HOUSE OF ANSWERS—Thousands of questions about government activities pour into Washington, D. C., daily, so a U. S. public information center was organized and this building built to house it. Lowell Mellett, director of the Office of Government Reports, heads the staff. Commerce department building is at left.

'OLD GLORY' ON THE MARCH IN AUSTRALIA—The Stars and Stripes stream in the wind as a column of American troops marches over rolling country in far away Australia. More U. S. soldiers march with 'Old Glory' there as United Nations forces prepare to repulse Jap onslaught or to launch an offensive.

MILK-FED—Behind the forest of milk bottles is Sergt. Arthur Zurzolo of Camp Pendleton, Va. Because of stomach trouble, Zurzolo has been placed on a milk diet. He downs thirty-two half-pint bottles daily. His home is Chester Heights, Pa.

Candidates Must File Expense Accounts

Captain F. R. Brookshink, republican nominee for county commissioner, has filed his election campaign expense account at the office of County Clerk Dillard as well as with the secretary of state. All he spent, he says in his statement, was the $20 filing fee.

Lloyd Howe, election deputy in the clerk's office is calling attention to the state law which requires all candidates to file their election expense accounts within 15 days after election.

Practice Friday For Scout Circus
 Last minute details are now being completed by scout troops and cub packs for the 1942 scout circus to be held Saturday night at McArthur court, Captain Harvey Blythe, circus chairman, announces.

Friday night will be the big rehearsal for the show and cubs and scouts will run through their acts at the court starting at 7:00 o'clock. The acts to be rehearsed are the camping act, cub act, chariot race, and pioneering.

The wall scaling and the emergency service race will be practiced at troop 54's cabin at 16th and Jefferson on the same night.

The Eugene high school band under the leadership of Douglas Orme will play for the grand entry parade on Saturday and will give other numbers throughout the show.

Tickets are now being sold throughout the city by scouts and cubs and people are asked to buy them and attend the show.

Eugene Woman Will Paint Northwest Defense Scenes For Fortune
 Mrs. Jack Wilkinson, whose husband is instructor of drawing and painting at the University of Oregon, has been commissioned by Fortune magazine to paint a series of scenes depicting defense activities in the northwest. It was learned here Wednesday.

Mrs. Wilkinson's assignment will include pictures of the shipbuilding industry and ship launchings in Portland, the Japanese detention center at the livestock exposition grounds, and the work of the forest service.
