CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 21.—(AP)—Prospects that domestic harvest operations would proceed more rapidly from now on did much today to bring about late reactions in wheat prices. Advances of 1⅛ cents were more than wiped out.

It was asserted the United States wheat visibly supply had probably reached the low point for the season, and would show an increase in the next report. Just at this time last year, the 1937 low was recorded, and then an increase of more than 121 million bussels from the low to the peak within 90 days.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ⅝-1⅛ low compared with yesterday's finish, July 77-77⅛, Sept. 78-78⅛, corn ⅛-½ down, July 57⅝, Sept. 58¾-½ and oats unchanged to ⅛ off.
