Here's How I Licked Wartime Constipation!

It was easy after I was told it's often due to lack of "bulk"

"Seems like I was always 'doing' up on account of constipation. That sort of stuff gets a fellow down. Then a friend pointed out that these war days were upsetting our whole way of living. Particularly in how we eat. Said I ought to take care of my meals were properly balanced—and make sure I got plenty of 'bulk.' Because lack of 'bulk' is one of the common causes of wartime constipation. Those medicinal laxatives gave me only temporary relief; they didn't get at the cause. "Bulk, Kello's ALL-BEAN really fixed me up. It corrects this kind of constipation by supplying 'bulk.' And it tastes swell, too. Just eat it regularly and drink plenty of water. ALL-BEAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek."

Eugene's Grade A Milk Supply Holds Up Despite Woes

Eugene remains one of three cities in Oregon meeting federal requirements for Grade A milk, says a federal survey made in November, and quoted by Dr. L. G. Heltzerline, city meat and milk inspector, in his semi-annual report.

"Due to lack of sufficient labor and price of milk, six shippers and two distributors have sold their herds and quit business, and one distributor has quit delivering in Eugene," Dr. Heltzerline reports. "Five new producers have come on the market. It always requires several months to get new shippers lined up to meet our city standards."

"At present there are 49 shippers and 13 producer-distributors supplying Eugene with milk. These producers have been unable to keep up the required supply and it has been necessary to ship in milk from Marshfield. However, we should have sufficient supply in another month."

The inspector lists the following reclassification of dairies and creameries supplying milk to Eugene:

Grade A raw: Bonnieview, Chula Vista, Cloverleaf, Danish, Echo Hollow, Egge, Glenhaven, Jeffries, Liles, Pengra, Wicks, Whitbeck. Grade A pasteurized: Chula Vista, Cloverleaf, Echo Hollow, Egge, Glenhaven, Pengra, Whitbeck.

Clemens Bros. and Home Service Supply are both jobbers for Grade A raw milk and Grade A pasteurized milk.

Eugene Farmers creamery distributes Grade A pasteurized milk and Grade A raw milk produced by Lancy dairy.

Medo-Land creamery distributes Grade A pasteurized milk and Grade A raw milk produced by Prall dairy.

Reid's creamery distributes Grade A pasteurized milk and Grade A raw milk produced by Danish dairy.

Springfield creamery distributes Grade A pasteurized milk. Medo-Land creamery and Springfield creamery are the only two plants that homogenize milk and it is distributed as pasteurized-homogenized milk.

The nose-thumbing incident was described graphically by the grey-headed defendant, who thumbed his own at the jury to show them just how it happened. He spoke in a low voice, explained to Judge Skipworth that his throat was sore. He was released from the hospital several days before the trial began after his illness had necessitated one postponement.

District Attorney William Bartle brought several witnesses to the stand during the morning who testified about Turner's statements after the shooting.

C. S. Carlson, deputy sheriff from Florence, quoted the defendant as saying after the shooting he felt "the happiest I have in 17 years." Mrs. Carlson, at whose home Turner had lunch after being arrested, told of expressing a hope that Fisk would recover, while Turner replied: "I'd only have to do it over again if he did."

Dr. C. D. Brown, Lake Washink, who came to the scene with State Police Officer George Albright, quoted the defendant as saying, "I never shoot at anything unless I mean to kill it." The officer reported taking the pistol from Turner, as well as three unfired shells.

Clinton Carlson, son of Deputy Sheriff Carlson and a resident of the Maple creek sections next to Fisk's place, testified Tuesday afternoon. He told how Turner came to him directly after the shooting acting "awful peculiar" and with his "eyes kinda glassy."

He quoted Turner as saying: "Grant Fisk will never make another face at me."

Carlson, a dairy farmer, was called early to enable him to re-

Womenfolk of the town, scornful of their less courageous husbands, determine to give the duke a flowery welcome. While the burghmaster plays dead and the men hide, wives of the leading citizens meet the soldiers with the key to the town and treat them to generous banquets.
