CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 21—(AP)—Pre-Christmas acceptance of profits as a result of the swift December rise of wheat prices was only on a small scale today, in contrast to selling the previous two sessions, and the market staged a strong rally of 2 to 3 cents a bushel.

Buyers reinstating wheat lines sold out the past few days or covering up short accounts dominated most of the session despite frequent price reactions. Many dealers expected the government estimate of winter wheat acreage and condition, due after the close, to reveal extensive crop damage particularly in the southwest as a result of the unprecedented drought which has not yet been relieved.

Although reacting slightly from the day's highs, wheat closed 1½-2¼ cents higher than yesterday, Dec. $1.09¼-1.08¾, May $1.05¾-⅞, corn was ¼ lower to ¾ higher, Dec. 55½-¾, May 58⅜-½, oats ⅛-⅜ higher.

BOSTON WOOL

BOSTON, Dec. 21—(AP)—(USDA)— Trading in domestic wools on the Boston market was very slow today. Occasionally small lots of fine original territory wools were moved at $1 to $1.02, scoured basis, for good French combing length and at 95 to 98 cents, scoured basis, for average to short French combing length. Users were reported placing some orders for Australian wools to be imported direct from that country.

New York Markets

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, Dec. 21—(AP)—Stock market traders went shopping for further recovery bargains today but generally confined buying to carefully selected issues.

Business news was more cheerful than otherwise, although speculative forces seemingly were only moderately enthused even by the brightest developments.

Steels led a quiet forenoon advance. They soon stepped down however, and prices, for the most part, moved fractionally either way during the remainder of the session. Closing quotations were well jumbled. Gains of fractions to more than a point predominated before mid-day. Transfers approximated 700,000 shares.

Wheat and cotton futures rebounded sharply without putting any real vigor in the stock department.

American Telephone pushed into new high territory for the year in the morning, but eventually lost part of its advance. Favored at one time or another were U. S. Steel, Distilleries Corp.-Seagrams, Standard Oil of N. J., Public Service of N. J., Douglas Aircraft, Eastern Air Lines, Southern Railway and Du Pont.

Lagging were Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Goodyear, International Harvester, Western Union, General Electric, Westinghouse and U. S. Gypsum.

Bonds were narrowly irregular. Securities improved at London and Amsterdam but were soft at Paris.

In the BALCONY

With WAYNE HARBERT

REMEMBER? McDonald: Did you go to see "It Happened One Night" twice? Did you laugh at "The Awful Truth" and "You Can't Take It With You?" Did "The Thin Man" thrill you? "Remember?" can compare to any of these laugh pictures. Finally, there comes this show which is just as good as any of them. Even the most hesitant sourpuss would have to label it "colossal."

There's an excellent cast, headed by Robert Taylor, Lew Ayres, Greer Garson and Billie Burke. The story is certainly among the most unusual, and the finale will sweep you up the aisles with laughter. If you see all your friends giggling around Seymour's during the next few days, you realize they've probably been to this cinema.

The story concerns two young men who have been "best pals" for some 20 years. One becomes engaged, to have the other charm the bride-to-be into falling for him and his "rainbow eyes."

Midway through the story, the chap who loses his best gal to his pal dopes the three of them with a new drug which is supposed to cancel memories. The results are astounding. To tell would be to ruin the laughs. But a few come when the fellows flip a nickel for the girl and when one of them marries her to keep from getting a ticket for speeding.

One of the funniest situations occurs when a band of fox hunters come upon the dogs, milling about trying to pick up the animal's trail. "What's the matter?" one of the society ladies (Billie Burke) asks. "Oh, they've lost the scent," a friend explains. But it's too late. The lady is sniffing away to try to help the hounds. "It's that way," she gleefully points. Then she hesitates, announces, "I'm wrong, it must be something else."

Another comes when the same woman arranges a surprise party for her honeymooning daughter and son-in-law. She tells all the guests to hide about the rooms behind the furniture and not to shout "surprise" until she rings her little bell. The newlyweds appear, take their position in the center of the room and continue a bitter quarrel in which the bride's relatives get their share of knocking. As the hostess scampers about looking for her misplaced bell, the quarrel rages for some minutes before the guests get the signal to pop out into the open.

Most remarkable scene, however, is the very last, an expression on Lew Ayres' face.

Don't miss "Remember!"
