Ralph Budd Knows Snarls of Transportation After Successful Career

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Ralph Budd drives his mind through a problem and how to obtain cooperation from the men about him. This is how the transportation expert for national defense is described by men who watch him work. Already he has rallied national transportation organizations back of the national defense drive, ready to meet such problems as may arise.

After their first check of trains, planes, and ships—and determining materials to be moved—expressed full confidence that they will be able to handle the work with straight addition, without resort to any complex formulae.

1918-19 when America was going ahead into war and doing incredible things as turning a ship a day at Hog Island, a peak load for the railroads ran 12 percent above ordinary normal levels.

the business spurt between May and last October, car loads leaped 50 per cent.

Moreover, the railroads were carrying almost the whole of the heavy hauling burden between 1918 and 1919. The truck business is a puny thing then, handicapped by a lack of paved roads, airplanes was a smaller industry. Even the Mississippi barge did not grow up until after World War.

Now Budd has all four forms of transportation ready to respond to the call of national need.

He is a pleasant man with pink hair, a pleasant hair lines, and blue eyes that lie back behind his glasses. His 41 years of railroading business have put him into many jobs and he climbs since he started out as a rod man for the Chicago and Western.

Budd, like a lot of other railroaders, was born in Iowa. He

High Awards Given to Honor Court of Boys' Club

A grand finale to the season at Lucky Boy one of the hardest and most frequent awards was given at the regular court of honor. This award, the Gold Palm, was given to Harley Greig of Toledo. This well-liked leader known as Hal by his friends at Lucky Boy was presented with this award by his peers in front of a large visiting crowd from many cities in Oregon and surrounding territory.

This important award is given to the Life Scout advancement group and a large group of merit boys totaling more than a hundred and twenty received by over 500 Scouts. The reason for this awarding group was due to the near perfect weather conditions in the mountains for the past two weeks. This is a first before when rain and other weather were outstanding.
