Civic Parade Entries Urged To File Now

Firms anticipating entering floats in the Civic and Industrial pageant parade should file their entries immediately at Pageant headquarters, W. N. Wintler, chairman, urged today.

Firms do not have to wait until a description of their float is available, Chairman Wintler said, but should send in their entry blanks immediately in order to facilitate the preparations for the parade.

Floats must be bona fide decorated entries, Mr. Wintler announced.

Marching organizations and four or five bands have been signed to appear in the parade already, said the chairman, insuring plenty of variety.

Staff Listed For 4-H Summer Camp

Mrs. Jean Morton

Staff to direct the annual 4-H summer camp, opening at Fall Creek, Friday, has been announced from the office of R. C. Kuehner, county club leader.

Mrs. Jean Morton of Cottage Grove will be director for the third year at the camp. Mrs. Morton is president of the leaders' association and chairman of the camp committee. Mrs. Alice Callison of Fall Creek will be crafts instructor. Miss Verada Callison of Fall Creek and Henry Chase of Eugene will take care of the swimming program. Miss Eleanor Price of Portland is to assist in crafts. G. M. Upshaw of the rifle association will conduct the rifle training. Vern McDaniels of the state forest nursery, Corvallis, will be on hand for forestry and nature studies. Jim Walker of the eastern Lane fire patrol is assisting in the activities on the "Keep Oregon Green" program. Miss Louise Schneider, from the state 4-H club office, will assist with crafts, and Miss Helen Cowgill, assistant state 4-H club leader, Corvallis, also will be at the camp part of the time to assist.

All the staff work is volunteer. More than 100 boys and girls will attend the camp this year, the girls to go first, starting Friday for 10 days, the boys to follow with their 10-day outing.
