"THAT DREADFUL OLD MAN" (Petain)

There is a friend of ours who never refers to the once honored hero of Verdun (THEY SHALL NOT PASS!) except as "that dreadful old man."

She will say that the France she has known is dead! Yet there is pathos beyond words in this tottering old wretch, the barely breathing symbol of decayed greatness.

France is starving. A miserable populace rises against his authority "like an ill wind." There is no choice but complete submission to all the conqueror's demands.

Submission of France probably will mean that we and our friends, the British, will soon have ugly chores to do. The Petain submission probably presages a German thrust through France and Spain toward some of those "outposts" which we consider necessary to safety of this hemisphere.

No matter what one may think of old Petain and the sorry men of Vichy, it is not going to be easy to consider the French people as real foes. It may be, as our friend prefers to believe, that the French nation (at least as we have known it in history) is dead.

There is in this last surrender the solemn warning to all of us that with Hitlerism there can be no compromise. France has saved absolutely nothing by compromise, not even escape from war. History offers no parallel of humiliation.

RIDICULOUS REPRISAL

Bolivia booted blundering Boches bluntly out of its bailiwick, perspicaciously preceiving pernicious plotting.

Belligerent Berlin, bemused by Bolivian boldness, ridiculously arrested as a reprisal residents of the Reich from Bolivia.

Charging conspiracy to encompass the come-uppance of the horrendous Hitler hierarchy, Himmler's henchmen really rendered the Reich ridiculous.

SCHOLARSHIPS FOR MINERS

A new scholarship has just been established at the University of Illinois. We don't know whether it has a specific name, but it ought to be called the American Scholarship.

Every time someone opens up an opportunity like this for young men on the make, we feel proud that we are in and of America.

The world is a stage on which lots of husbands have only thinking parts.

SOME SUGGESTIONS ON STREET SIGNS
EUGENE.—(To the Editor)—May we have our cake and eat it, too? We can in this case.

of the present posts by about three feet and paint the name of the avenues and streets vertically on the part remaining.

1. Larger letters and numbers could be used thus increasing the distance the signs may be read.

2. Assuming all four sides of the post to be lettered, there would be twice as many signs per post than at present.

3. Because the signs would be low they would be much easier to see at night while driving. How many of us have NOT had the doubtful pleasure in the city of Eugene of having to get out of our car on a rainy night to see a street sign?

4. Depredations of souvenir hunting boys and girls would be practically eliminated since there would be no cross bars to knock off and short posts are harder to pull out of the ground than long ones.

5. A short post without cross-bars, in my humble opinion, would look better.

6. I believe that installation, replacement and upkeep costs would be reduced.

I do not claim credit for originating this idea. When I moved here two years ago I moved from a city which used the type I mention. Needless to say I noticed the difference was not to Eugene's credit.
