

Wife Of Berry Collapses On Witness Stand

By ARTHUR L. SCHOENI
OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 21.—Elizabeth Berry, 27-year-old wife of Dr. Kent W. Berry, collapsed on the witness stand today under the state's hammering cross examination at the trial of her husband on charges of kidnaping and torturing Irving Baker, 37, former coast guard officer.

Berry, middle-aged Olympia physician, accused Baker of ravishing his wife after a house party last Fourth of July, which Baker denied.

As Mrs. Berry came to her husband's defense for the second day, the state attempted to get her to admit previous intimacies with other men.

Berry, on trial with three other men, beat, tortured and attempted to emasculate Baker with a pair of pliers in a gravel pit the night of August 19, state witnesses testified.

Deputy Prosecutor J. W. Graham conducted the relentless cross-examination of dark-haired Mrs. Berry, former University of Washington co-ed.

"Didn't the doctor slap you and accuse you of having illicit relations with other men?" Graham asked.

"He slapped me, but he just asked who did it," Mrs. Berry answered.

"Hasn't this whole thing grown up out of the doctor's jealousy?"

"No, the doctor has no reason to be jealous."

"Didn't the doctor in a note to you that he was leaving say you embarrassed him at the Shrine convention in Los Angeles?"

"No."

OUTSTANDING newspaper cartoonists were asked to sketch the President for the annual Press Club dinner in Washington. And here's how Mr. Roosevelt looks to Reichhold of the Pittsburgh Press, Herblock of NEA Service, Nixon of the Detroit Free Press, and Seibel of the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Judge Denies Motion For Directed Verdict

Motion for a directed verdict in favor of the defendant in the circuit court case of the state against Charles S. Robinson, accused of larceny by bailie, was denied by Judge G. F. Skipworth Monday afternoon. The case was expected to go to the jury later in the day. Robinson is accused of larceny by bailie of 400 Leghorn hens, 40 hogs and 40 tons of straw, the property of Duane Crabtree.

The jurors are Herbert Downing, Flock Westerfield, Katherine Bean, W. R. Lord, Frank O. Lemley, Arlo Jones, Roy S. Hands, Everett A. Allen, Lucille Crafts, Gilbert Aacher, I. P. Inman and George P. Livingston.

Court will recess until December 5 after this case is finished. It was announced by Judge Skipworth.

Harold Wells to Speak Over KORE

Harold J. Wells will speak over KORE radio station this Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock on the American Legion educational program. In Sunday's paper it was erroneously stated that the speaker would be Gordon Wells.

Numerous Denials

Until she collapsed and ran crying to Dr. Berry's arms, Mrs. Berry made numerous denials from the stand.

She denied telling Mrs. Smith Troy, wife of the prosecutor, she had "a lovely time" at the house party; denied asking Baker to look for Dr. Berry when they came home from the party; denied Baker got breakfast for the party guests the morning of July 5; denied her husband beat her.

She said that when she went to Chehalis July 7 to play golf she had bruises on her body but not on her face.

Mrs. Berry did not resume the witness stand after the morning recess, but was followed by her mother, Mrs. Edward Kevin, stern-faced, white-haired matron of 64 years.

She said she found her daughter weeping on the bed at her home the day after the alleged rape. She said the girl was black and blue all over her body.

Mrs. Kevin denied Prosecutor Smith Troy and Mrs. Berry had a conference prior to a general meeting later at which Berry and his wife and the Kevins met with Troy to decide on a course of action.

Christian Science

"Soul and Body" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Nov. 20.

The Golden Text was, "Ye, in the way of his judgments, O Lord, have we waited for thee: the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee" (Isa. 26:8).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price; therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's" (1 Cor. 6:19, 20).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Science of being reveals man as perfect, even as the Father is perfect, because the Soul, or Mind, of the spiritual man is God, the divine Principle of all being, and because this real man is governed by Soul instead of sense, by the law of Spirit, not by the so-called laws of matter" (p. 302).

Funerals

James E. Jones
James Jones, resident of the McKenzie valley, died Sunday in Salem. Graveyard services will be held at the Leaburg cemetery Tuesday at 2 p. m. The Poole's Springfield chapel is in charge.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will love you to dance and parties.

BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls who are full of pep.

So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to get "one thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders.

Dr. Tully Gives Thanksgiving Talk

We should be thankful as a nation of people, that, despite all our trials over the decades, despite our ups and downs, and changes, we still have the leadership which asks us to take time out to cultivate the grace of gratitude, commented Dr. Norman K. Tully, pastor of Central Presbyterian church, in a Thanksgiving talk for the Kiwanis club, Monday noon. He opened his remarks by reference to President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving proclamation and its appeal to cultivate a sense of gratitude.

Several special thoughts were mentioned by Dr. Tully. First, he said, we should cultivate our gratitude for the blessings of our common life which have come from our Heavenly Father. Whatever way we analyze our fortunate geographical location and our abundance of material wealth, we realize we are not responsible for them, and we should look upon this great material foundation with view of using it to build a greater and happier civilization, he said.

As we regard the blessings, our liberties, opportunities, and culture we all enjoy, we realize that they have come, not so much from our effort but from our brethren beyond the seas, and that realization should teach us sympathy for those still struggling in less favored lands, he added. Thirdly, we have made great industrial progress—albeit we do not always have character enough to use it all constructively—but, that, too, is result of other nations sending many of their trained and skilled artisans here.

Also, we have made progress in education, despite many problems and setbacks, but that progress, too, has been made because other nations long ago had intelligent people and the love of learning. The excellency of our schools today is due to the fact those before us had intelligence, a love of learning, character, and moral earnestness.

Our religion and the purity of its principles have come to us also from afar. Our Declaration of Independence—which we should cherish more than ever due to the destructive movements rocking the world today—came because of the principles and beliefs of those long before us, the speaker said.

All of this we should regard in the light of thankfulness, he said, in referring to the points mentioned above, and in return give accordingly, using these opportunities and privileges and carry on through service, sacrifice, and love.
