

Columbus Day Is Celebrated at Rotary

It is not discovered America, Christopher Columbus would have been a great man in history because of his science, his skill, his courage, and his courage, commander Francis P. Leprig, of St. Mary's Catholic church, in a Columbus day talk at the Rotary club Tuesday.

Columbus is one of the heroes of the ages. He was a great saint, not a great sinner, he was human like the rest of us, with some failings as have human beings, the speaker went on to point out that all the great men of time strive to see and evaluate for their outstanding contributions.

Other Leipzig spent some time in the obstacles Columbus faced in organizing his expedition and in sailing the uncharted seas. It was his strong will and his courage that helped through, he said.

Lesson to be learned from Columbus is to have confidence in the same God that carried the explorer to his achievement, to appreciate and strive to keep our religious freedom, to have our courage, and to have tolerance towards all denominations and all races, Father said.

Ice Car Loses Race With Horses

PORTLAND—(AP)—Portland's police are a little rusty on horse wrangling. After receiving a distress call from a Victory gardener protesting that seven horses were taking a nibble in his spinach, police rushed to the scene and herded the critters down the street in their 85-horsepower car. When all 85 horse powers died of battery failure and seven were running on hay—and spindled off eluding the police.

Treasury Department Sets Plans for New World Bank

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Plans for a post-war world bank with a capital of $10,000,000,000 to provide long-term reconstruction credit were announced tonight by the treasury department. In effect the bank would be a world-wide reconstruction finance corporation. It would make loans itself, it would participate with private capital in making loans, and it would guarantee the loans made by private capital. However, it would make loans out of its private resources only when the borrower was unable to obtain funds from private investment sources at reasonable rates. The plan was announced at a press conference by Dr. Harry D. White, director of the treasury division of monetary research. He said it was presented to some six congressional committees in executive session Tuesday. It has not yet been presented to any foreign nation but will be soon, he said.

The bank would not be a part of but would supplement the international post-war stabilization fund proposed by the treasury early this year and which has since been discussed with representatives of 30 nations.

White said that during recent stabilization fund conferences a number of the nations favored some organization to provide long-term credit for post-war reconstruction. He differentiated between reconstruction and rehabilitation, stating the proposed bank would provide credit for reconstruction only.

The capital of the bank would be subscribed by member countries, each of which would be called upon to put up 20 per cent of its quota immediately. As the bank needed additional funds it would make calls for the unpaid portion of the quotas, but not exceeding 20 per cent of the total in any one year.

As in the case of the post-war stabilization fund, the quotas would be paid partly in gold and partly in local currency of the participating nations.

White would not estimate the United States quota but said it would be substantial although far less than half of the total capitalization.

He said the purpose of the bank would be to encourage private financial agencies to provide long-term credit for sound development of the productive resources of member countries.

All member countries in which loans were made would be required to guarantee the loans to the bank.

"The decisions of the bank will be based exclusively on economic considerations," he said. "In passing upon any application to guarantee, participate in, or make a loan, the bank would give consideration to the soundness of the investment project or program, to the budgetary position of the member government guaranteeing the loan, and to the prospective balance of payments of the member country."

All loans would be based on the following general conditions: (A) Payment of interest and principal must be fully guaranteed by the national government of the member country; (B) The investment project or program must have been investigated and approved by a competent committee; (C) The terms of the loan must be reasonable, and (D) on guaranteed loans the bank must be compensated for the risk it assumes.

What the bank will be trying to do, White said, is prevent a repetition of what happened following the last war. Then private agencies made loans in a nation not knowing that another lender was doing the same, with the result that many localities and nations borrowed more than they could possibly repay.

The bank would be administered by a board of directors consisting of one director from each of the member nations. The board would appoint an executive committee and an advisory council

Car Licenses Soon Needed, Public Told

Early applications for 1944 Oregon motor vehicle registrations were urged today in a statement by Secretary of State Bob Farrell.

who declared that his office would be able to render better service to car owners if the applications start coming in early.

"Difficulty of obtaining experienced help to handle the 1944 motor vehicle registration business will result in a jam in the office if thousands of car owners wait till the last minute to apply for licenses," Farrell pointed out. As a means of reminding motorists of the need to apply for new registrations, letters will be sent all registered vehicle owners in this state this fall. Included in the letter will be a form that may be used to apply for the 1944 registration. Or the car owner may use the reverse side of his registration card as an application form.

Owners whose cars now are registered in Oregon will receive a windshield sticker which will validate the license plates now attached to their cars, Farrell said. No new plates will be issued except to owners who have not previously registered their cars in Oregon. These new residents will receive a set of 1942 license plates together with the windshield sticker.

All persons who have moved to Oregon and are engaged in gainful occupation here are required to obtain 1944 registrations for their cars.
