubernatorial nomination. Governor Charles H. Martin, Schwellenbach said, "has the state machine and the Portland city machine."

Horse Show to Offer Racing and Jumping

MARGARET THOMPSON likes racing, "the thrill of it," and the Eugene show has three, all of different types. The first event on the program, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the fairgrounds will be a racing race for thoroughbreds. This race was added at the last minute, at the wish of local horse people, who are running the "straight" without the usual "padding" of any kind. A mile is the distance, with the finish in front of the grandstand. The number of horses will remain more or less the same as last year. This is a race in which the horses walk an eighth,

Elam Anderson Denies 'Red' Rule Linfield

Evangelist Brougher Declared Unfair In View Of Situation

McMINNVILLE, May 21.—(AP)—Dr. Elam J. Anderson, retiring president of Linfield college, today attributed student objections to lectures by Dr. Russell M. Brougher, New York evangelist, to a dislike for emotional evangelism rather than to communistic tendencies of undergraduates.

Dr. Anderson denied Brougher's statement that a petition demanding that the faculty cancel the evangelist's campus speaking engagements and that the First Baptist church close its revival meetings and require Brougher to leave town were signed by 14 students.

Student Denies Charges
Paul Starring, named by Brougher as leader of the student objectors, denied that he was a communist or that he had circulated communistic literature in a high school class he taught.

Students said they refused to raise their hands to attest their faith in God because they objected to emotional evangelism. Petitions were circulated after the incident.

Brougher spoke on the campus twice without further demonstration.

Anderson Makes Statement
Dr. Anderson, in a prepared statement, expressed regret at the "discourtesy" to the evangelist and added:

"As to the presence of students sympathetic toward communism, all information points toward the fact that undoubtedly there are some. The proportion in the student body is as low, if not lower, than found in all denominational colleges of the country."

Brougher indicated that the alleged communistic activity on the campus would be laid before the Northern Baptist convention at Milwaukee, Wis., May 26-31. Dr. Anderson, vice president of the organization, said he would welcome the chance to disprove the presence of wide-spread communistic tendencies.

Willamette Flood Control Okayed

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(AP)—The senate commerce committee approved today without major change an omnibus flood control bill passed by the house.

The bill would authorize construction of projects to cost $375,000,000 during the next five years. It would retain the principle of local participation through a contribution of 30 per cent of the cost of lands, easements and rights of way for reservoirs.

The committee rejected proposals to increase or lower the amount of local contributions.

Friday Hottest Day Of 1938 Season

Friday brought the warmest day of the season, the mercury climbing to 81 for the highest mark since September. The maximum has been in the high seventies several times this spring, but Friday was the first jump into the eighties.

Again the doors of animal-land swung open wide Saturday morning as 1869 Lane county children marched with every description of pet in the annual pet parade, sponsored by the Eugene Register-Guard. Nearly 25,000 spectators lined Eugene streets to watch the procession.

Following police escort came Creswell's snappy high school band in red and white uniforms, the music and marching form drawing enthusiastic applause from the spectators.

Then came the dogs—hundreds of dogs—little dogs, big dogs, pedigreed dogs and the usual array of mutts, all behaving in the manner of the French court, a miracle probably due to the militant handling by the owners.

However, at the formation of the parade at Sixth and Willamette streets, several dogs and cats found each other neck to neck and what is a poor dog to do but follow his cat-chasing instinct in a case like that?

25,000 People See Pet Parade, Nearly 2,000 Children March

posses there was when the chicken division passed by! To the delight of on-lookers one bantam rooster expanded his nidget lungs in a lusty crow which could be well heard above the disturbing cackling of his more fully developed brothers and sisters. Some of the most beautiful wagon floats were in this division with gay colored crepe paper covering cages nearly obscuring the fowls inside.

Eugene police and Boy Scouts were on hand to supervise traffic and keep the paraders and their prizes and joys moving in an orderly manner.

The prize list numbered slightly over 200 and each entrant received a serving of Medo-Land ice cream awarded by the Register-Guard. As an added inducement to show off his pet, each child was given the choice of a free show at the Rex, State, or McDonald theatres, or entrance to the Hildebrand United shows at the special kids' matinee.

A complete list of the awards and winners will be given in the Sunday Register-Guard.

Sprague Is GOP's Choice; Hurd and Nielsen Staging Seesaw Battle in Lane

Chase, Hill, Gibson Lead Dale Childs Defeats Mrs. Pague

Lane county democrats remained loyal to Governor Martin by better than 1,000 votes and the republicans in this district helped to build up the big state total which nominated Charles Sprague to fight it out in November with Hess, the new "White House man."

In the main Lane results followed state trends and as the news came that Governor Martin had conceded to Hess interest turned to the local races where the veteran Clinton Hurd and Kenneth Nielsen were staging a nip and tuck battle for the republican nomination for county judge.

Truman Chase, Earl Hill and Angus Gibson seemed to be safely ahead of Dr. Dale for the republican nominations for state representative. Albany's Charles Childs had defeated Hazel Barta Pague for the republican nomination to the joint state senatorship of Lane and Linn.

City Issues Okayed By 2-1 Majority

Eugene's voters who went to the polls Friday gave concrete evidence of their desire for a new city park and a new civic playground and athletic field when they okayed both the Spencer Butte proposal and the South Willamette street athletic field proposal. Both measures carried by nearly 2-to-1 majorities.

Complete and official returns from the city's 31 precincts on the two proposals were as follows:

	Yes	No
Spencer Butte Park	3082	1940
Athletic Field	3445	1669
Voters thereby authorized an amendment to the city charter and called for a one-half mill levy to apply to each project.
City Recorder Cal M. Bryan stated that the matter will be dealt with finally at the meeting of the city council scheduled for Monday night. As the city already owns the tract on which the athletic field will be built it was believed that the council will merely transfer title of the tract to school dis-

Lewis Seeking More Power

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(AP)—John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, predicted today increasing political strength for labor. Speaking at the second convention of the United Office and Professional Workers of America, a CIO affiliate, Lewis said:

"As our union grows in strength we will grow in political strength, because growth in political strength is a natural by-product of the organization of workers to benefit their members and to benefit the still larger group of their fellow workers who are not yet members."

Lewis made no direct reference to the Pennsylvania post-primary situation, in which the White House is trying to reunite factions of the democratic party for the November election.

POOR PORTLAND

PORTLAND, May 21.—(AP)—A mosquito control committee composed of representatives of civic organizations sought today to raise $4000 through private subscriptions to reduce the number of insects pests in the Portland area this summer.

Heavy Portland Vote Main Factor In Dramatic Struggle

BULLETIN
Complete returns from 1,529 of the 1,681 precincts in the state of Oregon give Henry L. Hess 55,398; Charles H. Martin, 49,066; Henry Olsen, 6,940.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 21.—(AP)—Gov. Charles H. Martin, who brought to the executive chair of Oregon a personality that wrote deeply into the state's history, lost his seat today, vanquished by Henry L. Hess, 26 years his junior, after a political battle which made timbered Oregon a nation's stage.

The 74-year-old democratic governor, who retired from a brilliant army career a decade ago as a major general to carve a second and even more spectacular life as a politician, went down to defeat in Oregon's primary election after as thunderous a battle as this state has ever seen.

Hess Margin Nears 4000
When the white-crested old warrior with a heart scarred by an hundred battles saw his lead last night, in which he overtook Hess, melt as the hours grew on and finally reverse to bubble up to a lead for his opponent of 3,890 votes with only 352 of Oregon's small precincts missing, he gave Hess the victory nod.

Thus came to an end a campaign which, through Martin's vigorous entry into the northwest's labor troubles and his resulting barrage upon certain Roosevelt functions and functionaries, drew a number one billing on the nation's political stage.

Sprague To Oppose Hess
The vote on which Martin surrendered was 49,046 votes for the 48-year-old La Grande attorney to 45,156 for himself in 1349 of the state's 1,681 precincts. This threw the baldish former state senator and comparative unknown in many parts of Oregon into the November general election against the former school teacher, Charles A. Sprague, who is editor of the capital's morning newspaper, the Salem Statesman.

To the last, the old warrior
