They've lifted the gate in restricting Pacific coast schools to proselyte athletes—and the new system through direct-mail advertising.

Direct-mail advertising isn't worth a hoot in a hail storm, direct-mail advertising once had in a C.C.N.Y. night advertising course, unless a preferred prospect list is used. A follow-up is made after the initial contact. It was that newspaper advertising, with well-written, simple and readable copy proved much more effective.

We can't imagine the University of Oregon purchasing spreads in three colors—yellow and green and blue—leading daily papers up and down the coast.

Hamby worked for weeks in preparing a 16-page Oregon prospecting, and the book will come out the presses early this fall. The advertising material, published solely for prospective athletes, is a complete picture of the intercollegiate sports setup at the University of Oregon. It gives vital information regarding available courses, costs—and a list of contact the member of the coaching staff in charge of the particular sport.

The book will take the place of "contact men." Whenever Oregon hears of an athlete they're interested in a "Sports at Oregon" mailed instead of the athlete in question writes to the coach of the school. If and when an "open case" and virtually out of the Atherton it will be an open and above-board manner of contacting the athlete. It invites the youths to reply if interested—and additional information is wanted.

The book was originated at the University of Oregon. It is the property of the Pacific Coast conference representatives in accordance with Orlando Holm's plan.

It was considerable discussing the contacting of the pool youths and one representative, who saw the utility of the book, members of his coaching staff in a corner biting their nails while waiting for the book to arrive. It would allow coaches to contact athletes "within bounds."

It was tossed out of the window by the members of the board who voted the prospectus at a system of size.

The book, which will probably cost $1.00, will come out in the fall.

It is interesting to see the direct-mail advertising used to proselyte athletes.

Staretor Captures Hollywood Derby

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—(AP)—Staretor strengthened his claim as one of the nation's outstanding three-year-olds today when he whipped seven rivals in the fourth running of the $25,000 Hollywood Derby.

The Delaware-bred colt, owned by Hugh S. Nesbitt, Los Angeles, flashed across the finish line three-quarters of a length in front of his arch foe, Porter's Cap, Paper Boy ran third.

The win was worth $19,675 to his owner.

Howard Wins Triple

Chicago, July 12.—(AP)—Warren Wright of Chicago, owner of famed Whilaway, entered three two-year-olds in the rich Arlington Futurity today and won a clean sweep—an astounding and rare result on the American turf.

His trio, which dominated the race from start to finish, charged down the sun-lit stretch to loud cheers from the crowd of 30,000, which had backed the entry heavily.

The winner was Sun Again. Some Chance was second and Wishbone third.

The value of the race, with eight starters was $48,750.

NEW YORK, July 12.—(AP)—Swing and Sway, an inconsistent son of the late Equiponce, cracked the Empire City track mark for a mile and an eighth by a full second (1:50) today when he defeated the highly-favored Our Boots by a hair-line margin in the 33rd running of the $10,000 Empire City handicap before 24,000 spectators.

The winner earned $8875 net.

Mrs. Harold Poling Scores Ace at Oakway

Mrs. Harold Poling scored a hole-in-one on the 135-yard No. 6 hole at Oakway Saturday evening. Her tee shot, with a No. 4 iron, was low, hitting the edge of the green and rolling in. The feat was witnessed by Husband Harold Poling, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hope and Bob Williams.

Byron Nelson in Running to Retain His P. G. A. Title

Champ Defeats Sarazen, 2-1

Vic Ghezzi In Finals; Beats Mangrum, 1 Up

By RUSS NEULAND
CHERRY HILLS, Denver, July 12.—(AP)—Broad-shouldered Byron Nelson, master of the iron shot, clamped a stronger hold on his Professional Golfers Association championship today when he bowled over doughty little Gene Sarazen, 2 and 1 in a par-hilstering 36-hole semi-final match.

As a result the big fellow from Toledo, Ohio, who won the crown last year at Hershey, Pa., will defend it in 36-hole finals against Vic Ghezzi, Deal, N. J., who outlasted Slim Lloyd Mangrum, Monterey Park, Calif., to win 1 up after being 4 up at the 24th.

Nelson had no snap in conquering 39-year old Sarazen, veteran of the tournament and possessor of the most illustrious career of the lot. The squire from Connecticut went down fighting and the applause of several thousand fans was not less for him than for the man he congratulated with a hearty handclasp on the 35th green.

Nelson Four Under Par
The defending titleholder shattered par and the hopes of older Sarazen with a brilliant assortment of shots, mainly to the greens. He's the "deadeye dick" of the game in this respect.

When he finished, he was four strokes under par. He had to be to win. Sarazen, who donned the robes of a PGA kingpin in 1922 for the first of three times, during the time Nelson was a 10-year-old boy, ended up three under par for the match.

That's golf in any league. Three putts on the 17th green cost Sarazen a chance to fight it out on the last hole where the event might have been squared. The number of the most colorful performer in the field, old-plus-fours Sarazen, didn't come up this time. He missed a four-foot putt, easy enough for any dub to kick in.

While the Sarazen-Nelson duel proved the dramatic touches of age vs. youth, the Ghezzi-Mangrum encounter furnished its thrills in a rousing comeback by the Californian.

Mangrum Makes Great Comeback
Playing in his first PGA championship, Mangrum usually nerveless game fell to pieces for the morning round. Wild shooting forced him to accept three penalty strokes. He was 3 down at the 18th, 4 down at the 24th and 3 behind at the 30th. He appeared hopelessly outclassed, yet stuck to it doggedly to win the 32nd, 34th and 35th holes with 4's, the last a birdie.

With the match deadlocked and the crowd for him after the plucky comeback, Mangrum belted his drive some 275 yards and too far. The ball rolled to the edge of the lake that bites into the last fairway. He couldn't take a stance except by wading into water and had to waste a shot chipping back, so he reached the green in 3. Ghezzi, meanwhile, hit his second to the left of the green and chipped up dead for his par 4.

Too much muscle cut Mangrum out of the running. Had the drive been 18 inches less he might have turned up as a finalist in his freshman year. Ghezzi flourished on five of the last nine holes to card a 40. He completed the 36 holes in 68-74—142, even par, against Mangrum's 73-71—144.

Seattle Yacht First To Finish Long Race

NANAIMO, B. C., July 12.—(AP)—Sleek cruisers competing in the Winslow, Wash.-Nanaimo, B. C. "predicted log" yacht race began arriving at this east coast Vancouver island port tonight but the winner will not be known until the entire fleet is in.

The skipper sailing closest to his predicted running time between Winslow and here will be declared winner of the international event.

First boat to arrive was the cruiser Eliza, Captain V. B. Gray-Warner, Seattle yacht club. It was her first year in the event and she finished almost an hour ahead of schedule.

Joe DiMaggio Gunning for 61 Hits, Record Set With San Francisco in Coast Circuit

ST. LOUIS, July 12.—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio, after hitting safely in 51 consecutive games, has a new goal.

He wants to exceed his minor league record of 61 straight games, established when he was with the San Francisco Pacific coast league baseball club in 1933.

And the New York Yankees' centerfielder believes he can do it.

"It's up to the pitchers to stop me now. The way I feel now I don't believe I'll be my own undoing. The pressure's completely off now. I go to bat just as relaxed as if there never had been any streak."

The Yankee slugger disclosed that since the doubleheader when he tied and surpassed George Sisler's modern major league record of 41 games the strain has diminished gradually and he feels swell now.

His slugging has put him in the lead in home runs and runs-batted-in for the season. He bagged his 20th homer yesterday and Saturday knocked in one run to bring his total to 74.

His fan mail is keeping pace with his hitting.

"There it is for the past two days, forwarded from New York," he laughed, pointing to a huge sack of unopened letters.

Aided by his wife, Joe answers all fan mail, generally sending a post card with his autograph.

He admits that, of course, the hitting streak can't go on forever. "It's gotta stop sometime. Then

W. I. Salary Limit Reaches Maximum

TACOMA, July 12.—(AP)—The Western International baseball league board of directors voted to hike the monthly salary limit $150 and the player limit to 16, here today.

Under the new regulations the clubs may pay $2,400 monthly in players' wages and may carry one more player than heretofore. Sixteen players including a playing manager may be carried or 16 players and a non-playing skipper may be on the roster.

These changes bring the Western International salary and player limits to the maximums allowed in Class B baseball.

The directors decided against any changes in the schedule.

Robert Abel, president of the circuit, declared after the meeting: "The league definitely will go through the season with the same lineup of teams and on the schedule as originally drafted."

Carl Hubbell Leads New York Giants Ancients

By LUTHER EVANS
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK.—If the Giants finish fourth, they should be stuffed into the second division of the National League, Willie Schaeffer ought to be named manager of the year.

Schaeffer, the one-time lightweight who trains them, has managed to hold the Old Gentlemen of upper Harlem together.

Baseball men have been expecting the Polo Grounders not only to fall into the second division, but to fall apart.

Of course, factories have been forced to work double shifts to furnish Schaeffer with sufficient tape, court plaster, rubbing liniment, vitamin pills and crutches cause there is nothing much to for him to do the work.

Schaeffer knows his assignment. When he applied for the position during the days of the late John J. McGraw, Little Napoleon asked him one question. It was: "What would you do if one of my players broke his leg?" "I'd call a doctor," replied Schaeffer.

P. S.—He got the job.

While the antiquated Giants look forward to a highly successful home stand following considerable good fortune on the road, William Harold Terry no doubt sits up nights worrying about an impending law suit. The Foreign Legion claims rightfully that Colonel Terry has been depriving it of needed material by snapping up just about every major league castoff.

These castoffs, particularly a pair of 33-year-olds named Richard Bartell and Odell Hale, are among the principal reasons why the gaffers from the lee of Coogan's Bluff are not looking the fiddle Phillies in the eye.

Dick Bartell, who starred at shortstop during the Giants' pennant-winning days, is prolonging his career at third base, where he has much less running around to do than at shortstop. Neale Meets Oakland Baseball Neiman in Finals

PORTLAND, Ore., July 12.—(AP)—Little Ron English, Oakland, Calif., school teacher, advanced to the men's singles finals in the Oregon tennis tournament today with a 6-4, 6-0, 6-2 victory over Tom Kelly, Portland.

The stocky, blond sharpshooter will play Emery Neale, Portland, ace of the Stanford university team, for the championship Sunday. Neale defeated his fellow townsman, Sam Lee, 10-8, 6-0, 6-2, to reach the finals.

English also teamed with sharpshooting Larry Hall, Bakersfield, Calif., to enter the men's doubles finals, defeating Don Lewis and Sam Lee, Portland, 6-1, 6-3, 6-1.

Neale and Leonard Clark, Portland, who downed Vic Ramis and Walt Davis, Portland, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-3, will be the opponents.

New women's champion is Daphne Buckell, Oakland, who trounced Defending Titleholder Helen Gurley, Sacramento, 6-0, 6-2. Dorothy Head, Alameda, Calif., won the women's junior title by defeating Betty Thompson, San Francisco, 6-2, 6-3. Miss Head then won the women's doubles by pairing with Miss Gurley and defeating Mrs. Golda Meyer Gross, San Francisco and Miss Buckell, 6-4, 6-4.

Hard-driving Jim Brink of Seattle won the men's junior championship from Harry Roche, San Francisco, 6-2, 8-8, 6-1.

Henry Pfister, San Francisco, became boys' champion by defeating Jim Dixon, Portland, 7-5, 4-6, 8-6.

Jimmy Dykes Returns To Sox Helm Sunday

CHICAGO, July 12.—(AP)—President William Harridge of the American league tonight lifted the suspension of Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox, effective Sunday.

Dykes, one of the league's most colorful figures, was suspended last Saturday because of a run-in with Umpire Steve Basil during a game with Cleveland. Harridge charged that Dykes' conduct on the playing field was "very offensive, not only to the spectators in other cities throughout the circuit but to our entire organization."

Harridge had objected to Dykes' "prolonged wrangling and his language."

Brooklyn Beaten But Clings to Loop Lead

(United Press)
Brooklyn's pennant hopes and five-game winning streak struck a snag at the hands of the Cincinnati Reds Saturday, but as the second-place St. Louis Cardinals lost to the New York Giants, the Dodgers retained their 3 1/2 game National league lead.

The Dodgers sustained a 3-to-2 setback when Bucky Walters limited them to six safeties, including an eighth-inning homer by Dixie Walker—his ninth of the year—that accounted for both of the Brooklyn runs. A wild throw by Pete Reiser accounted for the second Cincinnati score, while the Reds tallied the game-winner in the seventh on Eddie Joost's single, a sacrifice, Walter's single and an infield out.

The Giants, behind the combined seven-hit hurling of Bob Carpenter and Walter Brown, defeated the Cardinals, 6-4. Carpenter helped to win his sixth triumph by batting in half the New Yorkers' runs with a single and a double.

With Johnny Lanning twirling a six-hitter, the Pittsburgh Pirates barned in their sixth successive victory, a 6-to-1 win over the Phillies. Elbie Fletcher punched a two-run homer in the fourth frame and his mates iced the game in the eighth with a four-run flurry.

The Boston Braves - Chicago Cubs' game was halted by rain after the first inning. Only hit of the cut contest was a double by Sibbie Sisti, who was out trying for a triple.

In the American league the Yankees ran their victory string to 12 straight games and increased their loop lead to five games by beating the St. Louis Browns, 7-5. Joe DiMaggio extended his hitting streak to 51 consecutive contests by smacking a double in the fourth inning, when Eldon Auker pitched for St. Louis and the Yanks scored five runs.

Doerr's Four-Run Homer Helps
The runner-up Cleveland Indians were defeated, 4-2, by the Philadelphia Athletics as Lester McCrabb turned in a five-hitter for his seventh victory. A home run by Wally Moses with Al Brancato on base in the fifth inning provided the A's with their margin of victory.

The Washington Senators came out of their nine-game losing slump with a 5-to-3 triumph over the Chicago White Sox. Dutch Leonard, who registered his seventh win against 11 losses, was solved for nine hits but his mates made the most of Chicago misplays to score three times in the third inning and then added the game-winner in the fourth on Jake Early's double and Johnny Bloodworth's single.

Two rookie right-handers—Dick Newsome and Tex Hughson—pitched the Boston Red Sox to a twin triumph over the Detroit Tigers, 7-5 and 10-2. Newsome hurled the opener and allowed nine hits while Hughson twirled the aftermath and gave up the same amount of base blows. A home run by Bobby Doerr with the bases jammed in the third inning plus Jimmy Fox's four-bagger in the seventh won the first game for Boston. A 18-hit attack featured by Fox's second homer of the day paced the Sox to victory in the nightcap.

Portland Scores 5-4 Victory Over Seattle

PORTLAND, Ore., July 12.—(AP)—The Portland Beavers edged out Seattle in the 12th inning today, 5 to 4, for their first Coast league win of the week.

John Gill and Danny Escobar opened the 12th with singles and Les Scarsella fumbled Joe Annunzio's sacrifice bunt, which filled the bases with none out. Manager Oscar Vitt then sent Ted Norbert to pinch hit for Joe Concarant, and Norbert lammed a single that would have been a double under any other circumstances. Gill scored with the winning run.

Scarsella hit a home run for Seattle with one on in the first but Herman Reich evened it for Portland in the third, also with a two-run homer.

At Oakland, Ralph Buxton, giving up only five scattered singles, pitched Oakland to a 4-0 victory over San Francisco.

San Diego and Sacramento played a doubleheader Friday and did not play Saturday. Los Angeles and Hollywood were playing a night game.
