Miss Helen Dodds Bride at Impressive Ceremony Held In Church on Saturday

EUGENE'S church of weddings, the First Congregational church, again was scene for one of the socially prominent ceremonies Saturday afternoon when Miss Helen Dodds, daughter of Austin Dodds, was married to Frank D. Cross, son of Mrs. Curtis B. Cross of Salem.

A large gathering of Eugene, Salem, and Portland friends and relatives witnessed the service and attended the reception following.

The setting was in all white—large clumps of lilacs, stock, and lilies being arranged in white urns on white standards at the church front and altar, tall candelabra standing among the flowers with lighted tapers glowing down on the array of white blooms. Woodwardia ferns were arranged here and there for a bit of contrast.

Dresses All in White
For the music, Mrs. E. E. Wyatt sang "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," and Miss Marjorie Scober played the traditional wedding marches—the one from Lohengrin for the processional and the Mendelssohn one for the recessional. The ceremony took place at four o'clock, Rev. Williston Wirt, pastor of the church officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was a charming picture in a dress of lace and satin. The dress was fashioned with a lace bodice, and the skirt of satin fell in a train. The dress was made with a high neck, a row of buttons down the front, and with long lace sleeves. The veil was the one worn by Mrs. Herbert Large at her wedding. Of silk net, the veil had long panels of hand-made rose point lace, applied; the same lace forming a border. The veil, falling in a long train, was arranged from a cap, which also was a combination of the net and lace, a tiara being arranged in front, and a wreath of flowers banding the back. The bride's bouquet was a cascade one of lilies of the valley, gardenias, and white sweet peas.

Sister Attends
The three attendants, Mrs. Peter Ness, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, and Miss Virginia Cross of Salem, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Herbert Large, as bridesmaids, also were in white. The three wore dresses alike in white chiffon, made in Grecian style with wide waist bands, square necklines with a bit of stitching, and very full skirts. All three wore tiaras of flowers in their hair, and their bouquets were cascades of white tulips and maiden hair fern.

Little Helen Ann Dodds, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a frock of white organza with a wreath of flowers in her hair and carried an all-white nosegay.

Edwin Cross of San Francisco was best man for his brother. The ushers were Richard Devers and Fred Reidy, both of Salem.

Reception at Church
The reception following the service was at the church and the all-white decorative theme was used there.

Mrs. A. E. Caswell, Mrs. J. O. Holt, and Mrs. F. M. Carter acted as hostesses at the reception.

Pouring were Mrs. Frank Durbin, Sr. of Salem, Mrs. C. L. Schwering, Mrs. E. F. Pearson of Portland, and Mrs. Nelson F. Macduff.

Miss Fannie McCammant and Mrs. Percy W. Brown served the cake.

Assisting about the rooms were: Mrs. C. P. Tillman, Mrs. R. T. Burnett, Mrs. E. E. Wyatt, Mrs. John Dodds, Mrs. George I. Hurley.

Invited to assist with the serving was a group of former school friends of the bride, Miss Helen Tillman, Miss Marion Morse, Mrs. Gordon Perlich, Miss Dorothy Jensen, Miss Phyllis Atwater, Mrs. Howard Ragan, Mrs. Gerald Morrison, Miss Margaret Rugh, Miss Charlotte Hewitt, Miss Margaret Hurley, all of Eugene, and Miss Jane Lewis of Portland.

To Live in Salem
For going away the bride wore a sky-blue costume suit with navy accessories, the coat trimmed with a fox fur collar, and a corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Cross are to make their home in Salem. Both are former students of the University of Oregon. The bride is a member of Phi Beta Phi sorority and has been a member of the Eugene Spinsters club. Mr. Cross is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity on the campus.

Mrs. Moore Is Hostess Of Friday
Mrs. Viron Moore entertained at a luncheon and bridge party Friday afternoon for a group of twelve, the event honoring her mother, Mrs. A. J. Burton.

Guests included Mrs. Burton, Mrs. Lulu Stearns, Mrs. Harry L. Nebergall, Mrs. Patrick Fury, Mrs. Marvin Miller, Mrs. Don Moore, Mrs. Clifford Stalsberg, Mrs. Glover Davis, Mrs. Harold Sprague, Mrs. Clark Richards, Mrs. Fred Burton.
