Parking Meters To Be Ready On December 1

Installation Of Second Type Of Machine May Start Saturday

Eugene's parking meters should be officially clicking off parking minutes by December 1, it was revealed Tuesday by Councilman Ed Bond, chairman of the police committee.

At that time the installation of Dual meters along the west side of Willamette and on West Ninth and Eighth avenues should be completed. George McMorran, local agent, announced Tuesday that all parts for his type of meter had been shipped and should arrive in Eugene Saturday or Monday. He felt that the Dual meters should be installed and ready to go by December 1.

Councilman Bond indicated that the committee desires to begin operations with both types of machines at the same time. He said that the city would probably not ask for the completion of the nickel penny electric meters which will not be installed for some time.

Pennies Dropping

Meanwhile, the Miller meters on the east side of Willamette continued to collect pennies and nickels from curious Eugeneans who either thought that the machines were in operation or just wanted to see how they worked. Receipts on the income of the machines ranged from 60 cents to $1.

City hall officials had not yet taken up the problem of what to do with this income. They reminded Eugene parkers that until the official "go" signal on the meters was given contributions to the meters gave no special parking privileges.

McNary Offers Farm Program For GOP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—(U.P.)—Senate Minority Leader Charles L. McNary, R., Ore., proposed a three-point farm program today which, he said, the republican party could win western states and elect a president in 1940.

"After considerable thought," he said in an interview, "I have arrived at the conclusion that the republican party can be successful if it demonstrates to the farm voters and those dependent upon the farmers that the party is interested, as formerly, in their welfare."

McNary recommended that the following program be written into the party's 1940 platform in "simple language so that all can understand."

1—Equalization of benefit payments under the AAA soil conservation program.

2—Repeal of the reciprocal trade agreement act.

3—Liberalization of the public land policy to give the 14 public land states a greater share of revenues from sales of forests and grazing on the public domain.

Portland Coroner Wants Information On Former Eugenean

The Portland coroner, R. M. Dyson, has written local police seeking information regarding the relatives of John Randel, 30-year-old suicide in Portland Sunday who has been identified as coming from Eugene.

Local police were unable to contact anyone connected with the young man who took his life in a Portland apartment by turning on two gas jets.

He was described by the coroner as being six feet tall, weighing 190 pounds, having sandy complexion, short curly sand hair and brown eyes.

Mr. Randel rented his apartment Nov. 12 and told the landlady he was seeking work.

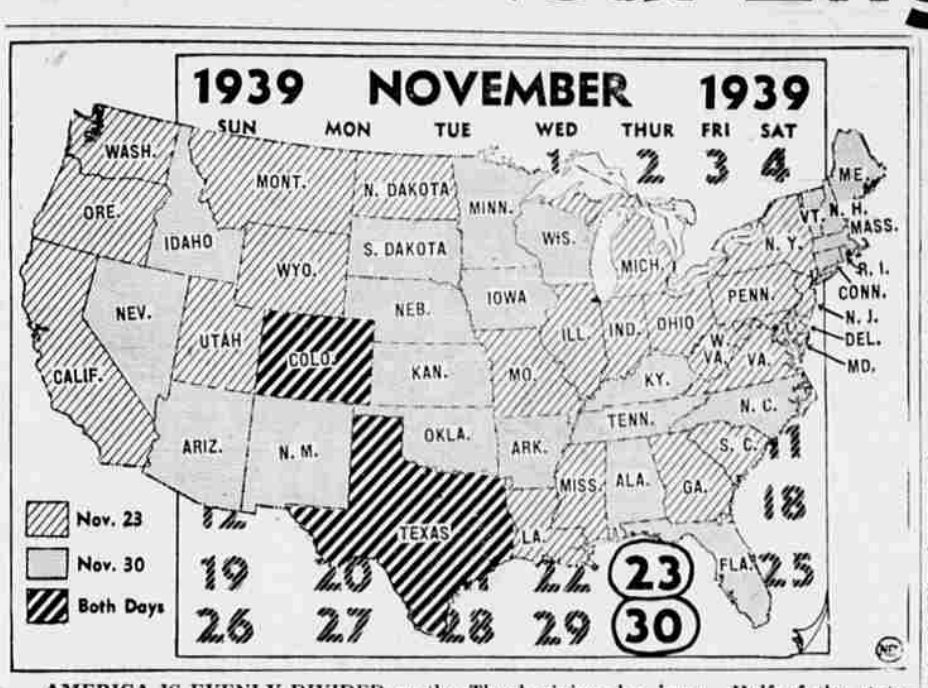
Big Japanese Liner Struck Near England



AMERICA IS EVENLY DIVIDED on the Thanksgiving day issue. Half of the states refused to follow President Roosevelt who will observe his turkey day this Thursday, a week earlier than tradition fixes the holiday. Oregon followed the president. Two states, Colorado and Texas, will have two feast days.

None Thought Lost As Giant Vessel Sinks

Terukuni Maru On Way Out Of London With 208 Aboard

LONDON, Nov. 21.—(U.P.)—A big liner—identified in messages to the Japanese embassy as the 11,390-ton Japanese Terukuni Maru—was blown up off the coast of England today, the 14th victim of intensified sea warfare since Saturday.

The Japanese embassy said messages from Harwich identified the liner as the Terukuni Maru, but gave no details.

It was believed that the Terukuni Maru struck a mine. She carried a crew of 180 and 25 passengers, including one Briton.

The Terukuni was a crack liner of the NYK line, and enroute from London to Japan.

Several nearby ships picked up survivors of the Terukuni Maru, the NYK offices said they had no word of any casualties aboard the ship.

The line said that the vessel carried 28 passengers, making a revised total of 208 aboard.

"After the explosion the liner was partly submerged," one eyewitness said.

"Thereafter it disappeared completely.

"I saw lots of ships racing to the scene from all directions."

The Terukuni Maru, registered out of Tokyo, was built in 1930 in the Mitsubish yard in Japan.

The telephone message from Harwich indicated that the Japanese ship went down in the same area where the Simon Bolivar, the British steamer Blackhill and several other ships have been sunk in the last four days—apparently the center of a floating mine area.

British Agents Nabbed By Nazis As Bomb Plotters

German Prisoner Confesses Placement Of Charge In Cellar

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—(U.P.)—The Nazi secret police tonight announced the arrest of three persons including two "leading" agents of the British secret service in connection with the Munich beer cellar bombing attempt on the life of Adolf Hitler.

The Nazi press had, from the first, charged that British agents were responsible for the Munich bombing and that British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain was at least morally responsible for inspiring the assassination attempt because of his speech calling for an end to Hitlerism.

George Elser, according to the Nazi gestapo, confessed Nov. 14. The bombing was on Nov. 8, the day he was seized.

Worked for 7 Days

Elser said he worked for a week placing the bomb in one of the pillars of the beer cellar and that it was set for 144 hours or six days.

Elser was quoted as saying he planned the crime as far back as September or October of last year. The building of the bomb position (in the pillar) occurred in August, however.

The bomb was taken to the beer cellar seven days before Hitler made his anniversary speech, according to the announced confession.

Elser, it was announced, confessed that on the next day (the sixth before the bombing), he attempted to put the bomb into its position in the cellar but failed.

He failed again in five attempts before the meeting but succeeded about three days before the meeting.

It was announced that he confessed immediately that he had attempted to cross from Stuttgart into Switzerland to meet the persons who had instructed him to place the bomb.

Germany's Export Trade New Target In Europe's War

Retaliation Move Announced By Chamberlain Following Sinking Of 14 Ships Off Anglo Coast

LONDON, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Great Britain will retaliate against Nazi sea warfare which has sunk 14 ships off the English coast since Saturday by seizing German exports on the high seas, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain announced today in the house of commons.

The prime minister's statement, in reference to British charges that Nazis had resorted to "unrestricted" war at sea by use of floating mines, was made as messages from Harwich reported that the 11,930-ton Japanese passenger liner Terukuni Maru had been blown up and sunk.

Previous reports today had told of the sinking of the minesweeper Mastiff and the British trawler Sea Sweeper by mines.

Chamberlain recalled that during the World war the allies had seized German exports on the high seas in retaliation for U-boat attacks on merchant ships.

There had been reports last week that Britain was considering such drastic action as seizing German exports—in addition to the blockade of German imports—but Chamberlain's announcement was surprising because of its possible effect on such neutral countries as Italy.

"Many violations of international law and the ruthless brutality of German methods have decided the government to follow a similar course," Chamberlain said in reference to the allied action in the World war.

"An order in council will shortly be issued giving effect to this decision," he added.

"In the last three days upwards of 10 ships of which some were neutrals were sunk with very serious loss of life by German mines."

Agreement Cited

He charged Germany with violation of The Hague convention regarding use of mines. The convention provided that floating mines could be used only if they became duds after a short period.

Chamberlain, who appeared in the house for the first time in two weeks due to an attack of gout, was cheered as he announced the LONDON, Nov. 21. — (AP) — Gunfire was heard at an undisclosed point on the northeast coast of Britain tonight as air raid sirens wailed, it was announced here.

REDS DETERMINED

MOSCOW, Nov. 21. — (AP) — Soviet Russia disclosed today her Baltic fleet is holding large scale maneuvers from newly won bases in that area. At the same time she warned Finland nothing "will ever break our decision to establish a strong peace all over the Finnish gulf."

GUNS BREAK QUIET

BERLIN, Nov. 21. — (AP) — French artillery abruptly ended a 35-hour silence on the western front today with heavy shelling in the Perl sector, at the junction of the German, French and Luxembourg borders, the official German news agency reported.

NAZIS AFTER OIL

LONDON, Nov. 21. — (AP) — Germany is seeking a monopoly on Rumanian oil, Oliver Stanley, president of the British board of trade, told the house of commons today, as part of a trade drive in the Balkans.

Low Pass Road To Be Widened

State Men Promise Funds For Improvement

JUNCTION CITY, Nov. 21—(Special)—Three miles of the Low Pass summit section of the Siuslaw highway will be widened early next year, members of the state highway commission promised the citizens of Junction City and the Lake Creek valley at a meeting at Junction City Monday night, sponsored by the Lions club.

The grade on both sides of the summit will be widened to 30 feet and the pavement will be widened from 17 feet to 22 feet it was announced by the commission members. The estimated cost of the improvement is $55,000.

This improvement will make it safe for all loads of piling or poles up to 50 feet long and will enable the cutting down of the super elevations that now exist on the grade over the mountain.

For some time past lumber and logging operators in the Lake creek section west of the summit have been advocating the improvement of the Low Pass section of the highway. At first it was proposed to bore a tunnel through the mountain or to excavate a deep cut to straighten the roadway over the hump, but this was thought by the commission to be too expensive. Engineers figure that widening the roadway and pavement will be sufficient for the needs of the traffic on this highway. The curves are so sharp and the grade so narrow that it is impossible to haul very long timbers over the summit.

Present at the Junction City meeting were Henry Cabell and Myron Clough, members of the commission, R. H. Baldock, chief engineer of the commission; members of the Lane county court, County Engineer P. M. Morse, Walter Ransom, chairman of the roads committee of the Eugene chamber of commerce, Tracy Stocker of Eugene, Earl Hill of Cushman, and many residents of Junction City and the Lake creek valley.

Creswell Trucker Fined On 2 Counts

E. O. Smith of Creswell was fined $100 each on two counts in the Eugene justice court Monday afternoon on a charge of violating the Oregon Motor Transportation act. He pleaded guilty to hauling as a general carrier without a permit.

The complaint was filed by the Public Utilities commissioner of the state.

Europe's War 'Threatens' Sophomores

The war in Europe has suddenly become very real to sophomores at the University of Oregon. They're threatened by a shortage in pants!

For years the second-year men have donned the familiar "moleskin" pants, a rough and ready garment that not only has been practical but a badge of elevation from the "tin pants" ranks of freshmen.

Now the moleskin pants are almost impossible to buy in Eugene stores. Merchants tell the prospective purchasers to "blame Chamberlain!"

The cloth from which the pants are made comes from England, and the manufacturers there have decided they want it "over there" for something else. American substitutes, they admit, are neither as satisfactory, nor do they sell as well.

Klamath Falls Lad Object Of Wide Hunt

KLAMATH FALLS, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Systematic search for "Sonny" Maxwell, a 4-year-old who wandered away from home Sunday afternoon, was resumed today. Scant hope is held that the boy is still alive after two nights of sub-freezing temperatures.

An estimated 1500 men combed the hills on the east edge of town last night and early this morning but the searchers, on foot, on horseback and in automobiles, armed with flashlights, lanterns and aided by two veteran tracking dogs, failed to turn up a trace of the child.

The dogs lost the boy's trail at the edge of a burn.

A thorough investigation eliminated the possibility the boy might have fallen into the government irrigation canal near his home, officers said. The big ditch contains less than a foot of surface water at this time of year.

Pendergast Is Denied Parole From Jail

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—(AP)—Tom Pendergast, one-time big boss of the Kansas City democratic machine, was denied a parole today from the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas.

A BAD, BAD BOY

NEW YORK, Nov. 21—(AP)—Henry Trieste, 39, plunged to his death from the roof of a six-story apartment house on East 12th street. Police found this note in his room: "I don't deserve to live. I am a bad boy."

Movie Craftsmen Walkout Halted

Temporary Action Affects 35,000 Workers

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 21.—(AP)—A walkout of 35,000 A. F. L. studio craftsmen, scheduled for this morning, was postponed at least temporarily pending further conferences between producers and unionists.

The delay was announced last night at conclusion of an emergency conference on the federation's demand for 10 per cent wage boosts. President Joseph M. Schenck of the association of motion picture producers declared:

"We have made considerable progress and it appears as if all our differences will be taken care of."

William Bioff, head of the conference of studio unions, a governing group for most A. F. L. workers, and Meyer Lewis, western director of the federation, replied in a statement:

"The A. F. L. policy always has been that issues between employers and labor are best settled at the conference table, rather than by drastic economic action which might immediately preclude further negotiations." They described Schenck as having "a long and favorable record as a friend of labor."

'Golden Boy' Comes To Town Wednesday

The first legitimate stage play to grace the boards of a Eugene theater in more than a decade will be here Wednesday evening when Clifford Odet's "Golden Boy" comes to the McDonald theater for a one night stand.

Fresh from an outstanding run on Broadway, "Golden Boy" includes a cast headed by Eric Linden, familiar to many from his movie work. He is a member of the original troupe which played the drama in New York and London.

Linden takes the part of Joe Bonaparte, whose struggle between desire for money and desire for music makes the story of "Golden Boy." Bernice Claire will portray the fight manager's girl who had faith enough in Joe to see him through.

The play will be staged with the original settings, props and cast.

It is the first in a series of stage plays being brought to Eugene by James O'Connell, manager of the McDonald. Others will be "Hedda Gabbler," Jan. 3, with Eva Le Gallienne, and "What a Life," Feb. 19, with Jackie Coogan.

Water Districts To Elect December 4

The College Crest and South Willamette water supply districts will hold their annual elections Monday, Dec. 4, for the election of water commissioners.

In the College Crest district Hubert Moor is the only candidate and he is running to succeed himself. The other commissioners, each serving five years, are Dudley Holland, Truman Wills, Sam Morris and O. A. Houglum.

In the South Willamette district J. P. Wray is running to succeed himself and Burton A. Fowles and M. C. Gaskill are running for the post made vacant by the resignation of Willis W. Wiper.

Lumber's Future Bright, Fleishel Tells Portlanders

PORTLAND, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The national lumber industry will revive strongly this year and next if lumbermen have "the nerve to demand the right prices," M. L. Fleishel, president of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, said last night.

"The outlook for the next six months is brighter than it has been for the last couple of years," he declared. "Stocks are not large and the order files are enough to carry through to the first of the year."

Dr. Kossack To Discuss Theory Of Sampling

Dr. Carl F. Kossack, instructor in mathematics at the university, will address a regular meeting of Sigma Xi Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in room 105, Deady hall on the campus. Dr. Kossack's subject will be "An Algebraic Theory of Sampling, with Some Applications." Sigma Xi is the scientific honorary for pure and applied science. The lecture is open to the public.

Republicans To Boost McNary Wednesday

Republicans of Lane county will rally their forces Wednesday evening to organize a "McNary for President" club at a meeting to be held in the courthouse at 7:30 o'clock. All republicans of this section are invited to attend and help in organizing the group, putting Lane county in the foreground to honor a native son, Oregon's senior senator, Charles L. McNary. Petitions to the secretary of state to place a name on the primary ballot ake but 1000 names, and local republicans point out there can be well over 100,000 names before the petition is filed. The local meeting is arranged under the auspices of the Lane county central republican committee, headed by C. A. Huntington; and Kenneth Nielsen, member of the executive board of the state central committee organization.

French Strike Nazi Planes From Skies

PARIS, Nov. 21.— (AP) — The destruction of three German planes on the western front, two of which plunged in flames, was announced tonight by the French high command.

The French, in their evening communique, said:

"The day has been notable for an artillery duel to the east of the Saar, also east of Vosges.

"The two air forces were active. An enemy reconnaissance plane was brought down within our lines. Two fighters were brought down in flames over the enemy lines.

"All our aircraft rejoined their bases."

City Attorney, Wife Burned In Apartment

BLAINE, Wash., Nov. 21—(U.P.)—City Attorney Orville K. Algyer and his bride of two months were burned to death today when their apartment caught fire while they were sleeping.

The blaze started between the head of the bed and the wall, firemen said, indicating a cigarette might have dropped from Algyer's hand as he lay in bed.

City's Super Airport Sites Are Inspected

Sites for a Eugene "super-airport" were inspected Tuesday morning by a group of local people interested in improving the city's aeronautic connections and several aviation experts from Seattle.

Included in the group of visitors were Paul Morris, airport engineer with the civil aeronautic authority, B. M. Jacobs, also CAA, and W. C. Ables, from the traffic department of the United Airlines.

They looked over potential sites both to the north and the south of the city, commenting favorably on several. Mr. Ables stated that if and when Eugene was equipped with a suitable airport, United Airlines would make stops here which would bring the city within one hour of Portland and three hours of San Francisco.

Mahlon Sweet, head of the chamber of commerce aeronautic committee, who accompanied the group, along with Mayor Elisha Large, City Engineer W. C. Clubb and others, indicated that a meeting of the city, county and chamber of commerce committees would be called early next week to discuss the matter of a suitable airport.

Mr. Morris, the CAA engineer, stated that he would be glad to cooperate in the planning of a suitable airport for Eugene. The question of an adequate port has been under discussion for some time, since the present port is unfit for large planes.

Efforts to get a United Airlines stop in Eugene have been held up because of the lack of facilities in the past. The city, county and chamber of commerce committees have been quietly investigating the airport condition for some time.

48 DIE IN BLOW

MANILA, Nov. 21.—(AP)—A sailboat enroute to Masbate from Cebu sank in a typhoon yesterday with 50 persons aboard. There were only two survivors.

10 More Students To Get Air Training

Civilian pilot training will be offered to 10 additional students of the University of Oregon, making a total of 50 now enrolled in this work under the auspices of the federal government, it was announced here Tuesday by Carlton E. Spencer, director of the training.

Authorization for the addition came in a telegram from Grove Webster, chief of the private flying development division, Washington, D. C.

The 10 lucky students will be chosen from a number of "sitters-in" who have been allowed to attend classes since the start of the courses without credit, Professor Spencer stated.

The extra allotment, which makes the number at the university one of the largest on a per capita basis in the entire United States, was granted because of the success with which the work has been organized and carried on here, it is pointed out.

Letters containing commendations for the way in which Professor Spencer has carried on the work have been received from Mr. Webster, and Leslie A. Walker, chief of the vocational section of the federal department. On a recent visit to Eugene the work was also warmly praised by Wiley R. Wright, senior private flying specialist.

The 10 students will be selected Wednesday. A total of 176 applied for the work here, and interest has been keen on the part of students and public.

Weather News

Chilly weather prevailed in Eugene Tuesday as fog continued to hang over the city. The forecast follows:
