

Survivors Tell Of Raider Fight

stroyed, largely to the "very gallant action" of the Jervis Bay. It is said that despite "greatly inferior armament" the Jervis Bay "continued to engage the enemy after she had been severely hit and was burning furiously," and exploded after a two-hour fight.

Twenty-four ships in the convoy were reported to have reached port, five others were reported safe and, the admiralty added, "It is possible that some of the ships still missing may be safe."

Among the vessels reported already in port were the liner Rangitiki and the freighter Cornish City, whose distress calls were heard in the United States the night of the attack as the convoy was steaming from Canada to England.

"It was a sunny evening when we picked up the (German) ship on the port side at 4:50 o'clock," said one of the Jervis Bay officer survivors.

"She was a long way off. I don't know which of us saw the other first. She opened fire first, though."

"She closed to get into range, and we closed, too, leaving the enemy ship and the convoy and dropped smoke floats to screen the merchant ships from the raider."

Captain Olander of the rescue freighter said the fight that followed was "glorious," and added in halting English: "I'll never forget it."

He fled, with the rest of the merchantmen, but turned back after dark to search the calmed seas for survivors of the escort ship.

Captain Olander said he thought he saw five merchant ships in the convoy struck by shells fired by the raider.

He thought the raider's second salvo of shells, aimed at the Jervis Bay, overshot and damaged the Rangitiki.

The survivors brought back tales of heroism which ranged from their captain's persistence at his post though severely wounded to an account of a seaman who, when the Jervis Bay's flag was shot away, climbed the rigging amid shellbursts and fastened a new ensign which still waved through smoke clouds as the ship took her last plunge.

"I think everybody aboard was proud as our ship turned to meet the enemy," the officer related. "Our captain knew just what we were going to get, but it didn't matter."

Record Of Arrested Men Is Revealed

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 13.—(Special)—Frank W. Leonard, 35, and Edward Kilford, 23, who were arrested by the Springfield police here on November 1, have a long record of burglaries, according to the state police. The men were taken from the county jail at Eugene to Toledo where they will be prosecuted for burglary, allegedly committed there. When arrested in a car here they had a complete set of burglar tools.

Their record as given by the state police follows: Burglary in a grocery store at Gaston, in July; attempted burglary at Sherwood August 9; burglary at Newberg in August; burglary at St. Helens in August; two burglaries in Corvallis September 1; burglary at Independence August 18; burglary at Toledo September 1; burglary in a Chinese gambling house in Portland in September; burglary at Blodgett in August; burglary in Portland October 14. They obtained $1700 in the Chinese gambling joint burglary, the police learned, and various sums ranging from a few dollars to over $200 in the other places.

U. S. Recognizes New Mexican Leader

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Formal recognition of Mexico's new president-elect and reports of intensified efforts for hemisphere defense collaboration gave evidence today of continuing administration preoccupation with matters pertaining to pan-American solidarity.

The recognition of General Avila Camacho as the Mexican president-elect had an unusual aspect, for it was accompanied last night by the announcement that Henry A. Wallace, vice president-elect of the United States, would represent this country at the Camacho inauguration in Mexico City Dec. 1. Mexico's presidential election had been in dispute, and the announcement of Camacho's recognition was the first government expression here on the controversy. In Mexico, the action of the United States was received as welcome news, with special gratification manifested at the appointment of Wallace.

Mexico, however, apparently was only one of the Latin American nations to figure in state department consultations yesterday. Secretary Hull, Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of Navy Knox conferred for almost an hour and it was believed in well-informed quarters that hemisphere defense provided the major topic.

The progress of defense negotiations with other American republics was reviewed, these sources believed, and consideration given to the necessary subsequent steps for advancing the program with all possible speed.

Rescuers Work Fast After Storm On Lakes

(By the Associated Press) Diminishing winds over the Great Lakes aided heroic marine rescue efforts today while bitter cold enveloped most of the mid-continent.

Coast guard crews battled Lake Michigan's frigid waters in an effort to keep down the death list written as boats sank or broke up under the pounding of the worst storm in years. Search for missing duck hunters was still under way.

A total of 92 known dead was reported. They included sailors, hunters, victims of snow and freezing weather and those killed in the gales that accompanied a violent storm which began in the west Sunday and swept eastward across the nation Monday and yesterday.

Two freighters and two fishing tugs were feared lost with all hands, totaling 65. These were the freighters William B. Davock and Anna C. Minch and the tugs Indian and Richard H. The known dead so far constituted 15 bodies washed ashore near Ludington, Mich., and identified as crew members of the Davock and the Minch.

Two other sailors were lost from the pulpwood carrier, Navadoc, which broke up off Pentwater, Mich., but 17 members of her crew were rescued after clinging to the broken hulk for 24 hours.

The gasoline tanker, New Haven Socony, carrying 18 men, was 36 hours overdue at Muskegon, Mich. The tanker, Crude Oil, which had been missing with 23 men, limped into Sturgeon Bay, Mich. A sister ship, the Mercury, with about 20 men, found shelter off north Manitou Island in northern Lake Michigan. Several other vessels were aground but their crews apparently were in no grave danger.

Fun Carnival Set For River Road

RIVER ROAD, Nov. 13.—(Special)—The River Road P. T. A. is sponsoring its annual "fun carnival" Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the school building. Proceeds from this affair and the spring play given each year are the two projects used for the main support of the hot lunch program carried on by the P. T. A.

At the carnival there will be various games and concessions, including the cake walk, fish ponds, hot dog and candy booths. A small admission is being charged for adults. All patrons and friends of the community and school district are invited.

WPA Official Here On Airport Business

B. S. Sewell, state office engineer for the work projects administration, arrived in Eugene from Portland Wednesday noon to prepare estimates of WPA labor costs in the groundwork for Eugene's new super airport. The main work probably will be done by open competitive contract under supervision of the U. S. army engineers with full time labor at full time wages but some portions may be left for WPA on the margins.

Working with John Quiner, city engineer draftsman, Mr. Sewell will make cost estimates Wednesday afternoon as requested by the city aeronautics board, in the event that WPA national defense funds will be appropriated for the Eugene airport.

The WPA estimate must be submitted to the civil aeronautics board in Washington, D. C., by Nov. 19.

The city made application for a WPA grant for airport construction two months ago. If granted, WPA funds will go only toward grading and runway laying, J. J. O'Farrell, Eugene district manager, stated.

By the terms of a WPA national defense appropriation passed by congress last June, any projects so designated take precedence over other WPA projects in the district, which in Eugene's instance would mean the immediate postponement of present WPA work to throw laborers into the airport job, provided the war department designates Eugene's air field as essential to national defense.

Central, Victoria, Sunset Water To Be Turned Off

The water supply will be shut off on Central boulevard, Victoria Heights, Sunset Drive, and all of the high pressure system east of Hendricks park on Friday afternoon, starting at 1 o'clock, the Eugene water board announced Wednesday.

Purpose of the shutdown is to change a portion of 6-inch main on Central boulevard. The work will be under way for two or three hours.

Greeks Place Foes In Concentration Camps

ATHENS, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The Greek high command reported today a stream of Italian wounded and prisoners was pouring back to concentration camps behind Greek forces advancing through "pillaged" villages abandoned by retreating fascist troops.

Generally, though, there was quiet along the entire front—a lull, described by neutral military observers as the end of the first phase of the war.

It was believed here that Gen. Ubaldo Soddu, under-secretary of war and newly-appointed commander in chief of the Italian forces in Albania, was reorganizing his troops and devising a new plan of campaign. Supporting this view was the fact that there has been no Italian attack of any consequence in the past few days.
