

BUCK QUACKS

By BUCK BUCHWACH

(NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21—(Special)—We realize neither Louisiana State nor Auburn is an outstanding example of Southern football, but nevertheless we firmly believe that the caliber of football in this sector is far below that of the Pacific coast.

Auburn outplayed the Tigers throughout last Saturday to earn a very surprising 7-7 tie, although the Auburn team would have won except for a couple of bad breaks. In the fourth they blossomed out with a "T" formation after running the ball from a single wing-back all afternoon . . . and immediately drove from deep in their own territory to the 5-yard line and a first down. But the Auburns were held on the 1-yard stripe on a fourth down plunge from the single wing again . . . which failed.

Amplifying our original premise, it is our firm belief that any of the coast schools could whip the daylight out of either team . . . probably both together. Idaho and Montana unquestionably would be championship contenders in this conference.

Of course, they do have several things that surpass anything on the Pacific coast. For instance, there were 21 bands performing at halftime, which should be a world's record. Every high school in the territory had its band present—for free—and at halftime it was really breathtaking, overwhelming, and mighty colorful. The music? Well, the kids were nice looking youngsters anyway.

The fact of the matter is there was more music than football, a disease which we were told prevails at most games down here. The 21 bands seemed to be playing all at once most of the time, right through the game . . . not waiting for time outs as we do up north. Then they play the same gosh awful stuff L. H. Gregory railed about when the Southern Methodist band played in the Rose Bowl a few years ago. After hearing the bands I can't blame him a whit. He would have gone away muttering to himself after this demonstration.

Getting back to football, Tulane is supposed to be the wonder team of the south, did well against the weak New York Violets Saturday with a 45-0 score, but has been whipped three times down here. And any team that gets whipped three times down here should take up knitting or baling cotton.

The Stanford-W. S. C. game was a big surprise to the natives, of course, but what interested us most was something we faintly suspected previously. There is no differentiation between Oregon and Oregon State down here. We asked the bellboy who won several games, and among them he volunteered that Oregon beat California 6-0. We ventured that it was O. S. C. but he couldn't see the difference. It was Oregon to him, the place "where they have big ranches and wild Indians." That's just what he said, so help me, and we immediately started looking for our cowboy boots, chaps, spurs et al so we wouldn't disillusion the lad, who is about 17, about two years older than the average bellboy. He also thought Oregon knocked over Stanford, had never heard of an Oregon State, and said our basketball team had quite a reputation down here.

But we had a hard time convincing him we were from Oregon . . . the myth that you have to be about 9 feet 8 inches and a star basketball player to even be admitted to the Eugene school (which they think is in Portland, of course) is mighty strong down here.

The first night we were dumped into the amazing city of New Orleans the good news was that the Ducks whipped Santa Clara came through, and received quite a play in the local papers . . . because the Broncos are regarded as the best in the west down here. The reason? Well, Santa Clara is practically a resident of the Sugar Bowl, which makes them tops, of course. Out here they'd give their right eye to outshine the Rose Bowl, but the fact of the matter is they recognize the fact that they get the leftovers after Pasadena gets the glory.

The reason is that no Pacific coast conference team can ever appear in the Sugar Bowl. The grasping of Santa Clara is an attempt—if somewhat feeble—to snatch the allure of Coast football away from the Rose Bowl. Which they'll never do . . . out here it's strictly a business proposition: on the coast it's more of a community project, with ten schools having a stake in the classic.

Anyway, beating Santa Clara is a big feat out here, and Oregon ranks very high.

Notre Dame is seeking more coast competition in recognition of the generally high caliber of play in the West. In addition to U.S.C., the Irish will take on Stanford's Indians, with or without the "T" formation. The deal is a two-year agreement according to Don Liebendorfer, press agent for the Indians, but may be lengthened.

It's too bad the two clubs couldn't get together this season; it would be mighty interesting to watch that "T" make mince-meat of the South Bend club . . . which it undoubtedly would.

Battling Axemen Downed By Stubborn Albany Bulldogs, 7-0

Five Eugene Drives Halted

Local Club Plays 'Dogs' On Even Terms

By DEWEY RAY
Coach Fritz Kramer's Eugene high Axemen made a valiant effort at Civic Stadium field Thursday to end the season with a glorious upset over the favored Albany Bulldogs but the Bulldogs hung onto their lead as tenaciously as their name would indicate and won 7-0.

The Albany team was the heavy favorite and dominated the first half, scoring on the last play of the first quarter, but saw a changed team facing them in the second half. The Axemen, with their passing attack clicking, threatened the Albany goal line four times during the half but each time the Bulldog defense stiffened and held.

The game was the season's finale for both teams and the victory put the Bulldogs into a three-way tie with Corvallis and Salem for the No-Name league championship.

Wardhoff Scores
The Albany score came on the final play of the first quarter when Quarterback Ray Wardhoff took a lateral from Fullback John Schlegel and went around the Eugene right-end to score from the 13-yard line. The Bulldogs had previously driven from their own 18 to the Axemen 13 where they were held. Eugene's Howard Stewart punted out to the 46 yard line to the 37. Wardhoff lateraled to Schlegel who went around his own right end for 24 yards to the 13 yard line and Wardhoff scored on the next play. Schlegel cracked the center of the Eugene line for the extra point.

The Bulldogs threatened again in the second quarter but the drive was stopped on the Eugene 17 yard line. This drive marked the last time that Albany was to set foot on Eugene soil.

The Axemen took the halftime kickoff and immediately started a passing attack that carried them from their own 30 to the Albany 14 before they were held for downs. Quarterback Earl Haynes was on the throwing end of the attack with End Bob Martin and Fullback Jack Morgan on the receiving end of the two largest gains.

Bulldogs Stubborn
The Bulldogs ran three plays and punted out to their own 43. The Eugene team used their running attack and soon had two first downs and had carried to the Albany 20. Haynes pass to Martin was good for 16 yards and a first down on the four yard line. Halfback Dan Bloom was held for no gain at center and Haynes passed to Martin for two yards to the two yard line. Haynes was stopped at the center and Bloom on a fourth down crack at the left tackle was stopped and the Bulldogs took over.

Schlegel immediately punted out of danger but Stewart took the punt on the 31 and ran it back to the 23 from where the Axemen again drove toward the Albany yardline.

Haynes passed to Bloom for six yards to the 17. Morgan made four at left guard and Haynes passed to Bloom for five more to the eight. Bloom and Morgan punched the line for a first down on the four yard line but the Bulldogs tightened and stopped the next four plays for a net gain of two yards.

Schlegel again kicked from his end zone to the 31. With the fourth quarter nearly over Haynes started chucking passes again and the Axemen were soon on the Albany 10 yard line. Haynes passed to Hicks for nine yards to the one yard line. Haynes tried right guard but was held for no gain. Bobby Jacobson killed the Eugene threat by intercepting Haynes pass in the end zone and barely making it to the goal line from where Schlegel punted out again.

Haynes next pass was intercepted by Archie Hayes and the game ended with the ball in possession of the Bulldogs.

Oregon Opens Basketball Sked Tonight Against Signal Oilers

Howard Hobson's Oregon basketball team makes its 1941-42 debut Friday night in McArthur court when it meets Signal Oil of Portland, in one of three pre-season tests before the Webfoots set forth on their eastern journey Dec. 6. Game time is 8 o'clock.

The Duck cagers have been practicing since the start of school and have shown prospects of becoming a real contender for the Northern division crown when the race starts in January.

Headed by six lettermen, Hobson has molded a team that is very speedy and exceptionally good at ball handling. The year handicap of the team this year will be height—surprising enough since Oregon teams are famed for their tall players.

Although Hobson had not decided upon a starting lineup for Friday's game, a probable quintet consists of Paul Jackson and Porky Andrews, guards; Lloyd Jackson, center; and Warren Taylor and Rolph Fuhrman, forwards. Jackson is the only newcomer to this unit, all the rest being lettermen.

Reserves slated to see much action against the Oilers include Don Kirsch, Bob Newland, and Cliff Anet, guards; Archie Marshik, center; and Warren Christianson, Bob Wren, Ken Maynard, and Roger Dick, forwards.

Signal Oil, coached by Ray Smith, is rated one of the strongest independent teams in the northwest. Facing the Oilers against Oregon will be an ex-Webfoot negro star, Chuck Paterson, a leading hoopster in Portland independent circles for the past several years. Other ex-collegians who will appear in the Signal Oil lineup are Frank Maudie, Tony Romano, and Roy Pflugrad, all of Oregon State; Mary Scott of Portland U.; and several others.

Huskies To Open Up Against Oregon

SEATTLE, Nov. 21.—(P)—A Washington football team that has banked on running power to take it into a three-way tie for the Pacific Coast conference leadership is expected to unveil an offensive of fast breaks and aerial thrusts against Oregon here Saturday.

The reason, Coach Jimmy Pheasant's healthy respect for the giants in the Webfoot forward wall. Halfback Bobby Erickson, the triple threat sophomore, is scheduled to play a major role in the Washington attack. His first pass began to click for the first time in the victory over California.

Oregon is slated for arrival this afternoon for a pre-game workout on the stadium field.

OSC To Meet Small, Dangerous Montana

PORTLAND, Nov. 21.—(P)—Oregon State college, a team that is trying to counterpunch its way into the Rose Bowl, takes on small but potentially dangerous Montana here Saturday.

The game, secondary to the 42d Washington-Oregon battle at Seattle, still was expected to draw 10,000 because of OSC's mention in Rose Bowl gossip and because of related interest in the Beavers' shifting defense.

Virginia Victory Tops Grid Program

By United Press
Bill Dudley, Virginia's triple-threat star, put in a strong bid for All-America football recognition as he led his team to a 28-7 triumph over North Carolina in the future game of a sparse Thanksgiving Day gridiron program.

Dudley personally scored three touchdowns, passed to Bill Preston, an end, for another, kicked all four extra points and gained a total of 215 yards rushing and 117 on passes. The performance brought his season total to 968 yards rushing and 856 passing, and boosted the number of points he has scored in nine games to 134. The defeat brought to a close the most disastrous season in Carolina's history—seven losses and three wins.

Utah won at least a tie for its second straight Big Seven conference title by defeating Utah State 33-21. They will have an undisputed title if Colorado State upsets Brigham Young Saturday. Denver trounced Colorado, 27-0 and will finish as runner-up if BYU wins.

Wagner Beats Belcastro at Armory Show

By JACK WELLS, JR.
Pete Belcastro, the "Wallopin' Wop from Weed," took a good wallop at the hands of "Handsome" George Wagner in the main event of Herb Owen's weekly professional grappling show held at the armory Thursday night before a capacity crowd of wide-eyed shrieking fans.

Wagner, present coast light-heavyweight titleholder, partially gained the prestige he has lost in the past by defeating Belcastro at the meanie's own game, unnecessary roughness, and took two out of three falls to win the match and keep his belt.

Wagner took the first fall in nine minutes when he caught Belcastro by surprise as he was arguing with the referee and administered a damaging body slam which was topped off by a body press, pinning the stunned grappler's shoulders to the mat for the full count.

Into the ring, rushed Wagner before the bell sounded and threw a few hefty rights to Wagner's chin, weakening him for a body press and the fall. The time on the "short count" fall for Belcastro was just two minutes.

Throw Wild Punches
With the match standing at one fall each the two grapplers came back into the ring, a little tired from their first two falls encounter, and started right in to throw wild punches at each other as fast as they could. Wagner tried to come up on one side of the ring after being thrown out on the other but the wily Belcastro sensed the action and was ready for him when he showed up on the opposite side.

A few minutes later all three men were mixed up in the west corner of the ring, a lusty right missed Belcastro's jaw and landed on Elton Owen's unprotected member and knocked him to the mat, groggy and most of the action taken out of him. He came out of the fog just in time to catch Wagner astride Belcastro's form administering a body press which pinned his shoulders to the mat for the count and the match went to Wagner.

The forty-five minute semi-final match just about stole the spotlight from the main-event Lyman wrestled the entire time

'275 Club' Wins From Recreation Team In Special Match

The "275 club" playing for the first time as a team defeated Ed Riley's Eugene Recreation team Thursday night at the U-Bowl alleys in a special challenge match.

The 275-ers had their hands plenty full however, winning by only 2900 to 2895.

Ossie McPherson of the Eugene Recreation team was the individual star of the match with a high single game of 257 and a high series of 658. Rasmussen of the 275 club turned in a 227 and Northam recorded a series of 631 to top the winners.

Grovers Defeat Tigers, 13-0

Tri-County Champions Score On Pass Plays

By CHET HICKS
JUNCTION CITY, Nov. 21.—(Special)—Cottage Grove, held from advancing on the ground by a charging Tiger line, dealt Junction City two quick bombardments from the air to score a 13 to 0 victory here Thursday in the annual Thanksgiving day battle between the two schools.

The Junction City line, hard drilled by Coach Frank Thomas against an expected ground invasion from the Lions, held the visitors in check during the first quarter. Cottage Grove was able to net only eight yards on ground plays in the first period.

Fluke Play Scores
Cottage Grove scored with the second period one minute and 25 seconds old. The play was probably the fluke of the season. With the ball on Junction City's 30-yard line after a bad kick by Lefty Mortenson, John Seago went down into the corner of the field to take a pass from Gene Lusk.

Perry Allen, Junction City safety, was on hand to knock the pass down but instead of the ball going down, it went into the air. Seago took the ball out of the air and stumbled across the line to score. Alvin Jackson stopped John Minor's conversion attempt before he crossed the line.

A break in favor of Cottage Grove enabled the Lions to score their second touchdown. Recovering a Tiger fumble on the first play of the second half, the Lions wasted no time in scoring on a 24-yard pass.

John Minor went out sharply to his left just beyond the line of scrimmage and took a short pass from Gene Lusk. Minor got away from the Tiger defensive halfback

Anderson, held the Grovers for downs on the 14 after Lusk had been smeared for a loss on a pass attempt by Anderson.

Late in the fourth period, Junction City started a 49-yard drive but the final whistle stopped the Tigers on the Lion three-yard line. Del Bishop tossed a 14-yard pass to Perry Allen for the Tiger's first first down of the game. Bishop punted two yards on a spread offense and then Lefty Mortenson tossed a 30-yard pass to Elvan Pitney, a substitute end, which placed the ball on the Cottage Grove five-yard line.

A time out penalty moved the ball back to the ten. Using the spread formation again, Lefty Mortenson started to pass but instead decided to run the ball. With no interference, he started for the side line but was forced out of bounds short of the goal line on the three-yard marker.

Johnson took the match by virtue of taking the only fall during the time limit. A fast flying toe held tumbled the trick for the ex-loggger and Small patted the mat in token of surrender as Johnson used all of his "beef" in applying pressure to Small's leg. The time on the fall for Johnson was 22 minutes.

The match ended with Johnson securing another toe hold on the Polish villain but the bell saved him from the humiliation of losing by straight falls.

The entire card was duly officiated by Eugene's own ex-butcher, ex-boiler maker, ex-truck driver, ex-tavern operator, ex-etc., wrestling referee, Elton Owen.

Willamette Defeats Whitman, 28-0

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Willamette University today held the Northwest football conference title by virtue of a 28 to 0 victory over Whitman College before a crowd of 4,000 persons.

Undefeated in nine consecutive games, Willamette now goes to Honolulu for a game with University of Hawaii early in December.

The winners set up each of their scores on long passes from Reynolds to Reeder, Morley and Ogden. Whitman, completely outclassed, made only one scoring threat late in the third quarter.

Anderson, held the Grovers for downs on the 14 after Lusk had been smeared for a loss on a pass attempt by Anderson.

Late in the fourth period, Junction City started a 49-yard drive but the final whistle stopped the Tigers on the Lion three-yard line. Johnson took the match by virtue of taking the only fall during the time limit. A fast flying toe held tumbled the trick for the ex-loggger and Small patted the mat in token of surrender as Johnson used all of his "beef" in applying pressure to Small's leg. The time on the fall for Johnson was 22 minutes.

The match ended with Johnson securing another toe hold on the Polish villain but the bell saved him from the humiliation of losing by straight falls.

The entire card was duly officiated by Eugene's own ex-butcher, ex-boiler maker, ex-truck driver, ex-tavern operator, ex-etc., wrestling referee, Elton Owen.
