

Requiem Mass for Lt. Robbins Tuesday

A military requiem mass for First Lieutenant Galen P. Robbins, killed in an airplane crash in Florida, will be held in St. Mary's Catholic church here Tuesday, 9 a.m. Rev. Francis P. Leipzig, pastor of the local church, will give the sermon, and assisting at the service will be Rev. D. P. Curley, Rev. Louis Sohl, and Rev. Clifford Carroll.

Lieutenant Robbins was born in Portland, Ore., March 16, 1917, and came with his family to Eugene at the age of five. He attended the schools here University high school, and the University of Oregon for three years, receiving his appointment to West Point his junior year on the campus here. He was graduated from West Point May 29 as a second lieutenant and went into the army air forces, receiving his wings last December. He recently had been promoted to first lieutenant. Lieutenant Robbins was killed Thursday while flying on a special detail.

He is survived by his wife, the former Mary Kelly of South Boston, to whom he was married in February of this year; his mother, Mrs. W. F. Sears of Eugene; his father, Lieutenant Colonel Carl W. Robbins, former Eugene physician, and now with the U.S. forces overseas; an older brother, First Lieutenant Carl W. Robbins, Jr., U. S. army air forces; and a sister Miss Betty Grace Robbins of Eugene. Lieutenant Robbins joined the Catholic church while a student at West Point. He was a member of Phi Kappa Alpha fraternity at the University of Oregon.

Junior Marines Will Collect Paper

Junior Marines, with arm bands identifying them, will be calling at Eugene homes this week to collect old papers and magazines. The Lane county defense council has received word to ship out a carload at this time, and the Junior Marines were called on to do as much as possible in immunizing service and in the local war effort as well as stressing good citizenship.

City Youth Council Discusses Problems

Eugene's Youth Council met recently at the Frances Willard school to consider ways in which the youth of this area can best be served. President Winfield Atkinson exhibited a motion picture on victory gardens, now being used in the Eugene public schools. There was talk of incorporating the victory garden program into the summer activities of already existing boys and girls clubs. George B. Nelson was appointed chairman of the project, to be aided by Mrs. Robert Leeper and E. A. Daniels.

Supervision of younger children whose parents are working was brought up and the possibility of the Citizens Service Corps block leadership system was suggested, as an answer to the problem. Juvenile delinquency problems were again brought to the attention of the council and President Atkinson emphasized the need for cooperative planning by both private and public agencies. A detention home for boys, with a competent husband and wife in charge, might be started if some initial financial support from the Community Chest could be obtained. The council was reminded of the nationally observed Boys and Girls week, scheduled for the last week of April.

How gasoline rationing affects your car

War-time driving conditions, for which your car may not have been originally designed and adjusted, necessitate special care. Here are tips from Pontiac engineers to help you guard against trouble and excessive wear.

Engine knock or "ping", frequently caused by lower octane, war-time gasoline, can be corrected through motor tune-up, timing adjustment or in serious cases—removal of cylinder head to clean out carbon.

Batteries discharge in idle cars. Pontiac engineers advise, especially for A-Car drivers, limited use of electrical accessories, battery check-up every two weeks, periodic check of generator, starter, voltage regulator.

Committees to be Named for Meeting

Work was begun this week by the committee on associate memberships of the Northwest Music Educators conference, to be held in Eugene April 9-12. Mrs. Lillian V. Eldridge, committee chairman, announced Saturday. Committee heads from every civic organization will be announced next week, Mrs. Eldridge said. With the cooperation of the Eugene chamber of commerce and all community organizations the committee is promoting the sale of associate memberships in the Northwest Music Educators' conference. Memberships are being sold by civic clubs, the chamber of commerce, and the committee on associate memberships. Associate memberships, priced at $1, give admittance to seven general sessions of the conference, including addresses by nationally known speakers, discussions, clinics, panels, and workshops, and four evening festival concerts. The evening concerts are Eugene night, the all-Northwest college concert, a Eugene all-city choir with a 100-piece Northwest symphony orchestra, and a community sing and all-Northwest symphony orchestra, and a community sing and all-Northwest symphony band.

Montie Lesley

Montie Lesley, 62, died at his home, 208 W. 19th on Friday. He was born Jan. 13 1881, in Salem, and had been a resident of Eugene since 1912. He married Emma Morice in Salem Oct. 10 1906. He is survived by his widow; two sons, Captain Cletus Lesley of Camp Lewis, and George Lesley of Portland; a sister, Mrs. Myrtle DePeatland; a brother, Elliott Lesley of Seattle; a brother, Elliott Lesley and a half brother Albert Stewart, both of Salem. He was a member of the Elks lodge of Eugene. Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. from the Branstetter-Simon chapel. The Elks will have charge of the graveside service at the Rest Haven Memorial park.

Meetings on New Livestock Regulations Are Scheduled

Five meetings to acquaint farmers, slaughterers, dealers, agents, and others with the purposes and provisions of the orders of Claude R. Wickard, secretary of agriculture, in regard to the need for permits in connection with the handling of livestock and meat will be held in Lane county this week by the Lane county USDA war board, Geo. W. Platt, chairman of the board, announced Saturday.

Effective April 1, the orders of the secretary of agriculture require local slaughterers, butchers and farm slaughterers to obtain permits before doing any slaughtering of livestock where meat is to be sold. People who purchase and sell livestock, operators of auction markets, auctioneers, and other agents also must have permits. These permits will be issued by the county USDA war board on application. The purpose in requiring permits is to keep livestock and meats flowing through legitimate channels.

Wednesday, March 24—4-H club building on county fairgrounds in Eugene. Meeting for commercial dealers and slaughterers, auctioneers, operators of auction markets, and commissionmen. (Farmers will be welcome at this meeting if they are not likely to be able to attend some other meeting.)

Thursday, March 25—Community meetings for farmers at Junction City grange hall and Florence city hall.

Friday, March 26—Community meetings for farmers at Jefferson school building in Cottage Grove and in the 4-H club building on the county fairgrounds in Eugene. Commercial dealers and slaughterers, auctioneers, operators of auction markets, and commissionmen who cannot attend the meeting in Eugene Wednesday evening may attend any of the other meetings and obtain information in regard to the whole permit program. Mr. Platt urges everyone affected by the orders of the secretary of agriculture to attend one of these meetings where the program will be explained and where application blanks will be handed to people desiring to obtain permits.

Three Fall Chemistry Classes Given at UO

For the first time in nearly 15 years, three fall-term chemistry courses are being offered again spring terms this year at the University of Oregon. Dr. A. H. Hunz, head of the chemistry department, said Thursday. The first-term subjects are freshman chemistry, second-year chemistry, and organic or advanced chemistry.

Purpose of repeating the courses is to facilitate speeding up of scientific training for pre-medical students, most of whom will continue their schooling through the summer. Students that took beginning chemistry last summer had completed a year's work in the field by the end of winter term, and those who take the course this spring, accelerating their education by attending summer school, will have completed a year's work in chemistry by the end of fall term, 1943.

Dr. Kunz expects many spring high school graduates to enroll in freshman chemistry this summer, thus obtaining valuable scientific training before they enter the service. He believes many science-minded students will lean heavily toward premedical work because of the shortage of doctors and the opportunities to enter a specialized army program.

Lane County Hi-Y Meet To Be Held Tuesday

War-time shortages and transportation restrictions have made necessary the new, one-evening Lane county Hi-Y conference, to be held Tuesday from 5 until 9 p.m. at St. Mary's Episcopal church, Eugene.

Chester Stevenson of University high school, county Hi-Y president, will be assisted in his duties by Lee Krause, Cottage Grove high school, vice-president of the county organization.

Program features will include a pre-supper conference for Hi-Y club officers, to be led by Everett W. Harding, Portland, member of the area YMCA staff. A potluck supper at 6:15 p.m. will be followed by entertainment, with James Working of Eugene high school in charge.

A talk on Hi-Y directives for 1943 will be given by Everett Harding after the entertainment period. Motion pictures of the University of Oregon basketball team will be shown and election of county Hi-Y officers for the coming year will be held.

Classes in Selling Shoes Are Scheduled

Those interested in selling shoes will have an opportunity to take a class on the subject, sponsored by the Eugene vocational school in cooperation with shoe merchants of the city. The first class will be held Tuesday night at 7 at EVS.

Arthur Yates will be instructor. The classes have been arranged primarily for unemployed women who wish to become shoe salespeople. The course will embrace fundamentals of selling techniques, construction of shoes, and shoe selling under the rationing program.

4-H Marketing Tour To Be Held April 3

Plans for the annual 4-H club marketing tour, an event long looked forward to by the club members of Lane county, are practically completed, E. A. Danielson, county club leader, said Saturday. The tour this year is dated for Saturday, April 3.

This tour is participated in each spring by several hundred boys and girls of the county who have completed their marketing projects and written their marketing essays. The essay contest closed Saturday and the papers will be judged in a few days. Prize-winners are usually announced on the day of the tour.

The program of the tour will be carried out this year about the same as in the past except that the boys and girls will have to bring their own lunch on account of the rationing point system. Heretofore there has always been a big "feed" at noon, held in the cafeteria at the cannery of the Eugene Fruit Growers' association. Further announcements in regard to the lunch will be made later.

The tour usually begins with a show at one of the theaters. The boys and girls are then divided into groups and they visit industrial plants, public buildings and other places of interest throughout the day.

New CD Classes Will Begin Monday Eve

Organization of new civilian defense classes, to meet the needs of men wishing to become air raid wardens but who have not been able to do so because of pressure of winter work, has been announced by L. K. Shumaker, commander of District 10, Lane County Defense council.

The first meeting will be Monday night at 7:30 in Friendly hall on the campus, and enrollment of all interested may be made at that time. The course will be conducted under the official training specifications of the office of civilian defense, Washington, D. C. All graduates will be entitled to the detailed privileges of such voluntary workers, and will receive benefits in case of injury or death in pursuit of duty.

Meeting night of the weekly class, arranged on request of Eugene water board employees who wish to attend, may be changed as the course progresses, Commander Shumaker said.

The new series of instruction classes for auxiliary police, originally scheduled to begin last week, will start Tuesday night at 7:30 in the council chamber of the city hall. This series has no connection with Mr. Shumaker's classes for air raid wardens.

FIRES REPORTED

Fires reported by the city fire department were Friday afternoon at Eugene Planning Mill, 311 Lawrence, where fire in a fuel bin caused small damage; and early Saturday morning at residence of Robert D. Horn, 1825 Fairmount, where the blaze was caused by an overheated flue.

Mrs. Amy W. Stoffer

Mrs. Amy W. Stoffer, 69, 42 1/2 E. 16th, died Friday at a local hospital. Born July 15, 1873 at Hanover Kan., she married Abe M. Stoffer May 10, 1893 in Kansas. She was a member of the Christian church. Survivors include her husband, the following children, Harry E. of Portland; Dale H. of Vancouver, Wn.; Faye W. of Corvallis, Calif.; Warren E. of Corvallis; and Mrs. Mildred F. Southard of Vancouver, Wn.; two grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Cora Price and Mrs. Grace Frye, both of Kansas.

Funeral service will be held on Monday at 11 a.m. at the Branstetter-Simon chapel, Rev. Walter Ficus officiating, and interment in the Rest Haven Memorial park.

Nurse to Join Army

Miss Margaret B. Woodruff of Pomo, Calif., who has recently been Pacific area Red Cross consultant for the state of Oregon, has been released from the area staff and will enter the U.S. army nurse corps, according to word received Saturday by the Lane county chapter.

Miss Woodruff is well known in Eugene, having made frequent visits here as nursing consultant. She is a niece of Mrs. Charlotte Heiman, Red Cross nurse who was decorated for her outstanding work with mothers and children in Greece after World War I. She has a long record in nursing service.
