President Asks 'Liberal Pair' For Candidates

Republicans Scored For War Accusations In Georgia Address

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WARM SPRINGS, Ga., April 20.—(AP)—President Roosevelt urged again tonight that his own party choose a "liberal pair of candidates" and at the same time waded into the republican opposition for "seeking to frighten the country" by declaring the present administration "is deliberately trying to put this nation into war."

It was an out-and-out political talk that Mr. Roosevelt made by radio to a series of country-wide dinners of Young Democrats' clubs. And while it carried an obvious bid for continuance of the new deal, it offered no tangible clue to the outstanding political question of the day: Will the president seek a third term?

Counter Move Against German Port Rushed

Allies Continue With Efforts to Force Hitler From Norway

STOCKHOLM, April 20.—(UP)—British, French and Norwegian troops were reported massing at three points on the west coast of Norway tonight for a powerful counter-offensive against the German army north and south of Trondheim.

A battle for possession of Trondheim, with the isolated and besieged Norwegian fortress of Hegra in the center of the battlefield, was described in messages to neutral diplomats as the probable first major action—an engagement that may be already in progress.

The opposing forces were believed by military experts here to be stronger than previously indicated and supported by heavy artillery. The British-French troops were expected to go into action as quickly as possible in an effort to relieve Hegra fortress.

Flag Still Out

Frontier dispatches said that the red, white and blue flag of Norway still flew over the fortress this morning, despite several German attacks and a heavy bombardment by German airplanes.

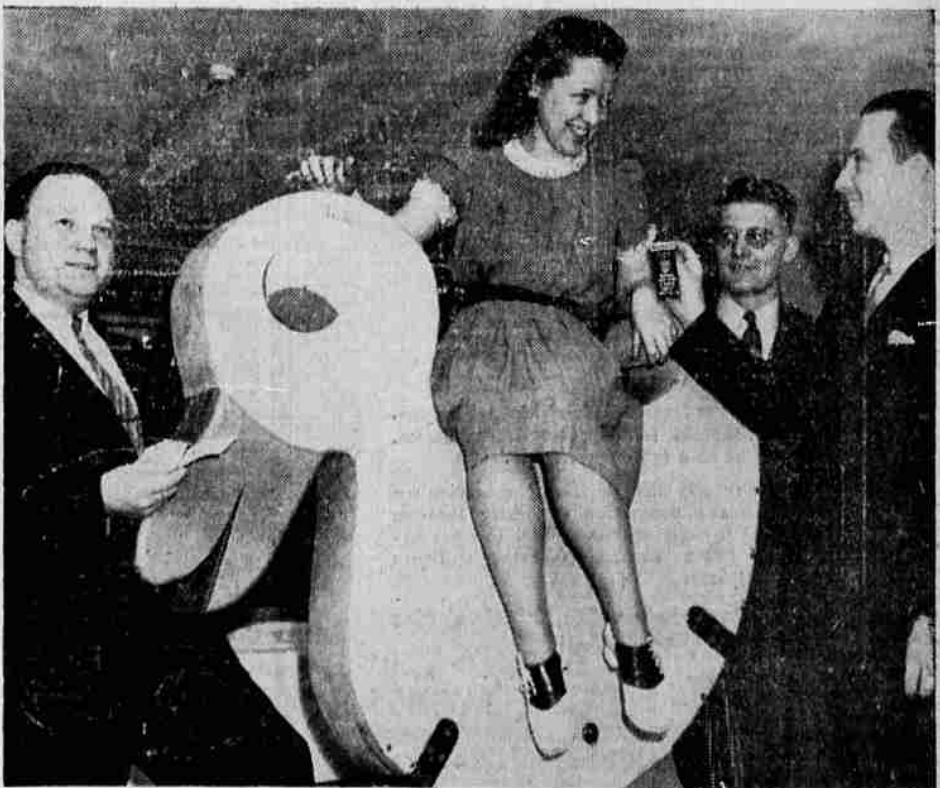

A recapitulation of the military developments in Norway as based on neutral diplomatic advices and press dispatches from the frontier showed:

Trondheim zone—British and French forces said to number up to 55,000 men were reported landed in Namos sector north of Trondheim and to have advanced with artillery toward the Steinkjer sector, where the Germans dug in for a defensive stand after isolating Hegra fortress. Allied troops also were reported landed in the face of nazi aerial attacks at the railroad port of Andalsnes, 115 miles south of Trondheim on Romsdalsford.

Another Report

Still other reports said that the British had troops at Orkdal, which is only 20 miles south of Trondheim, for a pincers attack on the Germans. But neutral experts here doubted that the allies had been able to reach Orkdal and believed that they were more likely to use the railroad from Andalsnes in an effort to crush the Germans at Trondheim from the south while the allied troops at Steinkjer attacked from the north.
