Prices for 1940 Dodge passenger car models, showing decreases up to $15 as compared with prices of three comparable models for 1939 and no change on other 1940 models, were announced here today by Sigloh-Sawyer, local Dodge dealer. For 1940 Dodge offers two series of models—Special and DeLuxe—with "ready-to-run-at-Detroit-factory" prices, including all Federal taxes, as follows:

Special—Coupe $755; 2-door sedan $815; 4-door sedan $855.

DeLuxe—Coupe $803; 4-passenger coupe $855 ($5 reduction from 1939); 4-door sedan $860 ($5 reduction from 1939); 4-door sedan $905; 7-passenger sedan $1095; 7-passenger limousine $1170 ($13 reduction from 1939).

Prices include all federal taxes and all standard equipment such as bumpers, bumper guards, spare tire and wheel, two tail lights, safety glass, fenders and sheet metal painted to match standard body color, and also "Airloom" seat cushions in DeLuxe models. Cost of transportation, state and local taxes, if any, are additional to the prices as announced.

While prices of certain 1940 models are reduced and others remain unchanged, it was pointed out by Dodge executives that the announced prices represent enhanced values owing to the numerous improvements that have been incorporated in the new 1940 offerings. These include innovations in design which give materially longer wheelbase without increase of over-all length; wider more spacious seats and bodies; doors which give greater ease of
