Pro Golfers Here May 13

The Oregon Professional Golfers' association, a group of outstanding golf professionals, will make their first Eugene appearance in 13 years at the Eugene Country club May 13 when the association holds its sweepstakes tournament. The last local appearance of the O.P.G. was in 1927 when the annual Oregon open tournament was held over the local club course.

Wendell Wood, Eugene Country club pro who arranged the sweepstakes more than a month ago, is confident the event will lead toward the staging of one of the association's major tournaments here in another year.

The Eugene Active club has taken over the sponsorship of the event and will be in charge of promotion and the sale of gallery tickets, at 50 cents each.

Wood said Saturday that while the sweepstakes is scheduled as an 18-hole event, there is a possibility and additional 18-hole pro-amateur tourney will be held in conjunction with the all-pro meet.

Eugene Golfers Win Five-Way Tourney

Eugene high school's golf team, led by Dwight Nesbitt, scored a surprising victory over four other prep divot opponents over the Laurelwood course Saturday morning. Nesbitt's medal-winning 73, one over par, aided the Axemen in posting 39½ points to nose out University high with 36½ points.

Other scores were: Corvallis, 23; Marshfield, 15½, and Tigard, 5½.

"This war in Europe has butchered international tennis. It will be a good many years after the war is over before international play will be resumed on the scale that has existed in the past." Such was the opinion offered by Wayne Sabin, fifth-ranking amateur tennis player in the United States Friday for an exhibition match. Sabin, who played on two Davis Cup teams and is a resident of Portland, said that international contests were important, not for the cups won, or the scores posted, but for the feeling of fraternity that they created between nations.

When asked what he thought the chances of the United States would be against Australia if they were to compete this year, the 23-year-old stylist said that the results would be a "toss-up."

"Bromwich," said Sabin "will never be numbered among the tennis greats, as so many sports experts predict. It is not because his style is unorthodox but because he hasn't got what it takes."

"The greatest living tennis player today is Don Budge, the California professional," continued Sabin. "There is no doubt that he stands heads and shoulders above the field. There is neither an amateur or a professional living that can 'tough him'. It would be hard to choose between the rest. Riggs, Quist, and Bromwich are of nearly the same ability."

The dread of all amateur fans that amateur tennis is being hurt by the rapid rise of the professional game was discounted by Sabin as a "needless worry."

"The amateur game is more popular today than it has ever been," he said.

Sabin gave as his reasons for the domination of west-coast players in 'big-time' tennis: more tournaments, more wide-spread public interest, and better all-year-around weather.

Previous to the interview Sabin played an exhibition match with Larry Key, University of Oregon's number one man. Sabin won in two sets, 6-0, 6-3.

Coppers Win Softball Game; Firemen Cry, 'We Was Robbed'

Eugene firemen and policemen had their own "season opener" Friday on the Willard school grounds, and repercussions of the battle were still bouncing around the city hill Sunday.

Fire Chief William "Billy" Nusbbaum commented tersely: "We wuz robbed."

The chief bitterly revealed that the sterling fire laddies had been robbed by one who is supposed to protect the citizens of Eugene. He referred to Police Chief Carl E. "Robber" Bergman, who umpired the game.

The coppers, however, were jubilant. They announced: "The firemen were completely swamped, 15 to 12." Questioned on the use of the word "swamped" they admitted that the game had been called on account of darkness, and that Chief Bergman was the umpire.

But they went into ecstasies describing the work of "Speedball" Jimmy Wilcox, on the mound for the officers. Chuck Lindsay, catcher, also was lauded.

They hinted that Ray Hicks, pitcher for the fire laddies, was "knocked out of the box." Midway through the game, they said, he was forced to retire and let Claude Bradway take over.

One of the outstanding events of the game, according to the cops, was the "collision" of two firemen outfielders, as they scurried for the ball.

The possibilities of a re-match between the bitter rivals was considered very limited in city hall circles Sunday. It was rumored that Police Judge Cal Bryan might be called in as a sort of impartial "Dean Landis."

Two 3-Hit Games In Coast Circuit

HOLLYWOOD, April 20—(AP)—Hollywood's Bill Fleming mastered Howard Craghead of San Diego in a pitching duel today and the Stars won, 3 to 1, to clinch its second successive series in the Pacific coast league campaign.

Fleming let the Padres down with three hits and one run of the unearned variety, while Craghead allowed but seven bingles.

Another Three-Hitter

OAKLAND, Calif., April 20—(AP)—Stanley Corbett pitched three-hit ball today to give the Oakland Aacorns a 5-0 victory over Sacramento in a Pacific coast league game.

The Oaks took the lead in the first frame when Lyman was safe on an error by Latner. Luby went to first on a single and both men scored on Christopher's double. (NIGHT GAMES, PAGE 15)

OSC Cindermen Capture Relays

Beaver High-Jumpers Tie Mark; 440 Close

Colonel Bill Hayward's short-handed University of Oregon cindermen dropped a 5-3 decision to the Oregon State college trackmen on Hayward field Saturday afternoon in the 13th running of the annual intra-state collegiate relays. The triumph gave Grant Swan's Beavers their fifth victory as against Oregon's six wins and two deadlocks.

Swan's Baby Beavers completely dominated the freshman relays held in conjunction with the varsity meet for the first time in history. Coach Ned Johns' Ducklings were outclassed in all five events, giving the invaders a 5-0 triumph.

Woodcock Leads Jumpers
Neither the Orangemen or Webfoots were over impressive with all running events far behind the existing records. The Oregon State high-jump team, however, managed to tie the mark of 23 feet, eight inches established by the Oregon State team of 1936. The Beavers record-tying performance was led by Ed Woodcock who scaled the impressive height of six feet, five inches.

The best race of the day, and naturally the most closely contested, was the varsity 440-yard relay. Bob Delz and Jim Buck gave the Webfoots a substantial lead in the first two 110's, but Dickson fell behind in the third exchange before giving the baton to Jay Graybeal who fought off Rogers' steeple challenge to win by two strides.

The varsity half-mile relay was also close with Delz and Buck again taking a commanding margin, but the Beavers coming up from behind with Rogers beating out Reiner, Oregon anchor man, by three yards.

Emmons Faces Heavies
An added attraction, and one of the feature events of the meet was the victory of Oregon's shot team over Oregon State's heavies in a 440-yard relay. Frank Emmons, Oregon's lead-off man took a big lead the Beavers were never able to slice. Bill Regner ran the second lap, Stan Short the third and Elmer Olsen the anchor.

Summary:
Freshman Three Mile Relay—Won by Oregon State (Gibbich, Waterman, Saunders, Lockhart). Time, 14:18.
Varsity 440-yard Relay—Won by Oregon (Delz, Buck, Dickson, Graybeal). Time, 4:47.
Freshman 440-yard Relay—Won by Oregon State (Findlay, Olsen, Oxendire, Truax). Time, 4:58.

Varsity High Jump Relay—Won by Oregon State (Hammer, Oxendire, Gelbrich, Lockhart). Time, 8:49.
Varsity Mile Relay—Won by Oregon State (Graft, Hamcock, Nelson, Vallancourt). Time, 18:41.

Pilot Grover Kelsay Predicts Strong Team for Hills Creek

The Hills Creek Hillbillies, who have made a surprisingly fine showing since they first entered State league baseball competition three years ago, expect to field another formidable club this season, according to Manager Grover Kelsay, veteran catcher-infielder.

Hills Creek graduated from the Lane county Cascade league, a circuit the Hillies dominated for many years, to give Lane county its second entry in the No. 1 state semi-pro league. The nine from the hills has been a strong title contender every season, playing a fighting brand of heads-up ball to overcome slight weaknesses in player calibre.

This year Eugene will partially adopt Hills Creek with the team making several Saturday night appearances on the Civic Stadium field before playing the second half of the week-end schedule at Swimmers' Delight Sunday afternoons.

Coach Bert Kerns' defending champion Eugene Axemen hold undisputed lead in the district 7 high school baseball league, and Bill Stormont of Eugene holds the league batting leadership with a 1.000 average. While Stormont is tied with Borgaard of Junction City for the league batting lead with a perfect figure, George Sertic of the cellar-dwelling St. Mary's Saints is the real leader with a .714 average in two games.

Dean Dragoo Bags Four Mammoth Redsides Saturday

Dean Dragoo, local angler, displayed a "beautiful catch" of four trout at Lightning's Saturday night after an afternoon of fishing on the McKenzie below the Leaburg dam. Dragoo used a single egg lure and a two-pound test leader.

Dragoo's biggest fish dressed at 3 pounds, 11 ounces, a mammoth Redside that must have weighed better than four pounds when caught. He had two other fish that weighed around 2½ pounds and one weighing 1½ pounds.

Siuslaw Club Leads Lane Trapshooters

The next to final matches in the annual Oregonian telegraphic trapshooting will be held through out the state Sunday when four Lane county clubs will vie in three-way telegraphic engagements.

The Tillamook-Clatsop club is still leading the circuit with 17 victories, no defeats and four ties and will be favored to annex the title. The Siuslaw Rod and Gun club is leading the Lane contingent and had an excellent chance to qualify for the finals to be shot off at the state tournament later in the summer.

The Siuslaw club is in ninth place with 11 wins, seven defeats and three ties, followed by Cottage Grove in a tie for 10th place with 10 wins, seven defeats and four ties; McKenzie Gateway in a 17th-place tie with nine wins, nine defeats and three ties, and Eugene in 18th place with eight wins, nine defeats and four ties.

Matches scheduled Sunday follow: Cottage Grove vs. Bend, Albany and Hillsboro; Eugene vs. Heppner, Grants Pass and Ten-Mile; McKenzie vs. Ten-Mile, LaGrande and Klamath; Siuslaw vs. Salem, Roseburg and Portland.

Oakway Golf Tourney In Qualifying Round

Qualifying rounds in the 11th annual Oakway spring championship golf tournament opened over the local nine-hole course Saturday and will continue until the deadline, Sunday, April 28. Ford Young is the defending champion.

Oregon-WSC Baseball Leading Duck Sports Event of Week

Oregon athletic teams will "entertain" extensively on their home grounds this coming week with baseball, track and tennis activities crowded between Wednesday and Saturday.

Colonel Bill Hayward's varsity track team will stage its sole home dual meet of the season here Saturday against the University of Washington thinslads.

A close meet between the traditional cinder rivals is anticipated with the Webfoots attempting to post a third straight dual victory over Hee Edmundson's charges. Oregon won 67 to 64 in 1938 and 73 to 58 last spring at Seattle.

Colorful Buck Bailey will bring his powerful Washington State college baseball nine here to Howe field for a two-game series Wednesday and Thursday with the defending champion Ducks. The Cougar series will start a six game home stand for the Webfoots within two weeks.

Oregon's varsity tennis team will meet invaders from Washington State and the University of Idaho here on the campus courts Friday and Saturday. The Cougar netmen are billed for Friday afternoon and the Vandals Saturday.

The Duckling baseball team meets Sweet Home high on the preppers' diamond next Saturday.

Pro Golfers Here May 13

The Oregon Professional Golfers' association, a group of outstanding golf professionals, will make their first Eugene appearance in 13 years at the Eugene Country club May 13 when the association holds its sweepstakes tournament. The last local appearance of the O.P.G. was in 1927 when the annual Oregon open tournament was held over the local club course.

Wendell Wood, Eugene Country club pro who arranged the sweepstakes more than a month ago, is confident the event will lead toward the staging of one of the association's major tournaments here in another year.

The Eugene Active club has taken over the sponsorship of the event and will be in charge of promotion and the sale of gallery tickets, at 50 cents each.

Wood said Saturday that while the sweepstakes is scheduled as an 18-hole event, there is a possibility and additional 18-hole pro-amateur tourney will be held in conjunction with the all-pro meet.

Eugene Golfers Win Five-Way Tourney

Eugene high school's golf team, led by Dwight Nesbitt, scored a surprising victory over four other prep divot opponents over the Laurelwood course Saturday morning. Nesbitt's medal-winning 73, one over par, aided the Axemen in posting 39½ points to nose out University high with 36½ points.
