Francescatti To Play Tonight; Critics Acclaim Young Violinist

Extravagant praise from critics over the nation has been won by Zino Francescatti, French violinist, who will appear at McArthur court Thursday evening at 8:15 in the final greater artist concert of the season.

"To hear him play was to believe that he was born playing," says Edward W. Wodson of the Oregon Evening Telegram. "Love of music will count the hearing of Francescatti among their best musical experiences."

In Boston he won this plaudits from Edward Downes of the Transcript: "His glittering fingers electrified and delighted his audience."

A Chicago writer tells of an "unprecedented" happening at a Francescatti concert there: "... after Francescatti had played Lalo's Symphonie Espagnole, the public in its enthusiasm interrupted the course of a symphony program and broke the rule banning encores."

Ed Jensen To Handle New Line Of Tractors

Ed Jensen, one of Lane county's largest implement dealers, is expanding his business by adding the J. I. Case company line of tractors, implements and repairs. The new line will be sold in both Eugene and Harrisburg.

Although the manufacture of tractors and implements has been curtailed by the war, some new goods are now being received.

Mr. Jensen expects to receive several Case tractors and implements this week. An ample supply of repair parts is also being stocked in both stores.

J. C. Bantz, Case factory representative in this territory, states that ample repair parts for all Case machinery are available at the present time. He added that the volume of new machinery manufactured is being increased gradually, so that by fall it should help the farm situation materially.

Report Favors Pros; Frowns On College Grid

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(AP)—A tentative study of bedrock economy gives generous recognition of the importance of professional baseball, football and hockey to wartime morale. It was revealed today. But horse and dog racing, and college football are considered relatively unimportant to civilian morale by the report.

Report was compiled by the office of civilian supply of the war production board at the request of economic stabilization director James F. Byrnes.

INDIANS HELD BUILD PLANES

SAN DIEGO, Cal. (AP)—Eleven different tribes of American Indians now are represented on the assembly line of the Solar Aircraft Co. The working Indians are both male and female and come from the Mission, Klamath, Plute, Pueblo, Hoopa, Papago, Comcow and Blackfoot tribes. The majority are working as welders on combat plane parts.

HIS KINGDOM FOR A COUPE

MARTINEZ, Cal. (AP)—Fire Chief Fred Kaiser feels as badly as a king might feel if some petty thief stole his throne. In the case of the fire chief, someone stole his red chief's coupe. He attempted then to use his private car, only to find it had two flat tires. He then applied to the San Francisco and Oakland police departments to do their best to get his red car back.
