

Planning Commission Discusses Building Code For City

SPRINGFIELD, June 21.—(Special)—A lengthy discussion on the advantages and possibilities of inaugurating a uniform building code for the city of Springfield was held at a meeting of the planning commission, headed by Severt Jacobson, Tuesday night.

It was decided that the commission should try to get copies of various building codes, and discuss their possibilities at the next meeting.

The group also discussed the planning of the city's streets, and the platting of unplatted areas. No action was taken on this discussion, but was held over until the next meeting.

Columbus Sophomore Wins Five Letters In High School

COLUMBUS, O.—Jack Clifford, 5-foot 10-inch, 165-pound Irish lad, has completed the first lap of what may be the greatest athletic career in Columbus high school history.

Only 16, Clifford has concluded his sophomore year at Aquinas high school, where he was the first five-sport man in the school's and Columbus prep annals.

As a halfback, he scored one-third of his team's points. Playing at the forward position in basketball he tallied 106 points in 10 games to win the league scoring title.

Playing shortstop in baseball, he was the team's third best hitter. In track he participated in the broad and high jumps and shotput.

And although he had no time to practice with the squad, his skill was such that he made the varsity golf team, which gave him his fifth varsity letter.

Women Voters Asked To Endorse Bill

Word has been received by the Lane county league of women voters from the state president, Mrs. Thomas Sharp, regarding the Bloom neutrality bill which the house committee on foreign affairs reported June 13 with only minor amendments. Representative Bloom expects to arrange for house consideration of the bill within the next two weeks, it is stated and senate action will probably depend upon what the house does.

Miss Marguerite M. Wells, president of the national league of women voters, on June 13, commended the house committee on foreign affairs for taking the lead in an attempt to correct the defects of existing neutrality legislation. In a statement sent to state and local League presidents, Miss Wells said: "The Bloom neutrality bill as reported by the house committee on foreign affairs contains substantially the proposals made by Secretary Hull which received the endorsement of the league of women voters."

Pendulum Putting Stroke Aids Craig Wood in Comeback

NEW YORK—Going into a second playoff before being beaten by Byron Nelson for the United States Open championship culminated a great comeback for Craig Wood. A year ago the 37-year-old blood was regarded as washed up. But the Mamaroneck professional got going again on the winter circuit. . . had a fine season . . . regained his old form. He credits his comeback to the development of a pendulum putting stroke and learning to play his shots with the club face more open.
