REALTORIAL

Thousands of investors have surplus funds which should be invested now for inflation protection. Things—property—are gradually becoming more and more desirable than money. Inflation may be retarded. It will not be stopped. Hoard your money and watch it cheapen. Invest it in real estate and watch it increase in value as the dollar declines in purchase power. The upswing is inevitable. If you regret you didn't buy in '41 you will doubtless later regret you didn't buy in '43. Don't let fear distort your judgment. Face it and act now. There are some excellent opportunities in the market.
