

Jack Lipscomb and Milt Olsen to Meet for Coast Title Here Tonight

Achiu and Kiser Meet In Prelim

Wrestling Belt Staked For Second Time

Matchmaker Don Owen has arranged an unusually attractive supporting program that boasts four of the top-ranking matmen in the northwest. Walter Tinkit Achiu, the Chinese jiu-jitsu expert, is slated to meet Jack Kiser, the popular young St. Johns performer, in the semi-final match. Billy McEuin, the tough Texan, will tangle with Tex Hager, well-thought-of Creswell matman, in the curtain-raiser.

The Lipscomb-Olsen match is the attraction—the skirmish that is expected to have nearly every seat in the arena filled. Olsen is confident of victory even though he cannot restore his lost teeth. He pointed out that Lipscomb's victory in the finals of the 12-man elimination tournament was through his (Olsen's) mistake and not through Lipscomb's mat prowess. Milt explained that he had figured the leverage incorrectly in applying the Australian pile-driver that backfired and eventually won for Lipscomb. "He'll not get another break like that. I'll promise," the popular mid-westerner said.

Lipscomb Certain of Victory
Lipscomb, although he made no pre-match statement, must be of certain of victory or he would not risk his championship for the second straight week. He barely defeated Hager in a title tilt last

Ducks Prepare For Oregon State Tilt

With the final game of the home season having vital significance in the northern division baseball race, Oregon's league-leading nine raced through a stiff practice session here Wednesday.

If the Ducks win Saturday's important game against O. S. C. at Howe field, with game time set for 3 p. m., and then beat Oregon Monday at Corvallis, they will clinch at least a tie for the conference crown.

If the Ducks lose, however, the conference race may end in a variety of ways, with the Beavers still retaining a mathematical chance of tying for the crown, depending on the performance of the Washington Huskies against Idaho and Washington State in the final four games of the season.

Both the Beavers and Ducks will therefore send their top line-ups into the fray, with Nick Begleries of Oregon probably hurling against Glen Elliott of O.S.C.

Nova, Savold Scrap Tonight For Navy

WASHINGTON, May 21—(AP)—Lou Nova, the reformed Yogi, risks his fistic future against Lee Savold of Des Moines tonight in a 10-round battle expected to enrich the navy relief fund by about $20,000.

Today, the odds were 2 to 1. Nova, launching a comeback—won't be sorry he took the risk.

Savold also will have much at stake in a fight which promises to bring the winner within reach of a September crack at Joe Louis's heavyweight title. Next to Louis himself, Savold has been just about the hottest article in the heavyweight ranks the past year or so. In that span he has racked up 17 victories.

Albany, Salem Win

ALBANY, May 21.—Albany and Salem baseball teams won opening games in the No-Name league tournament here Wednesday. Albany defeating Corvallis, 7 to 2, and Salem noosing out Milwaukie, 5 to 3.

Two Heavies Set For New York Fight

NEW YORK, May 21.—(AP)—Tami Mauerello, New York heavyweight, who meets Bob Pastor in Madison Square garden tomorrow night, may come in weighing less than in any of his recent bouts. He scaled only 181 when he ended sparring Tuesday. In recent matches he was weighed at 185 or 186.

Paster finished his training yesterday with limbering-up exercises and plans to do nothing more today except some running.

Iron Man Performance

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 21.—(AP)—Add to "iron man" pitching, Abe Stein, Birmingham softball pitcher, hurled his team to a 7-6 win the other morning, went home for lunch, then pitched and won both ends of a double-header against another team in the afternoon, 6-1 and 4-2.
