

Gas Victim Is Thankful

THE DALLES, Ore., Nov. 21.—(Special) —Forrest Rickard, employe of the Forest Products Treating company in The Dalles, today had more than the usual cause for Thanksgiving.

Pickard is alive today because a fellow employe, L. E. Strode, at one time took a first aid course given by the local fire department—and had the presence of mind to apply what he had learned when an emergency arose.

Rickard, who is Strode's helper at the local plant, was found unconscious in the garage at his home, overcome by monoxide gas. Strode had gone to the garage in the course of a search for his helper, after the latter had failed to report for duty. Rickard's body was found on the garage floor, where he had fallen unconscious while apparently attempting to open the garage door.

For more than 30 minutes Strode applied artificial respiration. After 10 minutes faint heartbeats were discernible. The pulse would cease as soon as the artificial respiration was stopped, however.

Strode continued his life-saving efforts until a physician and the fire department inhalator squad arrived on the scene half an hour after Rickard's unconscious form had been discovered. By this time the spark of returning life had become stronger.

Physicians reported today that Rickard, under treatment in a local hospital, definitely would recover. They also said that Rickard almost certainly would have died, if it had not been for the first aid rendered by Strode.

P.-T. A. Provide

DEERHORN, Nov. 21.—(Special) —The Christmas treats for the annual Yuletide school community celebration will be provided by a supper sale at the December meeting of the Parent-Teacher association on Dec. 12. Mrs. Will Knox and Mrs. Emma Hubbard were appointed to arrange the menu for the affair. Mrs. Earl Ramsey and Mrs. Frank Mecum were appointed to plan the program for that evening. Mrs. Will Knox, Mrs. Earl Ramsey and Miss Anna Rose Cotrell were appointed to secure curtains for the windows in the upper grade room. A program of moving pictures of the Rose festival at Portland and the Yellowstone national park taken by Frank Rennie of Thurston and shown by P. J. Bartholomew of Springfield followed the business session. Mrs. George Perkins and Mrs. John Sloan served refreshments.

R. C. Kuehner, county club agent, was a special visitor at the recent Parent-Teacher meeting to present awards to the youngsters who completed their work. After the program the Four-H club pledge was repeated in unison under the leadership of Lyle Shrode. First year pins were awarded Larry Bullis, Charles Coleman, Dean Hanson, Royal Rauch, Beryl Walker, Belva Wheeler; second year certificates were given Jean Barreau, Jr., Don Benson, Ray Coleman, Harriet Harper, Lawrence Neer, Gale Partridge, Carroll Rauch, Don Thienes, and Ross Walker; third year pins were awarded to Stella Coleman, Doris Hanson, Louise Knox, Roland Meyer, Betty Ramsey, and Harold Rauch, fourth year certificate to Lyle Shrode and fifth year gold pins to Janet Stacy and Lila Hanson.

Vacation dates at the local grade school have been set to begin Dec. 19 and end Jan. 5 for the Christmas and New Year's holiday. This will give the children and teachers two weeks' vacation. There will be no school on Friday after Thanksgiving.

Both rooms at the grade school have been enrolled in the junior Red Cross. The children brought their pennies to make up the required amount for the school enrollment and each was awarded a pin.

The Thanksgiving issue of the grade school paper, "All American" was distributed this week. New staff members include Larry Bullis, business manager; Doris Hanson, personal column, and Lyle Shrode, circulation.

Harvey Potter was the guest of honor at a surprise party at his home on his birthday this week. Those present for the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Burkhalter of Thurston, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Hucka of Fall Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Potter of Walterville, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Post of Vida, Mr. and Mrs. Codgill Zillokoski, Jeanne and Rodney Zillokoski, Creswell, Arthur Belknap of Blue River, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Odell, Wister Odell, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Couch, Roland Meyer, Clyde Meyer, William R. White, Mrs. A. J. Irvin and Harvey Potter.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren King and son, Ronald, of West Sand Lake, N. Y., have left for their home after several days' visit at the home of Mr. King's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John P. King.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Odell have received word from their son, Wilbur Odell, that he is now stationed at Balboa, Panama Canal zone, on shore duty. He is now in his

Cadillac Observes 40th Anniversary

Cadillac observes its fortieth anniversary year with six series of 1942 models destined to enhance further the company's prestige as a builder of quality automobiles. Schulz Motor company, local dealer, announced.

New comfort, new ease of operation, new economy and reliability are apparent in each of the series, but an even more dominant note is sounded in an advance of a style motif that Cadillac pioneered a year ago.

Both from an appearance and a factual standpoint, the latest cars are wider and lower. A width measurement of 81 inches and a height of 63 inches on one of the sedans furnishes an example of how designers have achieved the fleet, low-slung lines that are most admired by the American automobile owner.

To intensify this effect several refinements have been made. Fenders have been lengthened and, like the 1941 Cadillac Sixty Special, now extend deep into the doors. The distinctive checker-board grille has been broadened. Hood louvres and the cowl ventilator have been removed, a step made practical by a new controlled circulation system that feeds fresh air into the passenger compartment. Bumpers have greater depth, more ruggedness and are crowned by two streamlined, bullet-shaped guards. Rear wheel shields are standard equipment. Running boards are concealed. The net result is a seeming molding of the body, hood and fenders into an integral part.

Arthur Belknap, packer and guide of the upper McKenzie, has been a visitor during the past week at the home of his sister, Mrs. Joe Odell. He is making preparations to guide a party of men into the mountains of northern California on an expedition in the interest of the National Geographic magazine.

FROM LATHAM LATHAM, Nov. 21.—(Special) —Sunday visitors at the Fred Harris home were Evelyn Radford of Bend and Mrs. Edna McGarvin and son, Frankie of London.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gilroy of Portland spent Sunday evening at the Merle Porter home.

Mrs. Hazel Chapman entertained the Jemo's group at the home of Mrs. Merle Porter Friday.

A party in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Roscoe Yearous was held recently at the home of Mrs. Yearous' sister, Mrs. Rufus Arne. The honored guest received many gifts. Refreshments were served after a social afternoon.

Guests included: Mrs. L. A. Yearous and daughter Marie, Mrs. Carl Buffington, Mrs. Albert Hull, Mrs. Claude Plaster, Mrs. Glenn Arne and daughter, the honored guest, Mrs. Roscoe Yearous, and the hostess, Mrs. Rufus Arne.

Fishermen Drown

CHARLESTON, Ore., Nov. 21.—(Special) —The bodies of two fishermen, Charles Jacobs, 58, and E. "Slim" Christensen, 56, both of Coos Bay, were sought today on the beach near here. Their 32-foot fishing boat was towed into port yesterday by the coast guard with its mast swept away. The men had gone on a shark fishing trip Tuesday and it was believed the boat struck the jetty.

H. E. Unit Meets

ELMIRA, Nov. 21.—(Special) —The Elmira-Noti extension unit met recently all day with Mrs. Estelle Norris. The topic was cooking of pork and lamb. The demonstrators were Mrs. Bert and Mrs. Heisen. After the luncheon a checkup was made of all the work done the past year according to instructions received at these meetings. The unit went on record to sponsor 4-H club work. A committee was appointed to help secure funds to send the outstanding club member to 4-H summer school. Roll call was answered with "things we have to be thankful for." They also voted to become a member of the Red Cross. There were 18 members present. The next meeting is to be in the Elmira grange hall. The meeting date is changed to Dec. 8 from 7:30 to 9:30 in the evening. Everyone in the nearby community interested is invited. Miss Nellie Lyle, extension leader, is to be present. This meeting is to help with the defense program. Madge Guyle will have charge of carols, singing at this meeting.

The committee to meet with the budget committee Monday in Eugene is Emelia Riensche, and Ethel M. Parker.

Marian F. Horn will preach at 11 o'clock Sunday, Nov. 23, at the Church of Christ. His text is "Sources of Strength in the Church." Mrs. Nellie Horn will sing a special song. The regular pastor, Rev. Hartzel Cobb, and Mrs. Cobb are spending their Thanksgiving vacation with relatives in Star, Idaho.

From Junction City

JUNCTION CITY, Nov. 21.—(Special) —The Danish Brotherhood sponsored a basket social this week in the hall for members and friends. The proceeds from the sale of the baskets, which amounted to about $50, will be sent to the old people's home in Seattle.

The young people of the Baptist church presented a Thanksgiving program on Tuesday evening. After the program the ladies of the church served refreshments.

Mrs. F. H. Weber of Brownsville spent Thanksgiving with her daughter, Mrs. Claude Michael and Mr. Michael.
