

Early School Sites In Lane Recalled

bear the names of early settlers: Hilyard for Hilyard Shaw; Patterson for Dr. A. W. Patterson who came across the plains on horseback in 1852 and served the community in its ailments. He was an able surveyor, also, and helped lay out the town site. Two daughters, the Misses Ida and Harriet Patterson live on the place selected by their father for a home. Dr. Patterson was interested in education also. He served as County Superintendent and had a large share in seeing the bill for the establishment of the University passed by the state senate of which he was a member.

Charmelton has been mentioned as being derived from Charnel Muligan. Blair boulevard at Fourth avenue has a marker on the site of the Prior Blair home—a home known far and wide for its hospitality.

The First Methodist church was organized on April 10, 1854 in the home of Solomon Zumwalt. It was marked on the 80th anniversary of its founding. Mr. Zumwalt presented the marker.

It is not possible in so brief a sketch to be at all adequate in recalling names of pioneers. The paper mentioned above has the names of Cal Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Young who were on their honeymoon. They seem to have met with some adverse experiences but their pioneer spirit saw them through. Mrs. Young's father, the Reverend Joseph Gillespie was captain of a train of 50 wagons. He managed so well that the group had no difficulties with Indian molestation. Among the names one finds Kincaid; Stevens; Spores; McClung; Day; Harlow. Many more, but Paul in recounting the worthies of an earlier day, remarked "Time would fail me!" Even so!

Clifford M. Drury To Give Historical Talk Tuesday Evening

Pioneer-minded people of Lane county—and who isn't during these Oregon Trail days?—will be interested in a talk on the role which Marcus Whitman and his family played in Oregon immigration, to be given Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in 207 Chapman hall on the University of Oregon campus.

The address, to which the public is invited, will be given by Clifford M. Drury, head of the department of church history and missions at the San Francisco Theological seminary at San Anselmo, Cal. He will reveal many unusual facts gathered while he was writing biographies of H. H. Spaulding and Marcus Whitman, the two pioneer missionaries who had a profound influence on the "early" history of the state.

1500 Delegates Due At Legion Meeting

will be located in the lobbies of the Osburn and Eugene hotels for the convenience of those whose housing already has been taken care of.

Chairman Schimberg has a display of the convention badges in the window of the Paul D. Green store, in connection with a portion of the cups and trophies which are up in competition during the current year and which will be awarded at the convention. There were ordered altogether for the convention, 1400 American legion badges, 450 Auxiliary badges, and 50 distinguished guest badges for the two conventions. In addition there are 700 Delegate bars, 500 alternate bars, 300-40 and 8 bars, and 75-8 and 40 bars. The total cost of the badges was just under $500.

Memorial Service Set
Next Sunday, at 8:00 p.m., at the Elks Temple, will be held the memorial services. To this the public is invited. It will be conducted by Rev. Joseph Dixon, of Hood River, department chaplain, now a chaplain with the 41st Division at Camp Lewis.

Each evening during the entire week the American Legion will hold its official Legion dance at The Holland, between Eugene and Springfield. Manager L. D. Erickson of The Holland, has secured five top billing acts featuring nationally known entertainers along with a "name" band. The Holland has been designed as the place where all "may bury old feuds, the causes of which have been long forgotten, or where old friendships may be resurrected." Here the Legionnaires and the public will have opportunity to wear out their own and their parents' feet. This dance is open to the public and they are invited to attend.

Drum Corps Contest
Eight drum corps have formally signed up to attend the convention. The first to arrive will be the Junior Drum Corps from Baker, which will come in late unday afternoon, determined to place first at this year's competition.

The champion Albany Junior Corps will arrive Monday morning followed by the Newport and Oregon City Junior Corps, and the Klamath Falls, Roseburg and Portland Post No. 1 Senior corps, and the famous Ashland Kiltie band. These corps will parade the streets at intervals during the convention, but their big appearance is in the street parade and Drum Corps contest at the Civic Stadium on Tuesday evening, July 22. The route of march will be on Williams street from Seventh to Twentieth, from the Parade will go through the Stadium, so that those who desire to see the drum corps contest may also view the parade from the same seats. Due to the great interest in the colorful drum corps contest it was considered holding it in Hayward field, but the committee considered it was too great a march from down town to Hayward field for the juniors, to be immediately followed by a drum corps contest.

Points Listed
St. Joseph K. Pfeiffer of the U. S. Army quartermaster corps, will be in charge of the judges. Points are scored as follows: (1) Inspection, 10 points (to be judged at origin of parade); (2) cadence, 10 points; (3) marching and maneuvering, 30 points; (4) drumming, 20 points; (5) bugles, 20 points; (6) general effect, 10 points. Cadence must not vary below 128 or over 132 steps per minute without penalty. Each corps must be on the field not over ten minutes or less than nine minutes, and must be in motion playing at least seven out of the ten minutes. Immediately preceding the drum corps contest will be the drum majorettes contest. Two trophies are given in this, one for the best twirler, and the other for the drum majorette showing the best leadership of her corps. L. W. "Pink" Manerud is chairman of the contest committee.

40 and 8 Event
The Forty and Eight, Societe des or La Quarante Hommes et Huit Chevaux, the Legion's fun organization, will have its big day on Monday, July 21. Their parade will be followed by their banquet at the Elks lodge and "Wreck" at the armory, and will close with the business session Tuesday afternoon. Outside of the parade, this is definitely not open to the public, the only exceptions being the "poor goods" who will receive their initiation at the "Wreck" at the hand of Portland Voiture No. 25 Drill Team, which has a national reputation along this line, rivaling that of Hitler's Panzer divisions.

The Eight and Forty, the Auxiliary's fun organization, will hold their Pouvoir, Sunday, at the Osborn hotel, and devote the rest of the convention to the work of the Auxiliary convention.

Two Road Jobs Up Before Commission

Bids will be opened at the meeting of the state highway commission in Portland next Thursday for surfacing the strip of road between Kenneth Nielsen's place and the Fisher road. The stretch is for one and one-half miles and fills in the gap, (except for the overhead), on Route F between Eugene and Veneta. It is expected bids will be opened on the overhead next month.

Also, bids will be opened next week for grading and oiling a portion of the old territorial road south from Monroe, 2.09 miles to be cared for. This strip comes just to the Lane county line.

369 Singers Signed For Pageant Chorus

Registration in the Oregon Trail pageant chorus was declared closed at the first full-chorus rehearsal Friday evening, according to Glenn Griffith, choral director. A group of 369 singers is now rehearsing. During this next week rehearsals will be held Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday evenings. All except the Wednesday practice will be held at the Methodist church, but on that night the entire group will meet at the stage on the fairgrounds.

Changes Made In Miller's Staff

Mrs. Dessie Mellon, well known to Eugeneans for several years has now assumed charge of the drapery sewing and workroom at Millers Department store according to J. E. Hayward, manager. Mr. Hayward also announces that C. W. Robin, upholsterer with over 25 years of experience, will conduct the new upholstery department at Millers. "This makes it possible," says Mr. Hayward, "for our decorators to go into a home and work out a completely co-ordinated decorative scheme including draperies, slip-covers, fine upholstery or whatever is needed."

Mrs. Mellon and Mr. Robin have their shops in a building adjacent to the Miller store and may be reached by telephone through the store. New manager of the men's department at Millers is Mr. Leland Robe whose past experience includes display work, stock control and selling in prominent Eugene stores for several years. Mr. Robe is a native Oregonian, born in Brownsville, receiving his elementary and high school education in the Willamette Valley. Two years at the Columbia junior college preceded his enrollment here in the University of Oregon.

A prominent member of the Eugene Gleemen for years, Mr. Robe has been an active participant in many civic activities.

Navy Recruiters To Give Radio Program

Regular broadcasts over station KORE on Tuesday afternoon have been scheduled by the Eugene office of the U. S. naval recruiting service. The series of programs will start next Tuesday at 4 p. m. The programs will be 15 minutes long. Participating will be D. P. Lockwood and B. J. Hall, chief petty officers. General information on navy life, opportunities for men in the service and data on how the navy operates will be told on the program.

Street Dress-up For Legion and Pageant Continues people awoken, according to plans of George P. Hitchcock, manager of the Pageant.

Store owners are urged by Mr. Hitchcock to decorate their store fronts in pioneer style before the American Legion, to "dress up" the town as much as possible both before and during the Pageant festivities.

Manager Hitchcock reminded merchants that there are only six days left before the opening day of the American Legion convention. He also asked merchants to place their American flags used for special occasions in the slots in front of all stores, to aid in decorating the town. The following merchants have already signified their intention of decorating their store fronts as pioneer establishments:

the searchers. One shoe believed to belong to the missing man was found, entangled in the brush, as though it had been torn from his foot.

"Wilhelm is said to be familiar with the surrounding country, and it is not believed that he could have been lost. The possibility was expressed that he has wandered away and may be ill in the woods and physically or mentally unable to find his way out.

"Wilhelm for many years . . . held that there was an abundance of coal on his property, and he has discussed this with neighbors and shown samples."

Finding of the skeleton by the Martins immediately recalled Wilhelm's disappearance. The fact that there was the remnant of only one shoe remaining proved beyond doubt that it was Wilhelm's bones

It's there with an Extra Wallop in reserve

SOMETIMES in your automobile you want zip and ginger, sometimes thrift.

Just name your choice. In this high-stepping Buick straight-eight with Compound Carburetion† you can have either, each in its proper place.

You can go about your business in easy, ordinary, everyday travel—and this frugal, two-carburetor system will keep you rolling smoothly with only the forward, thrift-size mixer on the job.

Yet any time you want life, lift, super-power it's there with an extra wallop in reserve—just step down on the treadle and you've got it.

That simple move sends the second carburetor into action; steps up not only fuel supply but the air supply as well.

Thus you have your fun—and frugality too. Owners report mileage figures as much as 10% to 15% higher than on previous Buicks of the same size.

Which means, better go look at the engine that's both thrill-packed and thrifty too. You'll find it in a bigger, roomier, smarter-looking automobile that gives you more value per dollar than anything else you can buy.
