University to Offer Variety Of Night Courses This Winter

Courses that cover a wide variety, from such hobbies as photography and metal crafts, to public speaking, art, history, education and languages, will all be offered evenings at the University of Oregon during the coming term, it was announced today by Miss Mozelle Hair, of the General Extension Division. Classes will start January 3.

New courses, which are expected to be of wide interest to a large number of people, include choral reading, under the direction of Elizabeth May Jenks; metal crafts and spinning, to be taught by Professor George B. Cox, of Oregon State college; elementary conversational Spanish, by Dr. Leavitt O. Wright, professor of Romance Languages, and photography, by J. Warren Teeter, university photographer, and Eyer Brown, professor of art.

The metal crafts class, which will be limited to 25, will take up design, shaping and finishing of semi-precious metals, such as copper, brass and pewter. Useful and artistic projects will be planned and worked out.

The Spanish course, which will have for its aim the understanding of conversation in this language, is expected to be of special interest, due to the developments in Mexico and South America. Dr. Wright has lived much of his life in Mexico, and is regarded as an authority on Spanish pronunciation.

Various phases of photography, to suit both beginner and advanced amateur, will be included in the course. Both Mr. Teeter and Mr. Brown have had considerable experience along all lines of this work.

Courses that will be continued from last term include history of painting, by Nowland Zane, professor of painting; public speaking, by W. A. Dahlberg, professor of speech; school administration, by Dr. C. L. Huffaker, professor of education; Oriental history by Dr. Harold Noble, professor of history; psychology, by Dr. Wilbur Hullin, and vocabulary building, by L. Kenneth Shumaker, of the English department.

The classes will meet once each week, and except those in Spanish and photography, will carry two hours of university credit. No credit will be given for the language or photography. More complete information may be obtained by calling the extension division at the university.

Painting and public speaking, Monday; school administration, Oriental history and choral reading, Tuesday; Spanish and metal crafts, Wednesday; photography, psychology and vocabulary building, Thursday.

Roosevelt Students To Give Program

The annual Christmas program of Roosevelt junior high school will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the school. All students in the school and all members of the faculty are taking part in the program, the main feature of which will be a play, "Come Let Us Adore Him." Miss Gertrude Sears and Orest Houghton are directing the program. The mixed chorus and the all-school chorus will sing. Students taking the main parts in the play are Virginia Hesse, Jean Guiley, Andree Manerud, Dorothy Ballard, Don Fox, Bill Cramer, Roland Stuart, Richard McHenry, Mike Miles, Robert Bailey, Peter Tugman, Keith Parks, Ruth Wright, Gene Deuschmann, Dick McLaren, Herbert Baker, Edwin Baker, Janeth Peterson, Jodie Evans, and Marilyn Rowling. There will be no admission charge. Patrons of the school and others are invited.

"Honest Motorist" Found By Trooper

TOPSFIELD, Mass., Dec. 21.—(AP)—The "most honest motorist" has been found by state trooper Stephen Wersoski.

"How fast do you think you were going?" Wersoski asked as he pulled alongside a speeding car.

"Seventy-one miles an hour, officer," replied the motorist. "I was trying to see if this car would make 80."

He'll lose his license for a few days.

U. S. To Give Surplus Wheat To Aid Spanish

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, announced today the surplus commodities corporation was prepared to provide 500,000 bushels of wheat monthly for the next six months to relieve suffering and human misery in Spain. The wheat will be turned over to the American Red Cross which now is attempting to raise funds privately for processing it into flour at a rate of 100,000 barrels monthly.

Drug Swindle Probe Takes Sinister Turn

probably used great sums to hush blackmailers.

Inspector McDermott's tentative theory, calling for a reopening of the slaying of the two Brooklyn men, followed the same line.

Both the Cohen brothers had known Coster-Musica in the lean days before he became a corporation president with a Palatial Italian villa in Fairfield and a 123-foot yacht.

Joseph Cohen spent a year in the death house at Sing Sing as the slayer of Barnett Baggs, poultry merchant in 1914, after Coster-Musica, then working as an investigator for the district attorney, had been instrumental in getting an affidavit from two gangsters confined in Sing Sing implicating Cohen in the case. There was some doubt, however, as to whether the truth had been told and Cohen's sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. Later he was released.

As a result of the affidavit Coster-Musica was indicted on a charge of subornation of perjury but was never brought to trial.

The indictment, McDermott said, was dismissed in 1929, three years after Coster-Musica had become McKesson and Robbins president and had hidden his criminal past.

There was the possibility, the inspector said, that the Cohen brothers, remembering Coster-Musica's part in the case, had stumbled across the fact that the dignified white-haired financier who had slipped unobtrusively into "Who's Who in America" was none other than their old acquaintance, Philip Musica, son of an immigrant Neopolitan barber.

Other angles to case

McMahon said today there "definitely are other angles to this case besides those involving commercial fraud."

Another crony of Coster-Musica's who knew him when he was a world-war spy-hunter was held at the federal building today on a charge of conspiracy to violate federal laws.

The arrest of Benjamin Simon, 49-year-old Bronx salesman with a police record, gave credence to a previously reported story of an old friend who met Musica one day when he was still "F. Donald Coster."

"Well, what are you going to do for me?" the man asked when Musica told how high he had risen since the days of the infamous human hair swindle of 1913 and the dubious dealings in alcohol during prohibition.

"Why didn't you know?" Coster replied. "This very minute you became—" and he named a post in McKesson and Robbins.

Simon has been on the corporation's payroll at $6,000 a year and expenses for five years. Asst. U. S. Atty. McMahon said last night: "I assume he was drawing $6,000 a year for what he knew instead of what he did."

Simon himself said vaguely he

error-elect Sprague and any effort Holman chose to make to secure a definite commitment from the republican governor-elect would have the threat of his permitting a democrat to succeed him giving point to his argument. But Sprague so far has consistently refused to make commitments on any appointment.

Another sticker in the problem is the fact that Holman has mentioned that he is sacrificing hopes for advantageous committee appointments by staying in Oregon and republican leaders realize that if Holman should decide his wishes were not to be followed, he might quit now and allow a democrat on the state board of control.

In order to riddle this particular phase of Holman's position, state republicans have called in Senator McNary, now in Washington, and asked him to arrange Holman's appointments for him. Senator McNary, as minority leader in the senate, could reserve any appointments Holman might wish, as McNary appoints the republican committee on committees. Thus, Holman could stay in Oregon so that a republican could be assured the post and still sacrifice nothing in the way of choice committee jobs in Washington.

Eugene Man Dies In San Francisco

H. J. Uptigrove of Eugene died in San Francisco a few days ago, according to word received here by state police. He left Eugene December 1 by automobile and evidently took a train at some point north of San Francisco, as he was taken ill on the train and was taken to a hospital in San Francisco, according to word received by the police. His local address given in the city directory was 232 Pearl street.

"AMERICAN" by Fostoria

GIVE IT OR KEEP IT BUT CERTAINLY GET IT

Colonial homes are complemented by Fostoria's "American" crystal. Modern homes like it, too. And gift lists minus "American" seem neglected.

For "American" is an authentic reproduction of that traditional design which marked the cozy simplicity of early New England life. Indeed, no crystal pattern is more exquisitely beautiful or so moderately priced... none with a more romantic past or such a brilliant future.

We have innumerable "American" pieces for your selection. Some of these are as little as 50c each. Or a complete dinner service is available, perfectly satisfactory for serving all kinds of hot foods and drinks.

We invite you to see our Fostoria Displays in the Crystal Shop
