Hoover Predicts War Dictatorship

Hoover Warns If U. S. Enters War Democracy May Be Lost For Generation

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(UP)—If the United States enters present European war the American people must be prepared to accept an immediate dictatorship and to remain undictatorship for a generation after the war is over "if never," former President Herbert Hoover said Friday.

Hoover, in a speech broadcast over the NBC network, defined himself largely to a defense of the limit of 10 days that the United States limit sales of weapons to foreign nations to those which are used primarily for the defense of their own populations and prohibit the sale of weapons such as bombs, bombing planes and poison gas which can be used against civilians.

Seattle Youth Tells On Bund

Row With Professor Leads To Joining

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A college journalism student who said he investigated the German-American Bund in Seattle, Wash., with the "sanction" of federal authorities told the Dies committee today that two bund members were employed in the Boeing Aircraft factory there, one under a false name.

The witness, Richard T. Forbes, 25, of Aberdeen, described an incident at the University of Washington which he said involved him and a classmate, whom he did not name, in German propaganda activities.

They consulted with officials of the federal bureau of investigation and the customs service and were encouraged to proceed with an investigation, Forbes testified.

The witness said the names of the bund members employed at the Boeing plant were Harry Lechner and Paul Stoll. Lechner, he continued, had been a foreman there for nine years and his name appeared on the company's list of employees. But Stoll, he said, was not on the list and apparently was employed under another name.

He knew Stoll worked there, he said.

Bored By War, Heir Summons Girl Friend

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Tommy Manville embraced Elinor Troy, 23 year old Hollywood beauty, at Newark airport today and disclosed he sent for her because "the war news was boring me."

As Miss Troy jumped out of a specially chartered airliner that cost the asbestos fortune heir $3,000 for the cross-country trip, she rushed to the waiting Manville, who remained by a telephone throughout the night for bulletins of her flight.

Before departing Hollywood, Miss Troy had insisted she was flying east to be married. Tommy denied it last night, saying "four times is enough."

Professor Crosland Gets Stanford Appointment

FALO ALTO, Cal., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Appointment of Dr. Harold R. Crosland of the University of Oregon as visiting faculty member at Stanford university was announced today by Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Stanford president. Dr. Crosland was appointed acting professor of psychology for the winter quarter.

Negro Tells Background of Frankie and Johnny Song

LOUIS, Oct. 21.—(UP)—The story of an aging negro that Frankie and Johnny were sweethearts and that he "shot 'em" did not end with the song, says a St. Louis circuit court judge today.

Testimony was given yesterday by Richard J. Clay, St. Louis, in a $200,000 damage suit against Republic Pictures Corporation by Frankie Baker, 63-old Portland, Ore., negro, who claims she was the original Frankie and Johnny.

Clay testified that he knew of the song, "Frankie and Johnny," and that the film company had defamed her character and invaded her privacy in a film, "Frankie and Johnny," released in 1936.

Clay testified he was a close friend of Johnny when they lived on a street, old bright light street, St. Louis, and that he had at Johnny's house the night of Oct. 19, 1899, shortly after Frankie had killed him for

All Right, All Wrong All Gone

LOS ANGELES, (UP)—Three girls in a sorority house on the University of Southern California campus were awakened by a noise in their room and one of them called out: "Is anything wrong?" A woman's voice answered: "No, everything is all right." When the girls got up, they found their purses and $70 gone.

Searchers Find Smashed Plane

Parachuting Jim Reed Salvages Instruments

Scattered remains of Lieutenant James O. Reed's Northrup attack plane were discovered Friday afternoon by a searching party that had toiled through heavy timber in a six-hour search.

The lieutenant, a University of Oregon graduate, who bailed out 37 miles east of Eugene Friday morning when his motor failed, left for Eugene just before the plane was discovered. He participated in the search until about 3 p. m.

Saturday morning the lieutenant returned to the scene of the crash to check instruments and salvage what he could from the wreck.

The plane, discovered by Ed Woods, old-time McKenzie logger, and Ralph Heath, forest ranger at the Blue River guard camp, was scattered over about 300 yards.

The army pilot plummeted to safety in the trees across the McKenzie from Rio Hogan, home of Dan Nee, Friday morning. He narrowly escaped being hit by his own plane after jumping out 2,000 feet above the treetops. He landed just across the river, fortunately coming down between the trees.

The search party started out after the plane about an hour after the crash. Harassed by heavy timber and lack of exact information on where the giant army attack ship had fallen they searched until three o'clock without finding a trace of the plane.

It was finally discovered, between 3:30 and 4 p. m., about a mile across the river, southeast of Rio Hogan. The major portion of the remains of the smashed ship will probably remain in the hills, since heavy timber and lack of trails make travel very difficult.

Instruments worth salvaging were taken out Saturday morning by forest service men and the lieutenant.

Guard May Be Called In California Strike

MADERA, Cal., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Movement of state troops by airplane into this California cotton strike area was held out as a possible emergency measure today after 18 arrests followed mass meetings of angry farmers and striking pickers.

Adjutant General Patrick J. H. Farrell said at Sacramento that if local peace officers and state highway patrolmen were unable to handle the situation national guardsmen could be sent in by plane on short notice.

Sheriff's deputies, moving through a milling throng of between 2,000 and 3,000 strikers and sympathizers at the county park here, made 17 arrests last night.

Cab-Driver Tells Version Of Ride

A story describing the misadventures of a taxi-cab-riding coed which appeared in Thursday's Register-Guard has brought forth repercussions. Driver No. 7 for a local taxi company informs the Guard that the story gave the wrong impression. He says that he is neither a sincere nor an insincere "highway robber" and that the sum on the meter when the young lady asked to be let out was not some enormous amount, but was away from his call box 12 minutes. He admitted that he did not know the exact location of the address, but says he could have found it within another few minutes.

American Liner In Port After Wild Voyage

President Harding Docks With 73 Injured, Sub Survivors On Board

By JOHN A. MOROSO III NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Twenty-six persons were removed on stretchers from the United States liner President Harding today when the storm-battered vessel arrived after one of the most tempestuous and dramatic voyages in modern maritime annals.

Eyes were blackened, bones fractured and bodies bruised by tumbling furniture and heaving decks when the 13,869-ton liner was caught by a howling hurricane after rescuing the crew of the torpedoed British freighter Heron-spool.

Altogether, 73 passengers and crew members were injured in the storm. All except the 26 were able to walk by the time the ship docked.

A cabin boy, Paul (Red) Johnson, was washed overboard and

Large Crowd Out To Hear Tibbett

The University of Oregon's "greater artist series" started Friday evening with an auspicious opening, Lawrence Tibbett, famous American baritone, singing for the first concert.

A large crowd thronged McKenzie court, a much larger one than usual for the opening of the concert season.

A balanced program was presented, something to suit every taste of the varied audience. Mr. Tibbett was most generous with his encores, too. A highlight of the program was the group of piano solos by Stewart Wille, accompanist for Mr. Tibbett.

George Root, who directs the educational division for the Associated Students activities, reported his office was gratified at the turnout.

The next event for the series will be the American Ballet Cafan-van, directed by Lincoln Kirstein, and to perform here November 20.

Fishermen Can Drop Hooks In Coast Waters

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 21.—(AP)—The State Game commission revoked a previous order today prohibiting angling in coastal streams and lakes from October 15 to April 15.

The commission said it would again consider at its February, 1940, meeting "the adoption of an order restricting the fishing or entirely closing all coastal streams to fishing during a part or all of the winter months as may be deemed necessary to maintain fishing conditions in such streams."

The order was rescinded, the commission said, because of "several petitions" asking winter fishing rights and because many anglers "have already purchased licenses with the expectation of fishing during the present winter season." Notice given, it said, was too short.

American Freighter Brings Sad Survivors to Bordeaux

By IRENE TAYLOR BORDEAUX, France, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A woman watches the body of her husband consigned to the sea from the deck of the American freighter Independence Hall—another had lost her four children.

These were two of the individual tragedies the little American ship brought up the Gironde river on the sea last night. She carried 284 survivors of two torpedoed British ships and their stories revealed a tragic adventure, poignant and dramatic.

The first check-up indicated that 61 persons were missing from the passenger liner, Yorkshire, 10,183 tons, an Indianan, and six or seven from the freighter City of Mandalay, 7,028 tons. All were believed dead.

Last Monday some 400 miles off Bordeaux, the Independence Hall picked up an SOS from the York-shire. She rushed to the position

Oregon Students Tagged As 'O' Burners

Young men charged with attempting to burn an "O" in front of the Memorial Union at Oregon State college early Friday morning were identified here today as University of Oregon students, it was announced by Virgil D. Earl, dean of men.

Since several members of the student affairs committee, disciplinary body of the university, were out of town, no further announcement of what the students may expect was given by Dean Earl. Names will not be announced until action is determined.

The students were caught making the attempt by state college police, and were photographed before being released.

Repealers Would Cut Neutrality Debate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—In the face of outspoken opposition the administration leadership in the senate undertook today to cut short debate on the neutrality bill and speed the measure toward a final vote.

Majority Leader Barkley announced that before the third week of general discussion ended with today's adjournment, he would ask for a debate limitation to be made effective Monday, when consideration of amendments is expected to begin.

"An overwhelming majority of the senate," Barkley told his colleagues, "feels that the time has come when an effort should be made to bring this matter to a conclusion."

Senator Nye (R-ND) and Johnson (R-Calif.), both expressed disfavor of imposing a limitation, however, and an effort to obtain unanimous consent to that end could, of course, be blocked by only one objection.

Weather News

Sunshine broke through the clouds about noon, assuring football fans they would not have to sit through gloomy fog for Oregon's game. The forecast for the week-end follows:

Oregon: Generally fair tonight and Sunday but fogs in west portion; warmer in interior of south-west portion Sunday; gentle northwest wind off coast.

Airport Bureau Record: Minimum temperature, Saturday, 46.3 degrees; maximum temperature, Friday, 68.4 degrees; wind, at noon, Saturday, northwest.

River Bureau Record: Stage of Willamette river in Eugene at 7 a. m. Saturday, 2.7 feet.

Russian Press Claims Turkey In War Orbit

Finns Go To Moscow Hoping To Escape Soviet Domination

By JOE ALEX MORRIS United Press Foreign News Editor Germany and Russia clearly displayed their resentment of Turkey's mutual aid pact with France and Great Britain today.

First official Soviet comment appeared in the newspaper Izvestia which said that, in negotiating the treaty with Turkey, Britain and France had failed to drive a wedge between Germany and Russia but have succeeded in drawing Turkey into the orbit of the war.

In Berlin, Fuehrer Adolf Hitler, after conferring with his envoys to Rome, Moscow and Ankara, planned personal consultations with Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy.

Russia recognized that the treaty creates a new balance of power in the eastern Mediterranean and warned that as the major Black Sea power, Russia would watch carefully anything relating to the Dardanelles approaches to that sea.

The Turks, preparing to ratify the treaty within a week, gave informal warning that unless Russian policies change, Turkey will be drawn closer and closer to the allied cause.

The Turks indicated that Soviet persistence in maintaining its alliance with Germany would damage Russo-Turkish friendship.

Pope Pius XII instructed his Nuncio to Berlin to protest against the treatment of Catholics in portions of Poland under German occupation.

Finns Travel Back Clarification of and possible settlement of Finland's relations with Russia were in prospect as a Finnish delegation prepared to return to Moscow where, on Monday, it will submit to the Kremlin a reply to Russian demands for a "mutual aid" pact. The Finns hoped they would escape Soviet domination.

Their hope was based on the new situation created by the Ankara treaty, pledges of solidarity from Sweden, Norway and Denmark and the interest of President Roosevelt in the Baltic situation.

Hostilities on the western front were at a standstill because of heavy rains. In Paris, military experts asserted that the French early this week had withdrawn voluntarily from lines on German soil because they knew it would not be possible to stage a major offensive at this time of year.

The French war office communiqué described a quiet night on the western front with artillery fire and patrol activity in the sector

Fall Evenings Throw Peak Load on Local Power Plant

Eugene's power system delivered more power to consumers throughout the city Thursday evening than has ever before been used, it was announced by J. W. McArthur, superintendent of the municipal plant.

Increase in the number of consumers due to the growth of the community was responsible for the peak which has been expected by water board engineers for some time. The dark evening, and the coincidental use of power by a large number of consumers at the same time required the extra large amount, they explained.

The instantaneous peak of power delivered, reached just before 6 p. m. Thursday evening, was 9,950 kilowatts, which topped all previous records. The 15-minute high average for the evening was 9,650 kilowatts.

During the time that the record amount of power was being consumed, all parts of the system, including the Leaburg, Waltherville and steam plants, were in operation. The Waltherville and Leaburg hydros contributed 9,650 kilowatts of energy and the steam plant made up about 200 more.

Friday evening a lesser amount of power was consumed with 9,250

Oregon Takes Field Against Gonzaga

Probable Lineup

Before a howling crowd of 6,000 spectators who were mostly Oregon rooters, the Webfoot football team held a hard-driving and deceptively lateraling Gonzaga team scoreless in the first quarter.

Entering the game as underdogs, the Zags showed power and deception to drive to Oregon's four-yard line early in the first quarter. There the Webfoots rallied and held the Bulldogs for downs, after the Gonzaga passing attack muffed for want of receivers.

Gonzaga made three consecutive first downs in their drive down the field. Oregon made two first downs, one by Lefty Bob Smith and the other on a sparkling 15-yard run by Jackrabbit Graybeal.

Coach Tex Oliver, who wisecracked at the outset of the season that he intended to use those three "breathers" against USC, Stanford and California as time up for Gonzaga, had plenty to worry about considering the first quarter performance.

Although the Bulldogs have never beaten an Oregon team Oliver figured it could happen today if the Ducks, who tied USC and beat Stanford and California, try to rest on their oars.
