ton, representing agriculture. Governor Sprague and Superintendent Putnam are members ex officio.

More Business
Approval of an appropriation of $600 on a one-year experimental basis to pay the travel expenses of a state agent for rehabilitation of tubercular patients was the only item of business transacted by the board. It was announced the State Tuberculosis association would contribute $2400 as salary for the agent who would act as vocational guidance counselor for patients about to be released from the tuberculosis sanatoriums of the state.

These patients frequently are unable to continue in the line of employment followed before suffering tuberculosis. Director Adams explained, and the work of the agent is to aid them in determining a line of vocation to follow upon their release from the hospitals.

During the past five years the work has been under way, it has been demonstrated that by providing the proper vocation for the patient, he was able to make his own way after leaving the sanatorium whereas in instances in which proper vocation was not found, the patient suffered a relapse and had to re-enter the hospital.

Director Adams gave the board an oral report on the work of the vocational school in Eugene, explaining the state board had selected Eugene for the location because of the central location in the state and the fact that the Eugene school board displayed deep sympathy and understanding of the purposes of the movement.

Others Considered
Several other cities were considered, but in none of them did the state board find the response given by the Eugene board, Mr. Adams and Mrs. Robison declared.

Governor Sprague commended the attitude of the Eugene school board and of Eugene citizens in supporting the school.

Following the board meeting the group was taken on a tour of the building by officials of the school.

At noon the state board and the Eugene school board were guests of the school at a luncheon prepared and served by students of the home making classes.

EUGENE I. VAN ANTWERP, Detroit, Mich., national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who will soon visit in Eugene.

Van Antwerp, National Head V. F. W., Coming to Eugene

Willamette post number 293, local unit of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be hosts to their commander-in-chief, Eugene I. Van Antwerp, at a luncheon at the Del Rey Cafe on April 30.

Service in a cavalry unit of the Michigan National Guard, as a buck private, and 18 months with the 16th Engineers, A.E.F., from which he emerged with a captain's commission, features the military background of Van Antwerp, Detroit, Michigan, Commander-in-Chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States for the year 1938-1939.

Sent overseas in 1917, Van Antwerp's service record reveals combat action and front line service at Aubigny, La Thioleye, Oneaux, in the Somme defensive and the Lys offensive.

He received his commission as captain in July, 1918, in France. States, Van Antwerp served as a

Farmer's Dollars Subject Of Talks

Farmer's dollars in Lane county total over $4,555,000, members of the Eugene chamber of commerce were told at the public affairs luncheon Friday noon when Phil Gent, chairman of the chamber agricultural committee, and O. S. Fletcher, county agent, spoke on the subject "The Farmer's Dollar and what it means to the business man."

Mr. Fletcher quoted the federal 1930 census, setting the cash income from farm products in this county at $4,555,000. The income today is probably greater than that but accurate figures are not available, he pointed out.

Of this total, 44 per cent was from sale of crops.

Mr. Gent discussed the poultry industry at a $1,500,000 figure annually in Lane county. He pointed out that three poultry establishments in Eugene paid $1,110,000 in cash to poultry producers in the county for their produce during 1938.

Mr. Gent placed the poultry "census" in Lane county at 300,000 hens and 100,000 turkeys in 1938, and predicted that within the next ten years these figures would be doubled.

a starvation diet for eight years, is familiar.

Oregonians now are getting a pretty good idea on how Sprague feels about things.

Just this week he said he didn't think much of the federal relief policy. Asserting he didn't approve of the capitol landscaping being done by the WPA if it could be done by private contractors, he said:

"The government is creating employment by the WPA. By creating a lot of WPA projects, we force people on the WPA to get jobs. However, if we give this work to contractors, this would permit these same people to get back into private employment."

Another point where he disagrees with President Roosevelt is over federal spending. Sprague believes in a balanced budget. The governor also thinks taxes are way too high, and he believes in free competition.

Young Auto Bandits Back In Portland To Face Will Of Law

PORTLAND, April 21.—(AP)—Five of the six alleged auto bandits captured Monday at Boise, Idaho, after a lawless jaunt across four states, were returned to Portland last night under police guard for arraignment late today on charges of robbery and assault.

The five were Edward Klaus, 24; Vern Jensen, 24, Edna Male-spin, Cleone Alyea and Jewell Smith, all 17. The sixth, Don Bailey, 27, was in Multnomah county hospital with a gunshot wound suffered in a gun battle with Portland police last week. He was flown here from Boise Wednesday.

Chief Criminal Deputy Sheriff Holger Christoffersen said the prisoners were docile on the trip, which was delayed twice by tire blowouts. The prisoners were returned in a police auto and in the maroon sedan Christoffersen said they admitted taking at Vancouver, Wash., after burning one car and abandoning another here.

Weather Bureau, Aeronautics Staffs Take Airplane Trip

The combined staffs of the Civil Aeronautics Authority and the weather bureau station and their wives met at the airport Friday afternoon for a series of flights with Joseph Herral, manager of the municipal airport. The flights were intended to promote air-mindedness and to familiarize the members of the staff with the topography of the surrounding country. Those making the trip also were able to see the radio beam recently installed by the civil aeronautics authority northeast of Eugene.

Ralph L. Hazleton is the operator in charge of the civil aeronautics station and Martin J. Fuerst is in charge of the weather bureau. Members of the radio operator staff are Fred Dobie, George Purves, Anthony Fitzgerald and Sharkey Harrison. On the weather bureau staff are Glenn Crase, Donald Van Ostol and Henry Leaders. All of the radio operators are new residents of the community.
