the set of Paramount's "BAHAMA PASSAGE"

MARY: Is it true that opposites attract?
STIRLING: Sure! Take me for instance—I'm blond and I like brunettes and black coffee, like this.

MARY: It's delicious this way, too!
Seems to me it hardly matters what kind of coffee you like—STIRLING:—you can't make a bad cup of M.J.B.! Right!

GOOD ANY WAY YOU MAKE IT

IF AMERICAN GIRLS ever get into a uniform, sweaters will be part of it. They're practically a national costume already. These two exemplify the two big trends in sweater style. The diagonally knitted blouse type, right, has a slide fastener closing. The classic twin sweater set, left, has a two-tone ribbon trim. Both are soft, knitted of good light wool, and they're not too harsh on a moderate budget either.

Roush-Adams Wedding Reported
