Increasing Number of Tanks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army officials have developed a new tank to protect crews from rivet fragments being fired into the interior of the machine by bursting shells. The tanks being produced at the present time are of a type not known, but officials indicated that soon all tanks will be of the "one piece" type. New tanks were developed during a study of the effect of fire on armored columns during the invasion of France. Nearly all nations armored their tanks by means of the rivet method prior to the war, but the Battle of France demonstrated that shells—particularly 75 MM projectiles—would shear the head from the rivet and then drive the body into the inside of the vehicle with the force of a bullet. Casualties were heavy among tank personnel.

"The rivets were forced through like someone spraying the inside of the tank with a shot-gun loaded with broken rivets," one officer said.

First problem of ordnance officials was to design a tank to protect its crew from flying metal without weakening armor protection. A new rivet was designed that could not be blown into the inside, but officials then learned that if armor plate was produced with beveled edges, sections could be welded together and make the tank a one-piece affair. The welded tank was found to be superior to those equipped with special rivets. Besides giving the tank greater over-all strength, no pieces of flying metal can penetrate the interior unless it pierces the thick armor plate.

EVANGELIST SPEAKS

ELMIRA, Oct. 21.—(Special)—Evangelist R. O. Melby of Los Angeles, will hold meetings in the Elmira Open Bible Standard church each evening except Saturday, at 7:45 beginning Tuesday evening.

At Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, Oct. 21.—(Special)—Mrs. Omar Falk entertained with a bridal shower on Oct. 14 at the home of her mother, Mrs. Warren Isom of Harrisburg, honoring her cousin, Virginia Isom, whose marriage to Leslie Falk took place Sunday, Oct. 19. The afternoon was spent playing games and contests fitting the occasion, and refreshments were served to the following guests: Mrs. Charles Falk and daughters Lila and Vonda, Mrs. Henry Seifelt, Mrs. Frank Koontz and sons Herman and Jimmie, Mrs. Phillip Forester, all of Halsey; Mrs. Forester and daughter from the east; Mrs. W. F.

Yates, Mrs. A. Stark, Mrs. Clarence Smith, all of Albany; Mrs. Glen Isom and daughter Rosemary, Mrs. Sarah Isom, Mrs. T. C. Isom, Mrs. Frank Isom and Eleanor, Mrs. Charley Bierly, all of Brownsville; Mrs. R. O. Wade, Mrs. W. E. Isom, Mrs. Wade Isom and the hostess, Mrs. Omar Falk and son Noel, of Harrisburg. The Past Noble Grand club will meet Friday evening, October 24, at the home of the president, Mrs. H. T. Widdifield. Mrs. Henderson and family went to Independence Sunday to attend the funeral of her brother, George Fawver, who died at Junction City Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Ingram are visiting at the home of Mr. Ingram's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ingram. They recently sold their store at Greenleaf and will leave next Tuesday for Delta, Colorado, to make their home. Mr. Ingram hopes his health will be improved by the change of climate. Ed Walden, 70, a resident of this section of the country for many years, died at his home on Ingram Island Saturday afternoon, of a heart ailment. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Monroe. The women of the Methodist church will hold a rummage and food sale at the Wadsworth insurance office Thursday, October 23, beginning at 10:30 o'clock.

Christian Science

"Doctrine of Atonement" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 19. The Golden Text was, "There is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time" (I Timothy 2:5,6). Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?" For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Rom. 8:35,38,39). The Lesson-Sermon also included the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life and Love. Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage" (p.18).
