Religious Drama Set For Sunday

Juanita Johnson To Have Main Part In Last Presentation

One of the main parts in the prophetic drama, "The Missing Christians," by Manford Evans, will be played by Miss Juanita Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Johnson. The drama will be presented Sunday evening at 7:30 at the Central Presbyterian church as a farewell feature of the Watson Players' two weeks of special services here.

This is the group's largest production and depicts the rapture of the church at Christ's appearing in his second coming. The drama is under the direction of Rev. Ray Watson.

Players, in the order they appear on the stage, are Mrs. J. F. White, Joyce Watson, Doris Doran, Vivian Watson, Juanita Johnson, Ray Watson, Eileen Gardner, Mrs. Roy Nelson, Mr. W. J. Nee, radio announcer. Approximately 25 others participate in tableau and singing parts.

This drama was presented for 19 nights in one city and is reported to be one of the finest productions on the religious stage today, according to Mr. Watson.

Sunday will be farewell day for the Watson party. At 3 p. m. Evangelist Watson will preach on the subject, "Why Didn't God Destroy the Devil in the Beginning and Why Doesn't God Stop This War?"

Dr. Norman Tully will preach at the 11 a. m. service. He urges all who can to hear the Watsons in their last services Sunday.

EDITORIAL

THE MAN FOR TODAY

By Adjutant Carl Dueill, Commanding Officer, The Salvation Army

"Thou shalt call His name Jesus: for He shall save His people from their sins." Matthew 1:21.

In describing "The Man For Today" I can do no better than to quote from my friend, Adjutant Harry Larsen's recent writings.

In the terrible world conflict now raging, tremendous demands are being made upon the courage and stamina of the nations. Men and women must now be ready to give their best in order to maintain a way of life, even to the point of sacrificing their lives.

In such an hour, when so much is demanded of human flesh, our souls seem to cry out with the Psalmist of old, "I had fainted, unless I had believed."

This war-torn day has many needs. The need is for men to man our ships, men to fly our planes, men to push our mechanized warfare, men to carry on the massive program of defense. But there is also another need, equally urgent, the enough to hoist the colors of Christianity so that they may be done on earth as it is in Heaven—men who will be brave enough to hoist the colors of Christianity so that they may wave high above all the spreading darkness.

And yet, is not our greatest need to discover someone who will lead us out of despair and gloom; a man who will deliver us from the power of darkness; one who is capable of leading on to victory; a man who can save the beauty, purity and splendor of life; one who can give hope when faith is almost gone; one who can preserve all that our Father in Heaven created, to bring happiness and joy to the human soul.

Such a man is Jesus Christ, Son of the Living God. Those who are prepared to follow Him and His leadership will be enabled to fight the hydra-headed monsters of evil of every kind and through His saving power deliver the souls of men from the slavery of sin, leading them to life eternal.

There is no place in our present world for faint-hearted, spineless creatures.

And there never has been a place in the ranks of God's army for surrendering, weak-kneed, half-hearted soldiers, while the devil seeks to crush humanity and, with his imps from Hell, marches on to enslave the human race.

Thank God for faith and belief—faith that changes fainting souls into warriors brave and true. Yes, the devil may have turned this world upside down, but under the banner of the Man for Today there is salvation for all. There is courage and strength to be found in the supply of grace He waits to bestow. There is the final day of victory when every knee shall bow and Jesus Christ shall reign forever.

Living up to our obligations in the world of today will take its toll in suffering, loss, misery and heartache. There will be hours when our very faith is tried to its last ounce, moments when our hearts will almost fail us, times when some whose spirits, crushed by grief and pain, will cry out, "To whom shall we go? Who has power to heal our wounded, broken spirits?"

To these dear ones, in their hour of greatest trial and need, I again present, THE MAN FOR TODAY, for He alone has the words of eternal life.

"He was wounded for our transgressions. He was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon Him; and with His stripes we are healed."—Isa. 53:5.

Take another look at Him, on the Cross of Calvary. That Cross is associated with suffering, sorrow, sacrifice, darkness, mystery, loneliness, and death. But, remember, too, since that hour when the world seemed to be engulfed in the greatest darkness of history, the power of that sacrifice has been springing up in light, love, blessing, salvation, consolation, inspiration; reaching all peoples and all needs, breaking the power of sin, bursting the fetters of habits, quelling the tempter's cruellest power; freeing, delivering, and overcoming in its invincible force, saving earth, filling Heaven, robbing Hell.

With faith in Him our forefathers raised the flag of liberty and freedom. With faith in Him today we shall keep the flag flying, and looking unto Him, new hope will be born in our souls. This day we can win the greatest spiritual victory our lives have ever known.

"I Would Be True." A nursery is maintained in the beginner's room for small children whose parents desire to have them cared for while they attend the church service. College student supper and meeting, Plymouth House, 5:30, speaker, Dr. Wirt. All college students invited by Carl and Betty Kossack to attend this fellowship meeting.
