

Jameson Names Oregonians

Residents of Oregon, all of whom are acknowledged northwesterners, were named here to the executive committee of the Oregon Conference on Family Relations by Dr. H. H. Jameson, president of the conference and professor of psychology at the University of Oregon.

LION'S SHARE of U. S. exports is going to the British lion, as figures give evidence of America's increased aid to Britain. In a typical month, September, 1940, more than 60 per cent of the 275 millions in goods exported went to the United Kingdom and Canada, while U. S. exports to axis partners fell off.

Donald E. Long, circuit judge and vice president of the conference; Multnomah county court of domestic relations; Mrs. Buena M. Maris, extension specialist in family relationships, Oregon State college; Miss Elizabeth McGaw, dean of girls, Grant high school, Portland; Miss Ethel Mealey, consultant in health education, division of maternal and child health of the state board of health, Portland; Dean Ava B. Milam, dean and director of home economics, state system of higher education; Dean Wayne L. Morse of the University of Oregon law school; Miss Faye Steinmetz, director of the Neighborhood Councils, Portland council of social agencies, and secretary-treasurer for the conference; Mrs. C. W. Walls, president of the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers, Portland; Mrs. Clifford Zollinger, representative of the A. A. U. W. and author of books on child care, and Dr. Jameson.

Ground School Course To Start January 6

A complete ground school course for those who have hitherto been unable to take advantage of the CAA flying courses will open on the University of Oregon campus starting Monday, January 6, under the sponsorship of the general extension division, it is announced by Assistant Director W. G. Beattie.

Provided a suitable number of students sign up in advance, the course will be offered each Monday night for 10 weeks. In case a large number sign up, it is likely that a Thursday evening session may also be established. Registration should be made at the general extension office on the campus, at the municipal airport with Joe Harrell, CAA flight instructor, or with Homer Middlesworth, secretary of the McKenzie Flying association, which is cooperating with the extension in sponsoring the classes.

The ground course will include navigation and pilotage, charts and maps, the compass, navigation problems, various phases of meteorology, and other related problems. Although no university credit will be allowed, students will be prepared to take the CAA examinations. Complete information may be obtained by calling the extension division at 3300, extension 325.
