Lenten Thought

Escapes

And took his journey into a far country. Read Psalm 119:160-176. The psychologists have found, in an old word, a new name for the "far country." They call it "escape." Their "escape" is any flight, in deed or dream, from demanding situations, the quite unpleasant, from fears, restraints, whatever the escapee does not like. The waiting rooms of psychiatrists are full of people who have run into trouble trying to run away from something—just like the Prodigal Son.

There is, they fancy, some far country where they can do as they please, express themselves without having anything while to express and get away from it all. There is no escape down that road. The wise know that home and friends and duty and daily responsibilities are our strong supports. The cure for so many distresses of mind and spirit is to find out what one is really running away from, face it and live it through. The moralist knows that there are still Ten Commandments "East of Suez." Jesus says that any far country is away from love and goodness—so near and yet so far.

Prayer: Lord of Love and Home-land of our spirits, forgive us our fears, our unwillingness, and our wandering desires. Give us strength for our burdens, courage for whatever challenges us, faith in Thy sustaining love. Keep us at home in love and goodness. In the Master's Name, Amen.
