British Near Tobruk; Moscow Battles Fierce

that the Red armies had beaten off a violent new offensive launched by the Germans Tuesday night.

"Fighting is especially tense in the northern sector of the front, where the enemy flung in large forces of tanks and infantry and tried to break through to the town of "K," the radio said.

This presumably referred to the key town of Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of Moscow.

"One of our units supported by tanks counter-attacked near "K," occupied two villages, ambushed the headquarters of a large enemy unit, wiped out 100 soldiers, and destroyed many tanks, trucks, motorcycles and guns," the Soviet account continued.

Nazi Losses Said Huge

German losses in men and machines were described as "tremendous sacrifices," with the nazis hurling tens of thousands of troops into the flaming battle lines in an attempt to break through Russian defenses.

In the Volokolamsk sector alone, 65 miles northwest of Moscow, the Germans were said to have sent eight divisions—about 120,000 men—into action, but the Russians declared that Red army troops "launched a violent counter-attack which the Germans could not withstand and they retired westward, evacuating many villages."

In the Mozhaisk sector, 57 miles west of Moscow, the Russians admitted that the invaders, striking simultaneously in several places, had driven a wedge into Soviet lines.

"Fierce fighting is now in progress here (Mozhaisk). Several villages change hands continuously," the radio said.

Tula Area Hit

Russian front-line dispatches said that the Germans were also striking with savage fury in the Tula sector, 100 miles south of Moscow, and that bloody losses "failed to dampen the enemy's ardor and he continues to strive forward."

A bulletin from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters gave no hint that this was a new all-out smash to take Moscow—as seemed apparent from Soviet reports—merely noting that "further progress" had been made by Axis armies on the central front and in the Donets river basin in the Ukraine.

On the North African front, the nazi high command declared that Axis counter-attacks against the British offensive were "progressing" and that German bombers "routed concentrations of British tanks and lorries" on the Egyptian-Libyan frontier.

Details of the conflict were meager, but the British announced officially that they had already shot one mechanized column 80 miles into Axis territory to capture Rezegh, only 10 miles from Tobruk's outer fortification, and it was reported that Gen. Rommel's German corps was in immediate danger of encirclement.

Tobruk has been under siege since April 11.

Notre Dame, Duke, Gophers End Slates

By JACK GUENTHER
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(U.P.)—Three of the four top bidders for the mythical national championships—Minnesota, Duke and Notre Dame—wash up their regular schedules Saturday in the final big day of the 1941 football campaign and all three of them will be heavily favored to come out of their last game with undefeated records intact.

The Golden Gophers face the high-scoring Badgers of Wisconsin in a contest which can give them their second straight Western conference crown and stretch their victory string to 17 consecutive triumphs. Duke meets North Carolina State in a game expected to settle matters in the Southern conference and produce the Blue Devils as a top bowl eligible.

While they aren't running for any sectional title, the Irish of Notre Dame will oppose Southern California in a bid for their first undefeated season since 1930—the year the late Knute Rockne came up with his last and probably greatest eleven. Although the Irish are suffering from many injuries, the Trojans have been beaten four times.

They are the most important events on the national card but at several other points of the country fans will turn out for contests equally engrossing. The Tigers of Missouri will attempt to wrap up the Big Six title by conquering weak Kansas and in the Far West Washington will try to keep its Rose Bowl hopes alive against Oregon.

Al Hostak, Overlin Fight Friday Night

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Ken Overlin of Washington, D. C., and Al Hostak of Seattle, a pair of former middleweight champs, square off tonight at Madison Square Garden to go 10 rounds or less in a light heavyweight scrap.

Since the two fighters no longer are able to get down to the middleweight poundage, both are eyeing the light-heavyweight crown worn by Gus Lesnevich.

Hostak, formerly regarded as king of the 160-pounders by the N.B.A., will be making his first eastern appearance. His record lists 114 fights, most of which he won by knockouts.
